LIFT SANCTIONS TO AVERT WAR, PLEA OF BRITAIN

Shame, Cabinet Foes Shout in House.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

LONDON, June 18.—A British retreat from anti-Italian trade sanctions, imposed last fall by the league of nations in a vain attempt to stop the conquest of Ethiopia, was sounded in the house of commons tonight by Capt. Anthony Eden, foreign secretary.

The retreat, made to the accompaniment of taunts and cries of "Shame!" and "Treachery!" from the opposition Laborite benches, was explained by Eden and Stanley Baldwin, prime minister, as a strategic one designed to prevent the present critical European situation from developing into war.

Calls for German Peace Pact.

Baldwin, although making no definite proposals, called for a three way peace pact between Great Britain, Germany, and France as the surest road to peace now that collective security has failed.

"The part Germany can play for good or evil in Europe," the prime minister said, "is immense."

Eden was first to reveal the new British policy, decided on definitly at yesterday's cabinet meeting.

"The government," the handsome foreign secretary told the commons, "has come to the conclusion there is no longer any use in continuing these measures as a means of pressure upon Italy.

Must Admit Failure.

"If we cling to a course after the object has become unobtainable, we may lose the greater end for which we are working, the greater end being to keep the peace. If it means admitting failure, this is one instance it has got to be faced."

A great uproar greeted this announcement of a British climb down. As Dino Grandi, Italian ambassador, looked on from the gallery, Conservatives cheered, but Laborites shouted: "Shame! Sabotage! Resign!"

Eden, ill at ease, nervously fingered his closely trimmed mustache. He flushed, visibly angered, as the jeers continued.

Eden Retorts.

"The honorable members are making cheap gibes," he cried above the tumult.

At length the outburst subsided and he went on with his statement of the government's stand.

"One of the causes of the failure of sanctions," the foreign chief asserted, "was the miscalculation by military opinion in most countries that the conflict would last very much longer than in fact it has done.

"We have nothing to apologize for, nothing to retract. Sanctions can only be maintained for some clearly defined and specific purpose. The only such purpose conceivable is the restoration in Ethiopia of a position which has been destroyed. To maintain sanctions would only have this result—a crumbling of the sanctions front. I do not believe it is in the interests of the league itself that the sanctions front should crumble in confusion.

Will Abide by League Action.

"I must repeat the decision [to lift sanctions] which is to be taken is a league decision and his majesty's government will, of course, concur in whatever view the league assembly as a whole adopts.

[The governments of France, the Irish Free State, Canada, and Peru also indicated yesterday that they would support the lifting of sanctions from Italy. President de Valera of the Free State demanded in addition reformation of the league.]

"Can the world succeed in reorganizing itself on a peace basis? I am convinced, despite events of the last few months, it can if it will.

"It is because I believe profoundly the policy I have outlined this afternoon is in the present anxious, difficult and critical situation the one which is most likely to preserve peace that I submit it with deep conviction and a full sense of responsibility."

Aims for Collective Security.

Amid derisive Laborite heckling Eden declared that collective security still is the aim of the government, which is determined the league must continue. Consultations, he said, are going on already with the dominions regarding the reform of the Geneva institution.

Eden hardly had finished before

FEDERAL QUIZ INTO ARKANSAS FLOGGING BEGUN

Accuse Planters of Terrorism Drive.

Memphis, Tenn., June 18.—[Special.]—Samuel E. Whitaker, a special assistant attorney general, today received orders from Attorney General Homer Cummings to make a full investigation of reports that members of the Southern Tenant Farmers' union and their sympathizers have been flogged by organized groups of cotton planters in eastern Arkansas.

Whitaker already has spent two weeks looking into what has been termed "peonage" in the cotton fields, but his report—if he has completed one—has been withheld, and the attorney general said it would not be released until fuller information has been gathered.

Terrorism Is Charged.

There have been numerous charges that the planter element, alarmed by a "strike" of cotton workers, has started a campaign of terrorism to keep men wielding hoes at extremely low wages and to discourage the influx or even the presence of organizers from other states who are encouraging the laborers to fight for higher pay and better conditions.

At least three persons have asserted that they were beaten with whips for lending their aid to the workers. They are Miss Willie Sue Blagden, a former social worker in Memphis; the Rev. Claude C. Williams, who is a professional organizer for various causes, and Frank Rawlinson, formerly of Columbus, S. C., who describes himself as a student of social conditions.

Miss Blagden and Mr. Williams, according to their stories, were flogged by six men who appeared to be prosperous planters, when they went from Memphis to Crittenden county, Arkansas, to investigate the reported murder by beating of Frank Weems, a colored share-cropper allied with the tenant farmers' union.

Woman Struck Four Times.

According to the minister, he was struck fourteen times and Miss Blagden four times. Miss Blagden since has been examined by a physician, who found she was severely bruised.

Rawlinson declared today that he had been beaten severely with a strap. Another who reported being flogged is Roy Morelock, a share-cropper of Parkin, Ark. In each instance the victims asserted they were mistreated solely because they were working for the workers and against the planters.

One important voice raised in behalf of those who claim to have been beaten is that of Norman Thomas, Socialist candidate for President. He demanded that President Roosevelt intervene to aid the organized workers.

Writes to Roosevelt.

Today John D. Rust of Memphis, inventor of a mechanical cotton picker, let it be known that he, too, had written the President. In part his letter read:

"I have heard of men being beaten and killed in eastern Arkansas for activities in behalf of the Southern Tenant Farmers' union. Now that these outlaws have taken to beating women I can hold my peace no longer. What steps will you take, Mr. President, to stamp out such disgraceful violence?"

This is the picture, of course, as it is painted from one viewpoint. There is another: that drawn by the

Quiz Strangler of Girl on 2d Sex Murder

San Francisco, Cal., June 18.—[Special.]—Albert Walter, 28, of New York, who asserted he had dedicated his life to vengeance against all women, was linked to the two year old mystery slaying of another young woman tonight after he had confessed the "silk stocking" strangling of his most recent girl friend.

"I have done everything in my power to injure women, and I have ruined as many of them as I could," police said they were told by Walter, who left his wife of a year in New York a month ago.

Walter walked into police headquarters last night and confessed the murder of Miss Blanche Cousins, 24, of Idaho Falls, Idaho. He said he strangled her Tuesday night in her apartment because she resisted his love making.

Leads Police to Body.

Then he led officers to a small apartment in the fashionable Knob Hill area, where they found the young woman's body. She had been garroted with a silk stocking and raped.

Noting a similarity in the cases, officers questioned the New Yorker about the murder of Louise Jeppesen, 23, of Ogden, Utah, on May 13, 1934. She was raped and strangled with a belt from her coat in Golden Gate park, not far from her living quarters.

Both girls were red haired and both had traveled here from their homes by bus in search of work. Police said they would check marks on both bodies to determine if they indicated the victims were assaulted by the same assailant.

Turns Against Women.

Police Inspector George Engler said Walter told him that an incident in his relationship with women when he was 14 years old caused him to turn against their sex.

"This killing is no surprise to me," Walter was quoted as saying in reference to the slaying of Miss Cousins. "I tried to take my own life to prevent such a terrible climax. Now the state can do that. I want to hang."

Walter, who formerly operated a restaurant in New York, said he met Miss Cousins on a bus between Salt Lake City and San Francisco, officers related. The acquaintance was continued after they arrived here, and Tuesday night he had dinner at her apartment.

"We were seated on a couch after dinner," Walter was quoted as saying. "She resisted me, as she had done several times before. I became incensed. I started to choke her. From then on I don't remember exact details."

Police said the New Yorker told them that he "thought" he raped the young woman after she lapsed into unconsciousness when he strangled her.

Police who accompanied Walter to Miss Cousins' apartment found her body in bed. A silk stocking had been knotted around her throat and tied to the head of the bed.

The confessed slayer offered an alibi for the Jeppesen killing, but Inspector Engler said it had been proved false.

INJURES 18 WHEN HE DRIVES AUTO THROUGH CROWD

Cleveland, O., June 18.—(AP)—A speeding hit-skip driver ran through a group of about 35 steel workers late tonight, injuring 18, several seriously. The men, waiting to board a street car, were scattered 20 to 30 feet along the street. The workers were returning to their homes from the American Steel and Wire company, where they are employed.

Terry Druggan Asks U.S. Help with a Brewery

Terry Druggan, who had several brushes with the federal government when he was operating seven breweries for Al Capone in prohibition days, and who served 29 months in federal prison for income tax evasion, yesterday appealed to the United States courts for aid in reopening a brewery at 3324 Cermak road. He appeared before Federal Referee in Bankruptcy Archie Cohen, demanding protection from "a lot of racketeers who are trying to chisel the pants off me."

"They's a lot of guys trying to take everything away from me," Terry said, leaning confidentially toward Referee Cohen as he settled himself in the witness chair in the hearing room on the eighteenth floor of 7 South Dearborn street.

Claims Value Is $250,000.

"They say they've got claims of $131,000 against the brewery corporation and they say the place is worth only $140,000," he went on. "They're a bunch of two penny guys talking box car figures and trying to hold up the works on an outfit that's worth $250,000."

Druggan is a heavy stockholder in the brewery, which is owned by the Mutual Ice and Beverage corporation. He refused to say how much stock he owned, but admitted that he is the leader in the reorganization plan.

On Oct. 30, 1935, Federal Judge Charles E. Woodward held the corporation bankrupt, and designated a period of six months during which creditors' claims could be filed. Last May 19 Attorney John P. Sheehan, representing all the stockholders, filed a petition before Judge Woodward asking that the case be transferred from bankruptcy pleadings to the federal 77B statute.

Creditors Urge Sale.

Under this provision the company could be reorganized and the brewery reopened. This petition was referred to Referee Cohen for recommendations.

Half a dozen attorneys representing more than 50 creditors are opposing the reorganization plea. They demand that the property be sold and the proceeds prorated among the creditors.

"I've investigated most of these claims and 90 per cent of them are no good," Druggan told Referee Cohen. "There's not more than $25,000 worth of legitimate claims against this company and a $24,000 mortgage. "Can't you see they're trying to give it to me?"

Referee Cohen took the case under advisement.

Police Wife and Her Host Found Slain

Mrs. Mae Jensen, 44 years old, 4501 Washington boulevard, wife of a policeman, and Myer Nielsen, 33 years old, were found shot to death late last night in Nielsen's home at 1502 South Kedvale avenue. Nielsen was an unemployed painter and decorator.

From the position of the bodies investigators surmised that Nielsen had first shot and killed the woman and had then committed suicide. Mrs. Jensen, her hat on her head and gloves and her purse in her hands, had been shot in the left side of the back and had fallen in a hallway. A short distance away, on the floor of the bathroom of the flat, lay the body of Nielsen. A bullet had been fired into his head.

Pistol Near Host's Hand.

A pistol lay near the man's left hand. Nielsen's sister, Mrs. Lillian Klein, with whom he lived, was the discoverer of the bodies. She identified the pistol as that of her husband, Jack. She added that it was impossible for Nielsen to shoot with his left hand, as he was paralyzed several years ago, his whole left side being involved.

Looking into the bare possibility that both the man and woman might have been victims of murder, the police started search for Jack Klein. Mrs. Klein said that Klein, who is employed in a bookmaking establishment, had called her early in the evening and informed her he was going out of town.

Mrs. Klein said Nielsen was paroled recently from the penitentiary at St. Cloud, Minn. She did not know the charge on which he was sentenced, she said.

Happily Married, Jensen Says.

Policeman George Jensen of the Fillmore street station, husband of the slain woman, was questioned after he had arrived early this morning. He was off duty last night. He viewed both the bodies after they had been removed from the Nielsen home.

"I never saw the man before," he asserted. "My wife and I had been married for 19 years and our relationship had been happy. I had no idea that she was running around with any one and I don't know why she was in that flat."

Identification of Mrs. Jensen was established after Mrs. Klein recalled hearing her brother call the telephone number of the apartment hotel in which the Jensens resided and ask for "Mae." It was not unusual for Nielsen to receive visitors at home, Mrs. Klein added. She said she did not know any of his women friends.

Nielsen was divorced five years ago and his former wife and two children reside in Minnesota.

EIGHT CONVICTS BATTLE FEDERAL GUARDS ON TRAIN

Eight convicts, on their way from Toledo, O., to the Leavenworth, Kas., federal penitentiary, rioted last evening in a special Pullman car attached to a Chicago bound New York Central train and were subdued by guards and members of the train crew only after a battle that lasted a half hour. Seven of the eight were sentenced as narcotic law violators.

The interior of the car was wrecked in the struggle and the windows were shattered. On arrival in Chicago the prisoners were transferred to another coach for continuance of their journey on the Santa Fe railroad. Several Chicago police squads were sent to the La Salle street station to aid in moving the convicts.

J. T. Sell, United States marshal from Toledo, who had four guards under his command, told how the battle developed.

"Just as we passed Elkhart, Ind.," he said, "the prisoners asked that their bonds be removed, so they could play cards. I allowed the handcuffs to come off, but left the leg irons on. Shortly afterward the men began to shout for dope. Then they seized the card tables and hurled them at us."

Both guards and convicts were bruised and cut in the fight.

King Christian Welcomed to Iceland for a Visit

REYKJAVIK, Iceland, June 18.—(AP)—For the first time in six years this volcanic island in the North Atlantic played host tonight to its king, Christian of Denmark.

The Danish royal yacht Dannebrog steamed into the harbor this afternoon with the royal flag of Iceland at the masthead and with King Christian, only monarch in the world of two separate kingdoms, on the bridge.

His majesty addressed a large crowd in Icelandic. He was received by government officials and almost every inhabitant of Reykjavik.

VOTE IS PLANNED TODAY IN DRIVE TO END SESSION

Congress Agrees on Revenue Bill.

Washington, D. C., June 18.—[Special.]—As congress rushed madly toward adjournment on Saturday night the house late tonight concluded debate on the controversial Walsh-Healy bill already passed by the senate setting up an NRA dictatorship under the secretary of labor, as house and senate conferees agreed on a "compromise" tax bill carrying graduated rates reaching a maximum of 27 per cent on undistributed corporation earnings.

A vote on the new NRA bill will be taken tomorrow. In the face of almost solid Republican opposition and adverse sentiment of conservative Democrats, the house leaders predicted the bill would pass. The dope from the smoke filled cloakroom was that the New Dealers were putting on plenty of pressure for the scheme to resurrect President Roosevelt's defunct Blue Eagle in new feathers.

Provides Blacklist.

The bill in its amended form tonight provides that any corporation doing business with the government by contract shall put into effect wages dictated by the secretary of labor, forty hour week, minimum ages 16 years for men and 18 for women, or be placed on a "black list."

Once on this list a corporation could not bid on a government contract for three years.

Representative James Wadsworth [Rep., N. Y.] led the fight against the bill, charging in a dramatic speech that it was designed to regiment nine-tenths of the industry of the nation.

Protests Steam Roller Tactics.

"I am amazed that a measure of this kind is brought before the house to be disposed of in an hour's debate," Wadsworth asserted.

"It is literally impossible to more than scratch the surface.

"Why, the carpet on this floor, the brass tacks on the back of these seats, the ink of the stenographers who take down this debate, everything you can put your eye on in this room has been obtained through government contract.

"On an army post every pair of breeches, every cap, every saddle, every heating unit, is purchased on specifications through contract. The fitting out of a battleship takes practically everything that goes into a city.

"This is a measure to regiment the industries of the country."

Debate State Rights.

Representative Clarence E. Hancock [Rep., N. Y.] pointed out that, while the regulations affected private enterprise, they did not touch the government agencies in competition with private industry.

The Democrats, under the stentorian leadership of William P. Connery Jr. [Dem., Mass.] and Arthur D. Healy [Dem., Mass.], co-author of the measure, shouted back that the bill was designed to prevent the exploitation of "the workers" and the working of little children.

Wadsworth retorted that child labor was a matter for the various states to decide. He declared that 38 state legislatures at one time or another had rejected the proposed child labor amendment because their own laws were adequate.

"Instead of denouncing this progress by the states, for many of them have fine child labor laws, we should encourage them," asserted Wadsworth.

On Wadsworth's motion the minimum age limit in the bill of 18 years for both sexes was changed to 16 for men and 18 for women. But the drastic powers granted to the secretary of labor remained intact at the end of the night's battle.

Senators Capitulate.

The compromise tax bill, estimated to yield approximately 800 million dollars a year in revenue, represents a triumph of the Roosevelt-Tugwell reform philosophy and capitulation by the senate conferees.

Two of the Democratic senators who were opposed to the measure could have maintained the deadlock, but submitted in resignation and agreed to order a report just to get the bill out of the way.

Meanwhile the senate acted swiftly as administration leaders cracked the whip in their drive for adjournment by Saturday night. The last "must" measure on the legislative program was sent to the White House when the senate adopted the conference report on the 2 billion 400 million dollar deficiency bill, carrying 1 billion 425 million dollars for so-called work relief. The senate receded on its amendment authorizing the President to spend another $10,000,000 on the Florida ship canal, which the house had rejected.

Pass Interior Appropriation.

The senate adopted and sent to the White House the conference report on the $143,000,000 interior department appropriation bill and then adopted the conference report on the Robinson-Patman-Borah-Van Nuys anti-chain store bill, which prevents the making of quantity discounts to large scale purchasers of commodities. This measure now goes to the White House.

A measure which will enable special investigating committees, such as the inquisition group headed by Senator Hugo L. Black of Alabama, to institute contempt proceedings against witnesses during the recess of congress was slipped through the senate without discussion or objection just as it had been slipped through the house.

Provides for Court Action.

This bill provides that when a witness refuses to comply with the orders of the inquisitors, either to answer any question they deem pertinent or to produce any records they demand, the committee may report such fact to the Vice President or speaker of the house. In such case the Vice President or speaker would be required to certify the statement to the district attorney, "whose duty it shall be to bring the matter before the grand jury for action."

After the disposition of these matters the senate took up the new ship subsidy bill and gave unanimous consent to begin voting upon it tomorrow. It probably will be passed, but it is vastly different from the house measure and a conference may be demanded, which might preclude final action at this session.

The house meanwhile occupied itself with several immigration bills and adopted a rule for the consideration of the Walsh-Healy government contracts bill which the senate passed last year. This measure would require NRA standards on all work done for the government, including the production of supplies for the government.

Details of Tax Plan.

The compromise tax plan agreed upon by the conferees provides for reductions in the lower brackets of the normal corporation income tax and a graduated supertax on undistributed earnings, reaching a maximum of 27 per cent, as compared with the senate's 7 per cent flat rate and the house's maximum of 42½ per cent.

The normal corporation income tax rates are: 8 per cent on the first $2,000 of net income; 11 per cent on the next $13,000 of net income; 13 per cent on the next $25,000 of net income, and 15 per cent on all over $40,000 of net income.

The existing corporation income tax rates are graduated from 12½ to 15 per cent and the senate bill had proposed to increase the rate in each bracket 1 per cent.

The tax rates on undistributed earnings are: 7 per cent on the first 10 per cent retained; 12 per cent on the next 10 per cent retained; 17 per cent on the next 20 per cent retained; 22 per cent on the next 20 per cent retained, and 27 per cent on all over 60 per cent retained.

Kill Surtax Boost.

With respect to the first bracket, however, there is a provision to help small corporations which provides that the 7 per cent undistributed earnings tax shall apply either to the first 10 per cent of earnings retained or to $5,000, which is greater. This means that a corporation earning, for example, $40,000, would have $5,000 taxed at only 7 per cent, instead of having only the first 10 per cent, or $4,000, taxed at 7 per cent, and the remainder at higher rates.

The conferees eliminated the senate amendment increasing the individual income surtax rates 1 per cent in each bracket from $5,000 to $50,000. They retained the existing excess profits taxes, 6 per cent on all profits over 10 per cent and 12 per cent on all profits over 15 per cent, and retained the capital stock tax at $1 instead of $1.40 a thousand dollars of valuation. The house bill had repealed the excess profits tax and retained the capital stock tax, at 70 cents a thousand, for one year only.

The compromise bill reduces the exemption on intercorporate dividends from 90 per cent to 85 per cent, so that 15 per cent, instead of 10 per cent, of dividends received by a corporation will be subject to the regular rates. The bill provides that banks, insurance, and trust companies shall be taxed at a flat 15 per cent income tax rate, without paying the undistributed earnings tax. Corporations with outstanding bonds, debentures, or other obligations containing contracts not to pay dividends until the obligations are discharged, will not be subjected to the undistributed earnings tax. Neither will corporations in receivership or bankruptcy.

Carriers Must Pay Both Levies.

Railroads must pay both the normal and undistributed earnings tax, but they may file consolidated returns, as under existing law.

Foreign corporations having places of business in the United States will pay a flat 22 per cent and those not having places of business in this country will pay a flat 15 per cent on income received from domestic sources. Nonresident aliens will pay 10 per cent, to be withheld at the source, except for Canadians and Mexicans, who will pay 5 per cent.

The conferees added a provision estimated to yield $20,000,000 which strengthens existing law governing the taxation of irrevocable trusts which are revoked after death.

The conferees eliminated a senate provision strengthening section 102 of existing law, relating to "unreasonable" surplus accumulations, and requiring the filing of written statements explaining surplus retentions. They also reduced the rates of the existing penalty taxes from 35 per cent above $100,000 and 25 per cent below $100,000 retained to 25 per cent and 15 per cent.

Rate Cut 5 Per Cent.

As a means of offsetting, in part, the new undistributed earnings tax, the conferees reduced to the present undistributed earnings rates on personal holding companies. At present they are graduated from 13 to 53 per cent, and the bill decreases the rate in each bracket 5 per cent.

The conferees estimate that the combined corporation taxes, including the repeal of the exemption of dividends from the normal individual income tax, will yield $630,000,000 a year in revenue. To this they add $20,000,000 for the irrevocable trust provision, $33,000,000 for the increased taxation of intercorporate dividends, $10,000,000 for duties on miscellaneous oils and fats, $10,000,000 for the tax on foreign corporations and nonresident aliens, and $82,000,000 for the 80 per cent tax on refunded or unpaid processing taxes. This makes a total of $785,000,000, as compared to the estimated yield of $829,000,000 for the original senate bill and $803,000,000 for the original house bill.

83 Million "Windfall."

Of this amount only $703,000,000 is so-called permanent revenue, since the $82,000,000 "windfall" tax will apply for one year. The bill will give the President $83,000,000 more than he demanded in permanent revenue, if the estimates are not exaggerated, but $435,000,000 less than he demanded in temporary revenue, to be spread over a three year period, to fill the gap in the budget caused by the invalidation of processing taxes.

The house conceded more than the senate on the corporation income tax rates, for the house bill, carrying out the President's proposal, had repealed this tax altogether. The senators preferred the tried and certain revenue producing tax, instead of the wholly experimental and uncertain undistributed earnings tax, and for this reason increased existing corporation income tax rates 3 per cent.

But the President was vehemently opposed to any increase in existing taxes during an election year, and the house conferees insisted upon the decreases in the lower corporate income brackets.

Supporters of the President's philosophy offer the ingenious argument that the undistributed earnings tax is not, in fact, an increase in corporate taxation, because if corporations distribute all their earnings in dividends they will not pay it and the dividends will be subject to both the normal and surtax rates.

Composite Proposal Studied.

The ship subsidy bill taken up by the senate today is a composite affair representing the divergent views of the department of commerce, President Roosevelt, Senators Royal S. Copeland [Dem., N. Y.], Ernest W. Gibson [Rep., Vt.], and Joseph F. Guffey [Dem., Pa.].

It sets up a federal maritime authority composed of three members, which would be empowered to negotiate with holders of existing ocean mail contracts for their adjustment or cancellation. If they failed to reach an agreement, the President could modify or cancel the contract, and determine the compensation to be paid, and the ship owner could sue the United States for the difference.

The authority would be authorized to make direct subsidies toward the construction of approved new vessels for approved ocean routes equal to the difference between the fair cost of such construction at home and abroad. The construction differential could not exceed 331-3 per cent of the total cost, unless the authority possessed evidence that the actual differential was greater, and in no case could it exceed 40 per cent.

The bill also authorizes the Reconstruction Finance corporation to purchase the obligations of ship builders up to 75 per cent of the foreign cost. The government would recapture the contract holders' profits exceeding 6 per cent a year, after provision for suitable reserves, up to the extent of the subsidy.

HINDENBURG HOPS FOR U. S. TODAY; ECKENER IS IN FULL COMMAND

FRIEDRICHSHAFEN, Germany, June 18.—(AP)—When the Zeppelin Hindenburg leaves tomorrow night on its third flight to the United States, Dr. Hugo Eckener, veteran dirigible expert, will be in full charge.

His assignment is at the special request of the air ministry made, it was said, to appease public opinion in the United States at Dr. Eckener's previous treatment by the Nazi propaganda department.

Col. Gen. Hermann Wilhelm Goering, minister of aviation, apparently has succeeded in restoring peace between Dr. Eckener and the propaganda department which attempted to ostracize him for alleged noncompliance with election campaign requirements.

The exact route to be followed by the Hindenburg after it takes off at 8 p. m. [2 p. m. Chicago time], is to be determined by weather conditions. Capt. Ernst Lehmann, who commanded the Hindenburg on its first two flights to Lakehurst, will not be aboard this time.

Kentuckian Trails Enemy Through Hills; Slays Him

ANTI-REDS BILL WINS IN HOUSE; GOES TO SENATE

Deportation Measure Is Passed, 172 to 22.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., June 18.—[Special.]—Over the violent protests of radical members, the house late today passed the anti-communist bill providing for deportation proceedings against Red aliens fomenting propaganda in this country.

There was some sentiment that passage of the bill was meaningless because Secretary of Labor Perkins, whose radical ideas are well known, would not use her discretionary power to send the Reds back home in any great number. The bill, adopted by a standing vote of 172 to 22, now goes to the senate.

The legislation provides that the secretary shall institute deportation proceedings against any alien who while in the United States engages in the promotion or dissemination of propaganda instigated from foreign sources or engages in unlawful political activities prompted by a foreign land.

Foes of Bill Protest.

The loudest foes of the bill were Representatives Vito Marcantonio [Rad. Rep., N. Y.] and Gerald J. Boileau [Prog., Wis.].

"This bill provides for the deportation of any alien who opposes the Liberty league, Hearst, and other Tories," shouted Marcantonio.

Boileau declared that if an alien had advocated the NRA or the AAA, which had been held unconstitutional by the Supreme court, that he would be subject to deportation under the bill.

"Why, if Franklin D. Roosevelt had been an alien, he would be deported under this law," asserted Boileau. "Einstein could be deported for preaching relativity. This is oppression of decent aliens."

"No law abiding citizen need fear this legislation," returned Representative Thomas L. Blanton [Dem., Texas]. "It is directed at the communists who get their orders and money from Russia."

Cites Recognition of Russia.

Representative Thomas O'Malley [Dem., Wis.] pointed out that it was the present régime that had recognized Russia and asked Blanton whether he favored the policy. The Texan admitted that he was opposed to it.

A proposal to provide for the deportation of criminal aliens was ruled out of order on the motion of Chairman Samuel Dickstein [Dem., N. Y.] of the immigration committee, and the anti-communist bill then was adopted. The opposing radicals could not muster sufficient strength for a roll call.

Then the house passed the "alien artist bill" providing that entry to this country should be denied to any actor or actress unless he or she were of "distinguished merit or ability." The measure paved the way for reciprocal agreements with other countries.

The house also passed three other bills relating to immigration.

MOTHER AND 2 CHILDREN FOUND DEAD IN HOME

Police Think She Slew Babies, Ends Own Life.

Pittsburgh, Pa., June 18.—(AP)—An attractive 30 year old mother and her two babies died tonight in what police said apparently was a double murder and suicide, but the coroner's office ordered an investigation of a possibility they had been slain by intruders in their home.

Mrs. Eleanor Feely, 30 year old wife of an assistant professor of physical education at the University of Pittsburgh, was stabbed with an ice pick. Her two children, five year old Robert and three year old Janice, had been garroted.

A scarf was twisted tightly about little Robert's neck. His baby sister had been strangled with a rope.

Rope Fastened to Radiator.

Homicide Detective Harry Hart said a rope was wound around Mrs. Feely's neck and fastened to a radiator pipe before an ice pick was plunged in her breast.

The bodies all were found in the nursery of the Feely home in the fashionable Brushlon residential district.

Mrs. Feely wore a shirtwaist and skirt. Her body lay beside the radiator and a wrench had been twisted into the rope leading to the radiator pipe. The children's bodies lay on a bed, Robert garbed in brown coveralls, his little sister wearing blue pajamas.

Planned to Join Her Husband.

Officers said Mrs. Feely had been planning to join her husband at their summer camp in Pottertown, N. J. Neighbors said she had become ill while nursing Robert during an attack of scarlet fever.

Mrs. Fred Young, owner of the Feely residence, was unable to assign a motive. She said:

"They [Mr. and Mrs. Feely] seemed devoted to each other and were crazy about the children."

Chief Deputy Coroner James Davidson said he would investigate possibilities the mother and her children had been slain, but placed little credence in such a theory.

HAVANA, June 18.—(AP)—When Nicholas Castano, wealthy business man here who was kidnaped last December, sailed for Spain today, he took with him an armored car. Castano was held for a $500,000 ransom last year and later attacked from an automobile on a Havana boulevard. Police escorted him and his family to the dock and aboard the Spanish liner Habana.

At the Woodlawn police station she refused to explain where she had been since June 6, when she disappeared from her home. She was sent to the Juvenile home. BAR ASSOCIATION EXPELS 4 JUDGES FOR CAMPAIGNING Find Nine Others Guilty in Row Over Politics.

The Chicago Bar association, through its board of managers, yesterday expelled four Cook county judges from membership in the association on a finding that they were guilty of unethical judicial conduct in participating in political activities during the April primary election. The bar association also found nine other judges guilty of such conduct, censured seven of them and warned the other two.

The four expelled are Judges James J. Kelly, Oscar F. Nelson, and John J. Sullivan of the Superior court and Judge Harry M. Fisher of the Circuit court. Judge Sullivan is now sitting in the Illinois Appellate court.

These four had refused to appear before the bar association board of managers to answer the judicial misconduct charges and on May 13 they and 39 other judges of the 47 judges of the Circuit and Superior courts withdrew from the bar association.

Judges Answer Association.

At that time the 43 judges declared it was incompatible with their judicial duties "to be subservient to any group of lawyers practicing in their respective courts."

The seven judges censured by the bar association are James F. Fardy and Cornelius J. Harrington of the Superior court, Joseph Burke of the Circuit court, Roman E. Posanski of Calumet City, sitting in the Circuit court here, and Francis Borrelli, Frank M. Padden, and Joseph H. McGarry of the Municipal court. Judges Harrington and Burke are assigned to the Criminal court.

The two judges warned are Daniel P. Trude of the Circuit court and J. M. Braude of the Municipal court.

Judges Fardy, Harrington, and Burke were among those who withdrew from the bar association. Judge Posanski said yesterday he would resign immediately. Judge Trude and the four Municipal judges involved have not withdrawn.

Bar Ignores Withdrawal.

The association had taken no action on the judges' resolution of withdrawal.

"It's rather odd that a man can be thrown out of an organization to which he no longer belongs," Judge Kelly said. "The canons of legal ethics should be observed by officers and members of the bar association.

"I refer particularly to those canons which forbid the taking of unconscionable legal fees and questionable conduct. Those violations should meet with the same devastating condemnation that the bar directs against the judges. It is known that former officers of the association were involved in the plucking of large fees in receivership cases in state and federal courts. Their conduct was apparently condoned by the association, which did not see fit to expel them or call on them to justify themselves."

Judge Nelson said the bar association procedure was "laughable."

"The association wants to mislead people into thinking we judges are still members," he said.

Judge Sullivan's Statement.

"The purpose and animus back of the charges of political activity against judges, including myself," Judge Sullivan said, "and the detective work involved in the investigation which preceded the charges, is readily apparent to those who are at all familiar with the situation. The canon of ethics on which the charges were predicated was adopted by the board of managers, but not by members of the association, in the midst of the recent primary campaign, deliberately, I am advised, to punish or publicly reprimand all judges who had the temerity to oppose a candidate for governor who stood in high favor with certain members of the board."

The expulsion and censure of the judges was made public in a report issued by the board of managers of the association.

"At the close of the election primaries," the report read, "it became apparent that judges had participated in partisan politics more publicly and more actively than ever before. Inasmuch as the canon of judicial ethics of the American Bar association had been called to the attention of each judge, the activity tended to indicate certain judges had deliberately decided to depart from the accepted standards of their office."

Upheld as Rule of Conduct.

The canon dealing with partisan politics, the report said, "is not merely a rule of conduct binding only upon members of a bar association but it represents the well considered opinion of the bench, the bar, and the public wherever our system of law prevails."

Of the thirteen judges asked to appear before the association, only Judges McGarry, Posanski, Trude, and Braude did so.

Judge Sullivan was charged with campaigning for Dr. Herman Bundesen in the Democratic primary election for governor and with acting as a member of the Democratic county slatemaking committee.

The complaints against Judge Fisher were that he made a political speech at a meeting of the county Democratic central committee and various other political talks.

Politics on Radio Charged.

Judge Kelly was charged with making radio speeches supporting Dr. Bundesen's candidacy and with participation in a political meeting where he introduced Mayor Kelly.

Judge Nelson, the report said, participated in "harmony" sessions of the Republican county central committee, endorsed various G. O. P. candidates, and supported the candidacy of his bailif, Max Landesman, for Republican committeeman in the Forty-sixth ward.

18,000 EMPLOYES OF CITY WILL GET WAGES LOST IN '31

City Controler Robert B. Upham said yesterday that on Monday the city will pay to 18,000 employés, excluding per diem workers, $1,531,000 in back salaries they lost in 1931 when the city council ordered fourteen days' pay deducted annually from each employé's wages in an economy move.

The action follows successful suits forcing the city to restore similar reductions to Municipal court employés, policemen, and firemen, Mr. Upham said. Further court orders would undoubtedly require the city to make the payment, and the city council wishes to avoid the cost of additional litigation, he explained.

In 1931 the city council ordered the reductions after appropriations were made for salaries on the 1930 scale. The law requires that the salaries appropriated for must be paid. In subsequent years the pay reductions were placed in the budget, so back pay claims for those years would not prove valid.

Mrs. Kator was given permission to resume her maiden name.

MAXIM GORKY, SOVIET WRITER, DIES IN MOSCOW

Revolutionist Is Victim of Pneumonia.

MOSCOW, June 18.—(AP)—Maxim Gorky, one time rag picker and foe of the czars who became a hero of the soviet Russians and their outstanding writer, died today of pneumonia which followed an attack of influenza. He was 68 years old. The world famous novelist had been ill for ten days and Russia's leading physicians kept him alive the last 24 hours with stimulants and oxygen.

Gorky had only one lung, the other having been destroyed by a tuberculosis infection after he shot himself in a suicide attempt as a youth.

Although not a member of the communist party, Gorky held a preëminent position in soviet life and was a former member of the central executive committee. To honor him the Russians last year gave his name to the world's largest land airplane which subsequently cracked, killing 50 persons.

Gorky returned to Moscow to live four years ago after spending a number of years in Sorrento, Italy, for his health. Recently he had been writing plays and newspaper articles severely criticizing young Russian writers for a lack of imagination and failure to develop a "revolutionary" school of writing.

Moscow has planned a public funeral to be held Saturday in Red square. Gorky's body will be placed in a niche of the Kremlin wall facing Lenin's tomb. Mourning flags are flying throughout the capital.

"THE BITTER ONE."

The revolutionary attitude of Maxim Gorky was exhibited when he chose his pen name. Maxim Gorky means "The Bitter One." The author was considered soviet Russia's greatest propagandist.

Gorky, whose real name was Alexis Maximovitch Pyeshkov, was born on March 28, 1868, at Nijni Novgorod.

His father, a poor journeyman upholsterer, died when Alexis was 5, and the boy became subsequently a rag picker, a tramp, a day laborer, a ship cook's assistant on the Volga river, an apprentice draftsman, a lawyer's clerk and a baker's assistant.

His revolt against society became intense and found expression after he tried to commit suicide in 1888 and came under the personal tutelage of Tolstoy and Chekhov, in plays and in novels.

His Publications.

One of his early plays, "The Lower Depths," reached Broadway. "Russian Wealth" and "Chelkash," among his early stories, were well received. Among other publications were: "Song of the Falcon," "Song of the Petrel," "The Orloff Couple and Malva," "About the Devil," "More About the Devil," "The Spy" [short stories], "Reminiscences of My Youth," "My Childhood," "Reminiscences of L. N. Tolstoy," "Bystander," "The Magnet."

Under the czars Gorky was jailed many times because of the incendiary propaganda in his writings. In 1906, during nearly eight years' exile, he made his only visit to America. At first greeted with enthusiasm, he was practically ostracized when it was found that his companion was not Mme. Gorky, as he said, but Mlle. Androievea, whom he married the next year in Italy.

Activity for Reds.

Although he had written against war, Gorky enlisted as a Russian private in the world war. He bitterly opposed the overthrow of Kerensky and wrote against the bolsheviks for a year thereafter. However, largely due to Nicolai Lenin, he was won over and eventually became chief of the soviet bureau of propaganda.

There followed active years in the cause of communism. He joined the department of education, where his wife already was an official; in 1919 he was elected to the Petrograd soviet; in the Russian famine of 1921-'22 he was active in seeking American and European relief funds.

In 1932 his birthplace was renamed Gorky in honor of "soviet Russia's foremost man of letters."

Known as Russia's highest paid writer, he was named director of the Institute of Russian Literature of the soviet Academy of Sciences in March, 1935.

Porter, 30 years old, 15725 Finch avenue, Harvey, an engineer for the Illinois commerce commission, fell 15 feet from a ladder to a steel plated floor yesterday. He suffered a skull fracture and was taken to the Oak Park hospital, where it was said his condition was serious. Employés of the railway company said the ladder apparently slipped.

NANCY, FAMOUS ORANG, DIES OF RARE AILMENT

Nancy, the orang-utan at the Lincoln park zoo, which achieved distinction by giving birth on two occasions to living orang-utans, a rare occurrence in zoos, died late Wednesday night of a rare ailment, a post-mortem examination at the zoo hospital disclosed yesterday. Both of Nancy's babies died shortly after birth of malnutrition.

The post-mortem was conducted by Dr. D. J. Davis, dean of the University of Illinois college of medicine; Dr. I. Pilot, associate professor of pathology, and three other doctors.

Nancy had been mysteriously ailing, "moping away" quietly in a hospital cage for the last two weeks, according to Director Floyd S. Young of the zoo. The post-mortem revealed that death resulted from a "perforated ulcer of the windpipe, caused by the intake of some foreign body and resulting in blood poisoning and abscesses."

Mr. Young said he had never heard of a similar case in an animal.

LANDON CHOICE OF PEOPLE BACK HOME, SAYS KNOX

Convention Only Carried Out Voters' Wishes.

BY ARTHUR EVANS.

Frank Knox, Republican nominee for Vice President, told the Union League club yesterday that the people back home rather than the delegates nominated Gov. Alf M. Landon of Kansas for the presidency at Cleveland. The "stop Landon" movement stopped itself behind the scenes, he said, because the nomination of Landon was welling up from the grass roots.

More than 1,000 members of the club welcomed Mr. Knox at a luncheon celebrating his nomination as running mate for Landon. Charles G. Dawes introduced the nominee. As one interesting phase the photographers snapped a group of three—Mr. Knox, present nominee for Vice President; Gen. Dawes, former Vice President, and Frank O. Lowden, former governor of Illinois, who declined the nomination for Vice President in 1924.

Tells of Visit at Topeka.

Just returned from a conference with Gov. Landon at Topeka, Kas., Mr. Knox told his fellow club members of his impressions.

"I have just returned from a two day conference with our standard bearer, the next President of the United States," he said.

After the applause had died away Mr. Knox continued:

"I find him a man of poise, a man with decisive character, a man who takes his responsibility seriously, a man of the plain people who has never lost the common touch, and a man who approaches the political equations in a situation like this with a high intelligence and a great patriotism."

Lauds Convention Spirit.

Mr. Knox dwelt upon the spirit manifested by the Cleveland convention.

"It was not the action of the delegates in Cleveland that nominated Alfred Landon," he said. "It was the people back home.

"There occurred a number of conferences among those who were aspirants for the office, aside from Gov. Landon. In a conference on Wednesday night, participated in by Senator Vandenberg and myself, a representative of Senator Dickinson and representatives of ex-President Hoover, with Senator Vandenberg speaking for Senator Borah, we discussed the situation.

"We had a suspicion it might be possible to marshal enough votes to prevent an early nomination. I proposed to that conference this question: 'Even if we have the votes, have we a right to carry out that plan?' I said, and the others concurred in this view, that this choice was being made by the delegates from the conviction of the people in their homes who wanted Gov. Landon as their standard bearer. And I asked the question: 'Are we ready to assume the responsibility for stopping a nomination which has every evidence of coming to us from the masses?' And the decision, participated in by all those present, was that we had no such right, and that we owed it to the country, to the party, and to ourselves to withdraw.

Three Plan to Withdraw.

"So it was planned that night that Dickinson, Vandenberg, and myself would appear before the convention next morning, withdraw our candidacies and second the nomination of Gov. Landon.

"That resulted, as you know, in a substantially unanimous nomination for the head of the ticket. That had been preceded by equally unanimous action with respect to the platform, which was given vitality and real appeal by the amendments to that platform which were conveyed to the convention by Gov. Landon in a telegram which he insisted must be read to the convention before his name was placed before it.

"That telegram shot the proceedings of the convention full of patriotic fire, which communicated itself to the country as a whole. The convention concluded its activities by an action in which I had no part whatever, and that was equally unanimous."

Ernest L. Hartig, president of the Union League club, was chairman of the luncheon. Among others at the speakers' table were several former presidents of the club, including Edwin C. Austin, John McKinlay, Col. George T. Buckingham, Judge William H. McSurely, and Frank J. Loesch. Former Gov. Lowden was given an ovation when he appeared.

Mr. Knox plans to leave Chicago at the end of the week for a short vacation in Manchester, N. H.

POLLS WATCHER SENTENCED; HIS FRIENDS LASHED

Philip Zimmerman, 28 years old, 808 West 35th street, yesterday received the maximum sentence—one year in the county jail—for illegal possession of seventeen ballots of the Fifty-seventh precinct of the Eleventh ward in the April primary.

Zimmerman, a polls watcher, was sentenced by Judge George N. Blatt of Joliet, sitting in County court here. He had been convicted by a jury on June 3.

"I was inclined to be lenient with this defendant," Judge Blatt said, "until I realized he and his friends were attempting to influence my judgment. People have approached me personally, my telephone has rung almost constantly, and on Wednesday I received a petition signed by fourteen south side business men asking leniency for this defendant. I am a country judge who is not accustomed to being thus interfered with."

Judge Blatt said he had at first considered jailing the petitioners summarily for contempt of court, but changed his mind. The signers are to appear at the state's attorney's office today for questioning.

CONGRESS DUE TO OPEN SUNDAY; DATE IS CHANGED

Washington, D. C., June 18.—(AP)—Congress stopped long enough in its rush for adjournment today to agree that next winter's session really shouldn't open on Sunday.

But the rub came when the senate and house had at least momentary difficulty in deciding when the 75th session should convene. Under the Norris "lame duck" law, the opening is set mandatorily as Jan. 3. In 1937, however, this date happens to be Sunday.

Spotting this, the senate adopted a resolution advancing the opening to Monday, Jan. 4. The house quickly agreed against Sunday, making it Tuesday, Jan. 5.

TELEPHONE WORKER DIES.

Lawrence Gardner, 52 years old, 5842 Walton street, an employé of the telephone company's service department, died yesterday, presumably of heart disease, as he stopped his truck in an alley behind 900 Independence boulevard.

LANDON LEAVING WEDNESDAY FOR COLORADO RANCH

Calls Kansas Legislature for July 7.

BY WILLIAM O'NEIL.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Topeka, Kas., June 18.—[Special.]—Gov. Alf M. Landon today issued a call for a special session of the Kansas legislature, to convene July 7, and then announced that he will leave with his family for his summer ranch near Estes Park, Colo., next Wednesday evening. The governor plans to return to Topeka on the morning of the 6th, but the remainder of his party will remain at the ranch.

Members of Party.

Mrs. Landon; her mother, Mrs. Samuel E. Cobb of Topeka; and the three Landon children [Peggy Anne, 19 years old; Nancy Jo, 3, and John Cobb, 2], with their nurse and Mrs. Landon's secretary, will comprise the governor's party. The two dogs, Jerry, a blue terrier, and Spooky, a Scotty pup, will be taken along.

The Landon party will arrive in Denver Thursday morning on the Union Pacific and make the balance of the trip to the ranch by motor.

The special session, which will pass on a constitutional amendment permitting the legislature to adopt necessary measures to conform with the New Deal social security demands, is not expected to last more than a week. If adopted by the legislature the amendment will be submitted to a Kansas referendum in November.

Date Still in Doubt.

The governor again stated that no date or location for the notification ceremonies had been decided upon.

"I was just nominated a week ago today, you know," he reminded eager questioners. "There hasn't been time enough yet to settle that question."

The trip to Estes Park will be purely a vacation trip, the governor asserted. He plans to fish, ride, and rest in preparation for the arduous summer before him.

In the meanwhile the governor explained he is merely going ahead with the business of being the governor of Kansas.

Battery C Members Mark Date of Texas Border Duty

Sixty of the 126 members of Battery C of the old First Illinois field artillery, later the 149th field artillery of the Rainbow division in France, met in the Racquet club last evening to celebrate the twentieth anniversary of the battery's departure for the Texas border in 1916. Col. Noble Brandon Judah was in charge of the celebration.

WOMAN WHO SAW THE G. O. P. 'BORN' IS 90; HAILS LANDON

Mrs. Eleanor Gridley, former school teacher, who was present under the oaks of Jackson, Mich., in 1854, when the Republican party was born, celebrated her 90th birthday yesterday in her home at 1549 East 61st street. Among the congratulatory messages she received was one from Gov. Alf M. Landon, Republican nominee for the presidency, who telegraphed:

"I am happy to acknowledge through you our debt to the men and women teachers who today are unselfishly striving to keep alive the spirit of real Americanism among our children."

Mrs. Gridley replied to the governor's greeting with a message wishing him success in his campaign.

"Americans everywhere, without regard to party," she wrote, "are rejoicing that you have been selected to lead our great nation into days of honest performance, true progress, and genuine happiness."

Mrs. Gridley is an authority on the life of Abraham Lincoln, and she said she foresees "a return to the ideals of Lincoln" under Landon's leadership.

'Mad Monk' Loses Damage Suit Over Book on Rasputin

New York, June 18.—[Special.]—Sergius M. Trufanoff, once known as Iliodor, "The Mad Monk," lost his damage suit for $100,000 in Supreme court late today. The jury decided that he had not been libeled in the book "Rasputin: The Holy Devil," by Rene Fulop-Miller. Trufanoff had sued the author, and also the Viking Press, Inc., which first brought out the book, and the Garden City Publishing company, which issued a cheaper reprint.

STRIKERS' GUNS BESIEGE PLANT FOR FOUR HOURS

6 Wounded; 40 Removed from Factory.

Kent, O., June 18.—[Special.]—Forty men were removed tonight from the Black & Decker Manufacturing company plant here, where they had been marooned all day during a siege by strike rioters.

The men were escorted from the plant by Sherif E. L. Burr and Police Chief St. Clair West, who said they would be placed in jail at Ravenna. Sherif Burr had John Doe warants, charging the men with shooting with intent to kill.

Six Wounded in Siege.

Six persons were wounded—three strikers and three inside the plant—during a four hour siege which began when the forty men entered the plant under a protective barrage of tear gas.

William Crayford, local president of the International Association of Machinists, which called the strike May 3, said union men threw stones at the "outsiders" who had entered the plant's grounds and that the "outsiders" opened fire with rifles and shotguns.

The factory soon was under a state of siege, with armed forces deployed about the grounds, sniping from concealed positions. The steady crack of rifle fire was heard from 8 a. m. until after noon, when A. F. Wassilak, picket line captain, announced warants had been obtained against the men inside the plant.

Chief West said approximately 150 men with high power rifles took up vantage points on three sides of the plant and "sniped" continuously. Hardware stores swarmed with men seeking to replenish their ammunition.

Workers from other factories, sympathizers, and spectators joined the throng of strikers in the vicinity of the plant, and officials estimated the crowd totaled nearly 5,000 persons.

Sends National Guard Observers.

Adjt. Gen. Emil Marx ordered National Guard observers to the scene after company executives complained union men prevented the removal of the wounded. Two injured men were taken in ambulances from the factory under a "truce," after Col. G. D. Light of the National Guard warned pickets that troops would be called if pickets prevented their removal.

After the firing subsided tenseness prevailed about the factory until the forty men were removed.

DELEGATES MOVE ON PHILADELPHIA FOR CONVENTION

Part of Illinois Group Is Already on Ground.

Philadelphia, Pa., June 18.—(AP)—By twos and threes, delegates of the Democratic national convention began arriving today, while Philadelphia, already decked with flags and bunting, continued primping for the big show.

Part of the Illinois delegation arrived, to be greeted by a downpour of rain, and an advance guard of New Yorkers established state headquarters, proclaiming that despite rumored defections the state's vote would be cast in a block for President Roosevelt.

Meanwhile, a big corps of carpenters, at work for a week, neared the end of their task of fitting out the convention hall with the erection of a huge speakers' platform, rows of stage boxes to be occupied by party notables, and tier upon tier of press work-benches.

Decorators Start Today.

Tomorrow the hall will be turned over to the decorators and a crew armed with buckets of green and white paint will go to work. Those colors, it was said, would dominate the decorative scheme with a minimum of the usual red, white, and blue bunting.

A forced draft ventilating system also had been installed. The engineers in charge said it would change the air every ten minutes or so and, under ordinary conditions, keep the auditorium 8 or 9 degrees cooler than outside.

For the day the headquarters of the Democratic committee were virtually deserted. W. Forbes Morgan, secretary, with some of his aids went to New York for conferences there with Chairman James A. Farley.

Garner to Arrive Late.

Farley had planned to return to Philadelphia tomorrow after attending the Schmeling-Louis fight in New York tonight, now postponed until tomorrow. Whether he would wait over another day to witness the fight was uncertain. Vice President Garner was expected to arrive tomorrow, but he said today he might be a week late.

Preparing, meanwhile, for the convention's grand finale, ceremonies at Franklin field, in which President Roosevelt will be notified of his nomination and deliver an address of acceptance, Col. Edward Starling, chief of the White House secret service, was in town arranging for the President's arrival.

For years, even before he became chief of the White House force, it was Starling's function to act as advance man for the President, consult with local officials, and provide every possible convenience and protection for the chief executive.

Make Plans for Delegates.

The arrival of delegates was expected to assume real proportions tomorrow and be swelled to a constant stream over the week-end. Special preparations for handling the throng were made at the railroad stations, including the establishment of a first aid center at a principal point of arrival with an announcement that it would be ready to treat "anything from snakebite to train sickness."

Also expected tomorrow were Edward A. Halsey, secretary of the senate, and Charles Michelson, famed chief of the national committee's publicity activties.

Ticket difficulties already were making themselves felt among convention officials. In all, it was said, some 12,000 seats were available, while 100,000 applications had been received.

Quits Race for Governor to Campaign for Landon

Wichita, Kas., June 18.—(AP)—Leslie Edmonds, Wichita banker and sports writer, announced today withdrawal of his candidacy for the Republican nomination for governor at the August primaries. Edmonds said his "personal loyalty to Gov. Alf M. Landon, Republican presidential nominee, would prevent my taking any time to further my own personal ambitions if there is any possible service I may give him."

WAIVES ALIMONY WHILE HUSBAND IS IN U. S. PRISON

Judge Rudolph F. Desort in the Superior court yesterday suspended the $75 a week support money payments of Julius L. Marks, investment broker, pending his release from the Leavenworth penitentiary, where he is serving two years for mail fraud. The judge acted on the motion of Norman Becker, attorney for Marks' divorced second wife, Bernice, 8011 Crandon avenue.

"My client feels that her former husband has enough trouble for the present," Becker told Judge Desort. "However, she does not waive her claim to $1,955 in arrearages, but simply asks that no additional debt accumulate by reason of his imprisonment."

CHILD TUMBLES; BRUISES SLIGHT; DEATH RESULTS

On June 3 Nancy Freund, 9 years old, 7446 Ibsen street, was roller skating in front of her home when her pet dog ran between her legs, causing her to fall.

Herbert E. Freund, Nancy's father, a construction engineer, inspected the slight bruises and applied home remedies. An infection developed June 7 and Nancy was ordered to the Michael Reese hospital by Dr. Meyer O. Pearlstein.

Last Sunday Nancy contracted pneumonia. Yesterday she died.

ROOSEVELT O. K.'S SPEECH OF MACK TO RENAME HIM

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., June 18.—[Special.]—After a light lunch in his executive office President Roosevelt leaned back in an easy chair this afternoon to hear the speech which will nominate him at the Democratic convention in Philadelphia on June 26.

JUDGE JOHN E. MACK.
[A.P. Wirephoto.]

The speech was given by former Judge John E. Mack of Poughkeepsie, N. Y., who has been selected again to nominate his neighbor of Hyde Park, N. Y. Judge Mack nominated Mr. Roosevelt at Chicago in 1932.

The judge refused to discuss his speech but acknowledged that it occasioned his call at the White House. He left in a pleasant mood which indicated his effort was well received.

Pushes Wrong Button.

Judge Mack encountered a little difficulty in entering the White House. On arriving at the executive office he punched at a bell button in the outer door without success. The button is used only at night when the door is locked.

As the judge's patience was being tried he was observed by Lieut. Seaman of the White House police. The lieutenant opened the unlocked door and demanded to know what the visitor wanted.

"I am Judge John E. Mack," the judge said. "I have a luncheon engagement with the President."

"Well, come on in," Lieut. Seaman invited, "what are you doing out here?"

"Ringing the bell," the judge answered.

"Save your bell ringing for Philadelphia," was Seaman's retort. "That's the night bell."

As he left after his call Judge Mack said he would follow the lieutenant's advice and ring the bell for the President at the convention.

SMITH TO SHUN CONVENTION, BUT WILL BE HARD BY

New York, June 18.—[Special.]—Former Gov. Alfred E. Smith will not attend the Democratic national convention at Philadelphia next week unless some unexpected development causes him to regard his presence as a delegate advisable. This is what Mr. Smith has told friends, it was learned today.

These friends regard as remote the possibility of the former governor "taking a walk" out of the convention when President Roosevelt is renominated and a platform adopted.

Smith left today with John J. Raskob to pass the week-end at the latter's home in Centerville, Md.

HAMILTON SEES NEW YORK SAFE FOR GOV. LANDON

G. O. P. Chairman Busy on Eastern Campaign.

New York, June 18.—[Special.]—Gov. Alf M. Landon of Kansas, the Republican nominee for President, will carry New York state, regardless of whether Gov. Lehman runs, John M. Hamilton, the new Republican national chairman, predicted today.

Mr. Hamilton arrived here last night to lay the groundwork for an aggressive campaign in the east. The new Republican chairman—alert, eager for the campaign battle and calmly confident of victory—expressed the opinion that nothing could save New York state for President Roosevelt.

Quizzed on Lehman Angle.

He was asked specifically about reports that the Democrats would endeavor to draft Gov. Lehman to head the state ticket in order to carry the state, and then permit him to resign, after the election.

"Well, President Roosevelt certainly needs all the help he can get in New York," said Mr. Hamilton. "I would not blame him for trying to set up an artificial candidacy if he believed that would save the state for him.

"But I feel confident that Gov. Landon will carry New York whether Gov. Lehman runs or not. I think the candidacy of Gov. Lehman is purely a relative thing, depending on who runs against him."

Hamilton took a fling at Postmaster General James A. Farley, Democratic national chairman. He said that Roosevelt would carry only six states in the fall election and that he would leave the naming of them to Mr. Farley, who is claiming all but three.

Confers with Leaders.

Mr. Hamilton spent his first day in New York in consultation with county and state party leaders. He met them individually during the day and then went to the county headquarters late this afternoon for a general conference with them. Now he plans to rest, get some much needed sleep and prepare the speech which he is to deliver at a dinner in his honor on Monday night at the Hotel Astor. More than 1,000 Republicans from New York, New Jersey and Connecticut are expected to be there to hear him.

Mr. Hamilton's procedure here is indicative of the tactics he will employ in other states during the campaign. Having served as county and state leader himself, he knows the problems of local leaders. He intends to leave the campaign to such leaders, he said, since they know their own localities best.

He said that he probably would spend most of his time on the road, meeting the county and state leaders and talking over campaign plans.

SEEK HERBERT HOOVER FOR CHANCELLOR OF SYRACUSE UNIVERSITY

Syracuse, N. Y., June 18.—[Special.]—Appointment of former President Herbert Hoover as chancellor of Syracuse university is the goal of a movement launched among alumni and faculty of the institution, it was learned today.

Whether Mr. Hoover would consider an offer of the post is not known, but those backing the drive intend to place the proposition before him in the near future.

Former Congressman William H. Hill of Binghamton, a trustee of the university and one of the former President's closest friends in this state, is one of the sponsors.

President H. W. Smith of the board of trustees said today he expects to appoint a committee within a short time to consider available candidates for the post of chancellor.

Chancellor Charles Wesley Flint, who has resigned to become a bishop in the Methodist Episcopal church, will remain here until the opening of the next semester in the fall.

MACKEY NAMED 2D DEPUTY CHIEF FIRE MARSHAL

Joseph A. Mackey, who has been acting second deputy chief fire marshal for eighteen months as a temporary appointee, yesterday was formally certified to the position by the city civil service commission on the basis of examinations held two years ago.

Deputy Mackey is 57 years old and lives at 6549 North Talman avenue. He has been in the fire department for thirty-one years.

Police Commissioner Allman yesterday transferred three sergeants promoted to lieutenants to their new positions. They are John J. Gibbons of the Morgan Park station, transferred to Stanton avenue; Joseph J. McNamara of the Pekin station, to Deering street station, and Frank V. Walsh of the Cragin station, to Town Hall station.

RECOVER BODY FROM RIVER.

The body of Patrick Burns, 16 years old, 535 West 62d street, who was drowned in the Fox river a mile north of Algonquin in McHenry county when his boat capsized Wednesday night, was recovered yesterday.

MAP NEW SCHEME TO DRAFT LEHMAN FOR THIRD TERM

Democrats Fear for N. Y. if He Fails Them.

New York, June 18.—[Special.]—In a final move to try to induce Gov. Herbert H. Lehman to reconsider his decision not to be a third term candidate, state and national Democrats are considering a proposal that he accept a renomination and if elected resign shortly after he is inaugurated next January, it was learned today.

While James A. Farley, state and national chairman as well as postmaster general, continues his air of confidence with claims of most everything in sight for the Roosevelt national ticket next November, it was learned here on high authority that the New Dealers are convinced that they must carry New York state, and are deeply worried over their prospects with Gov. Lehman out of the race.

Harmony Provides a Jolt.

The harmony and enthusiasm of the Republican national convention at Cleveland last week gave them a severe jolt. They will bring terrific pressure to bear on Gov. Lehman when he attends the Democratic convention at Philadelphia next week, according to well informed political commentators.

There have been frequent reports that he intends to resign before the expiration of his present term, but his friends repeatedly have denied them. Whether he would consider this latest proposal is a question. One of his closest advisers recently said that "no foreseeable situation" would induce him to change his mind.

Word has reached Albany, it is reported, that President Roosevelt is fostering the plan to draft the governor and to seek his consent by the new proposal.

Would Hand Pick Lieutenant.

The Roosevelt-Farley leaders are reported to be planning to take all summer for their draft-Lehman campaign. Should they succeed, it is their intention to pick the strongest man among the avilable gubernatorial candidates for lieutenant governor, a man who would be fully capable of taking the governor's place when he leaves the chief executiveship.

In carrying out the plan it is understood that Attorney General John J. Bennett Jr. is being considered for second place. Whether he would be a party to such a deal is not known. For years he has been building up a strong following throughout the state preparatory to seeking the nomination for governor when Lehman stepped out.

The attorney general is widely considered as the strongest vote getter of the available candidates and, should Gov. Lehman continue adamant to all proposals that he run again, Bennett's friends hope that the party chiefs will agree on him to head the state ticket. Bennett, however, thus far has received little encouragement from Washington.

BORAH IS EAGER FOR RE-ELECTION TO SENATE SEAT

Favors Sound Money, but Not on Gold Basis.

Pocatello, Idaho, June 18.—(AP)—The Pocatello Tribune said today Senator William E. Borah [Rep., Idaho] has written that he is "willing and rather anxious" to seek reëlection—because of questions involved in the coming campaign.

The veteran statesman expressed himself, the paper said, in a letter to R. P. Parry, Idaho Republican state chairman.

The letter, as made public by the Tribune, said Borah was writing to make plain his position in case Idaho Republicans should wish "to agree upon another candidate in view of Borah's stand on the Republican monetary plank."

In Senate 30 Years.

Borah, since he left the Cleveland convention after hammering pet planks into the platform, had withheld definite announcement of whether he would again seek the senate seat he has held 30 years.

The Idahoan previously had made clear that he bitterly opposes "a return to the gold standard"—reiterating his views after the Republican conclave—and the copy of the letter received by the Tribune said:

"It seems probable that the money question will be one of the most important issues in this campaign.

"If I should be a candidate for reelection to the senate, I would exercise full freedom of views and of discussion on that subject. While I fully accept the declaration of the Republican platform that we should maintain a sound currency at all hazards, I do not accept the view that a sound currency means a return to the gold standard."

Sees Harm in Gold Basis.

"To return to the gold standard or even to make an effort to do so would, in my view, work almost incalculable injury to our country, and particularly, to agriculture and producers generally. I shall not at this time go into detail. But I feel that I ought to advise you and other Republicans of my position. It seems, as I said some weeks ago, that in this campaign the candidates are to be the platforms and such will be my position in the campaign. . . .

"The present extraordinary and unusual economic and political conditions seem to invite and justify a wide discretion as to the personal views on the part of candidates. I recognize this right in others and I must retain it for myself."

FATHER AND SON, 21, TO MEET FOR FIRST TIME IN CALIFORNIA

Norfolk, Neb., June 18.—(AP)—One day next week at Santa Monica, Cal., a 20 year old man will see his father for the first time.

The son is Warren Betts of Norfolk, who will be 21 July 1, and the father is Edward G. Betts, a government forest ranger in California.

Warren's mother died shortly after he was born at Winner, S. D., and his grandparents took him to live with them. The boy's father enlisted in the army and when he was discharged he went to California and married a second time.

Through the years he has been in contact with his son, but the two nexer met. Sunday morning Warren will leave for California.

BROOKS SPEAKER AS 2,000 G. O. P. DELEGATES MASS

Five Counties Hold Rally in Bloomington.

Bloomington, Ill., June 18.—[Special.]—Two thousand delegates from five counties [McLean, Livingston, Woodford, Logan, and Ford] of the Seventeenth congressional district gathered today for a rally on the shores of Lake Bloomington. Wayland Brooks, candidate for governor, headed a party of Republican state candidates that attended the meeting.

William J. Stratton, candidate for secretary of state, seemed to strike the feeling that pervaded the meeting when he said: "Every one that I have talked to since the Cleveland convention is enthusiastic at the Republican prospects for success."

Control Comes to Midwest.

Mr. Brooks stressed the fact that the control of the Republican party and its further management has gone to the midwest. He said "we know that if the national Republican ticket is elected the thoughts and problems of the agricultural sections of the country will be foremost in the minds of the administration. The Republican party in Illinois is completely revived with a new spirit of victory."

Other candidates for state office that spoke today were George Hatzenbuhler for lieutenant governor, Arthur J. Bidwill for state auditor, and Charles W. Hadley for attorney general.

Chairmen Head County Groups.

The delegations from the various counties were headed by the chairmen of the central committees; Erastus Hoobler of Pontiac, Livingston county; James Anderson of Eureka, Woodford county; Homer Harris of Lincoln, Logan county; Noble Johnson of Paxton, Ford county, and Earl R. Depew of Bloomington, McLean county.

Speaking of some of the state issues likely in the campaign, Brooks said on the subject of reapportionment that he favors a plan which will give an equitable division of control to all sections.

"It is true that Cook county has approximately half of the population of the state," he said, "and apportionment according to strict census figures would give Cook county control of both branches of the legislature.

"I do not favor government control in the hands of any restricted group, therefore I believe a plan can be arranged whereby control of the two houses will be divided, neither Cook county nor downstate being allowed domination of both."

Police investigated the possibility of sabotage. The girl victim was crushed to death when the towers crashed through the roof of the newspaper plant.

REPORTS HITLER VIEWS BRITAIN'S NOTE AS INSULT

Hints Noncommittal Reply to Questionnaire.

BERLIN, June 18.—(AP)—A highly placed spokesman tonight said Reichsfuehrer Adolf Hitler considered the British Locarno questionnaire, in part, an insult.

Hitler, the spokesman added, also deemed it unwise to commit Germany to anything definite as long as international politics are in their present state of flux.

He may reply briefly and suddenly, this authority said, emphasizing that the peace offers which he made when he remilitarized the Rhineland last March still stand and that he invites a concrete discussion of them.

[The British Locarno questionnaire was dispatched to Germany in an effort to clarify the reich's attitude on maintenance of the existing territorial and political status in Europe.]

Brief Reply Drafted.

The spokesman, who is in intimate contact with the situation, said a short and noncommittal reply to the questionnaire had been drafted less than a fortnight after its arrival.

Hitler and Baron Konstantin von Neurath, foreign minister, are both in Berlin at the same time for the first time in weeks. They have spent hours going over the whole international situation, including Russo-Rumanian relations, Hapsburg restoration plans in Austria and the situation of Nazis in Austria.

Credits Italy's Gestures.

Italy's gestures of friendship toward Germany, the spokesman intimated, more than anything is responsible for the conference between Hitler and Von Neurath.

Before the week is over, the spokesman intimated, Hitler may decide on one of four courses in regard to the British questionnaire. They are:

Send the brief reply already formulated; reply orally through the British ambassador, asserting an eastern Locarno treaty is impossible and that "collective security" is a phrase that needs definition; inform Britain that Germany considers a reply unnecessary and undesirable, and, finally, suggests that the British foreign minister visit Hitler to discuss the whole situation.

Breaks Tradition

MRS. MARY C. DONNELLY.
[Associated Press Wirephoto.]

Cambridge, Mass., June 18.—(AP)—Mrs. Mary Curley Donnelly, daughter of Gov. James M. Curley, inadvertently broke a Harvard tradition of 300 years' standing today by entering Harvard yard, exclusive to men on commencement day.

Mrs. Donnelly's car was driven into Harvard yard just behind her father's as she arrived to attend commencement exercises in Seaver quadrangle. A commencement day aid stopped her as she started to cross the yard to reach the quadrangle, and escorted her around the yard to the scene of the exercises.

POPE CONFERS RED HAT ON SIX NEW CARDINALS

VATICAN CITY, June 18.—(AP)—Pope Pius presided today over the long ceremony of a public consistory in which he conferred the red hat upon six new cardinals.

Those honored included two of his literary friends, Msgrs. Giovanni Mercati and Eugenio Tisserant.

The pontiff, who is 79 years old, on receiving the cardinals last night spoke of the "few days the Lord may deign still to grant me," but today he went through the ritual of the public consistory and then presided at a secret consistory, following it without showing more than the usual weariness.

The other new cardinals are Enrico Sibilia, papal nuncio in Vienna; Francesco Marmaggi, nuncio in Warsaw; Luigi Maglioni, nuncio in Paris, and Federico Tedeschini, nuncio to Spain.

LIFT SANCTIONS TO AVERT WAR, BRITAIN PLEADS

Shame! Cabinet Foes Cry in Commons.

the opposition speakers loosed a tirade of criticism. David Lloyd George, wartime prime minister and a founder of the league, warned that Eden, when he goes to the league council and assembly sessions later this month is going to smash the league.

"There is nothing but anarchy as an alternative," he thundered. "There will be international anarchy the moment this [decision] is known. Tonight we have had a cowardly surrender and [pointing to the government benches] there are the cowards."

"Political Treachery."

Arthur Greenwood, Laborite, charged the government with "truckling to a dictator."

"During the whole of this debate there has not been a single word of sympathy for a broken nation, no word of condemnation for the power which deliberately organized the use of poison gases in spite of treaty obligations."

He branded the decision to lift sanctions as "the biggest act of political treachery in the history of the country."

Baldwin leaped into the fray at this point in support of his cabinet colleague. Answering Lloyd George's taunt of cowardice, he said:

"I do not think myself it is necessarily a mark of cowardice to take the action we know will be repugnant to large sections of our people. We take it because of the present state of Europe. We honestly believe it is the wiser of two courses and the one most conducive to peace.

Warns of Air Attack.

"We, as trustees of the people, ought to remember if there is a war against this country nearer than the Mediterranean they will pay for it on the first night with their lives. The first blow may come from the air."

At the conclusion of the debate Maj. C. R. Attlee, Laborite leader, announced the sanctions policy will be challenged by a motion of censure when the debate is resumed Tuesday. At the same time the opposition issued a manifesto appealing to the public to organize massmeetings and write to members of parliament protesting against the "great betrayal."

BABY DIES OF SCALDS.

Gustave Walker, 18 months old, 2715 Gladys avenue, died yesterday in the County hospital of scalds incurred Wednesday when he tipped over a pail of hot water in the kitchen of his home.

GERMANY IS SILENT ON REPORT HELIGOLAND HAS BEEN FORTIFIED

BERLIN, June 18.—(AP)—Official Germany declined today to affirm or deny the reported erection of fortifications on Heligoland, the reich's North sea "Gibraltar."

"Foreign newspapers seem to know more about it than we do," was the only official comment.

Foreign observers, however, were convinced refortification of the island rock, strategically placed off German and Danish coasts, was only a matter of time—if, indeed, it has not already begun. Heligoland had heavy fortifications and a harbor which played an important part in the world war, but they were destroyed under the treaty of Versailles.

LOSES HIS PANTS AND THEN POLICE JOIN IN THE FUN

Lyle Stevens, 6546 South Park way, a laundry truck driver, was robbed of his trousers and $18 in a hallway at 3206 South Wabash avenue yesterday by two colored men.

Pantless, his shirttails streaming in the air, Stevens ran to a nearby store and telephoned police. Policemen Bernard Kennedy, Benjamin Rossner, and John McGarvey responded.

Seeing two colored men disappear into an alley, they pursued them. The men ran into a rear door of a house at 3230 South Wabash avenue and out the front door.

As one climbed a fence, Policeman Rossner shot him in the left arm. That ended the chase. At the detective bureau, where the prisoners were taken after the wounded man, William Rouse, 45 years old, of 3230 South Wabash avenue, was treated, the laundry driver viewed them. They were not the men who had robbed him, he said.

"What were you fellows running for?" Policeman Rossner asked.

"We had a pint of moonshine we didn't want you to get," replied the unwounded man, Joseph Robbins, 26 years old, 56 East 31st street.

REJECT 40 HOUR WEEK IN TEXTILE TRADE AT GENEVA

GENEVA, June 18.—(AP)—The International Labor conference rejected immediate acceptance of the 40 hour week in the textile industries by a vote of 42 to 54 today. The vote means the project must be considered in 1937.

The conference accepted the 40 hour week for public works and for building and civil engineering in a first reading of the proposals.

However, passage in second reading is doubtful since at that time a two-thirds majority is required. The votes today on the latter proposals were 67 to 40 and 64 to 39 respectively. These majorities may be cut down on second reading.

BRITAIN PUTS AIR FORCE COMMAND ON BASIS OF WAR

Divides Fleet Into Four Separate Groups.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

LONDON, June 18.—Radical changes in administrative arrangements for the air defense of Great Britain were announced by the air ministry today. The object is to introduce a new organization which will enable the British air force to meet any war emergency with a maximum of efficiency.

The menacing European political situation and the growing air force of Germany are seen as contributory factors in the rearrangement of Britain's air defense.

The peace time organization, according to the air ministry's plans, is to conform as closely as possible to that which will be necessary in war time. Instead of only two air commands—the present unwieldy air defense of the Great Britain command and the coastal command—there will be four, each complete and separate in itself, but all coördinated by the air ministry. They are:

1. The bomber command which will control all bomber squadrons.

2. The fighting command, which will control the fighting squadrons, including the auxiliary air force fighters and a group of army co-operation squadrons.

3. The coastal command, which will control the flying boat squadrons and also be responsible for training the fleet air arm squadrons.

4. The training command which, with a few exceptions, will control all training units in Britain.

The new commanders-in-chief are Air Marshals Sir John Steel, Sir Hugh Dowding, Sir Arthur Longmore, Sir Charles Burnett. They will be given greater freedom from purely administrative duties in order to devote themselves to "strategical, operational and training aspects of their respective commands."

The reorganization, which follows the rapid expansion of the air force under the government's rearmament program, will be put into force next month, the air ministry announced.

PUSHES STALLED CAR IN HIGHWAY; KILLED BY TRUCK

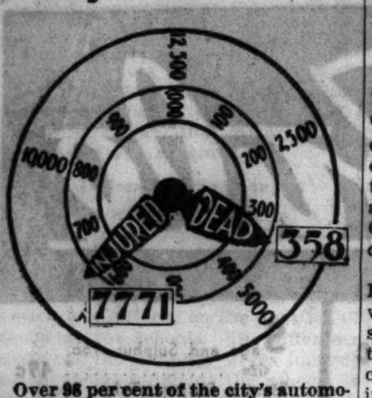
Victim's Brother Unhurt in Freak Accident.

Walter Moeller, 42 years old, 2149 North Richmond street, was crushed to death yesterday when he was struck by a truck as he pushed a stalled automobile in the Northwest highway near Euclid street, Arlington Heights. His brother, John A. Moeller, 52 years old, of Allegan, Mich., who was helping to push the car, escaped injury.

The Arlington Heights police arrested the truck driver, John Gapinski, 20 years old, 3130 North Richmond street. He said he was driving behind another car, which swerved suddenly from the line of trafic, and he did not see the Moellers until it was too late to stop.

THE MASSACRE

Chicago's 1936 Trafic Toll



Over 98 per cent of the city's automobile fatalities are of a nature physically impossible on an elevated highway.

One Killed, Policeman Hurt.

A man identified through cards in his pockets as Thomas J. Walsh, 40 years old, 5243 Washington boulevard, was killed early today when the automobile in which he was riding crashed into a center pillar of the Clark street viaduct over the Santa Fe railroad tracks at 16th street.

The driver of the car, Policeman George St. Arnaud, 39 years old, 20 South Leamington avenue, was critically injured and was taken to St. Luke's hospital. St. Arnaud is a patrol operator at the Central police station.

Two women on their way from La Grange to do their shopping in Oak Park were injured yesterday when their automobile was struck by a Chicago bound Illinois Central freight train at the Harlem avenue crossing in Berwyn.

Mrs. Prudence Eggert, 27 years old, driver of the automobile, received a fractured shoulder, and her companion, Mrs. Charlotte Spear, 32 years old, suffered fractures of both legs. The women live at 79 Bluff avenue, La Grange. They were taken to the Berwyn hospital.

Wreckage Bursts Into Flames.

Police said Mrs. Eggert apparently became confused and drove the car past electric warning signals into the path of the train. The force of the impact rolled the automobile over several times. Passersby rescued the women from the wreckage of their car only a few seconds before it burst into flames.

Police yesterday were investigating the death of Harry Smith, 43 years old, 1313 South Kedzie avenue, a truck loader, who was fatally injured Wednesday when he was run over by a hit and run truck as he was taking a sun bath in one of the driveways in the freight station of the Chicago, Milwaukee, St. Paul and Pacific railroad at Peoria street and Carroll avenue.

Delay Inquest in Police Death.

An inquest into the death of Policeman Louis Zenaty, 40 years old, 2116 North Narragansett avenue, who was killed yesterday when he drove his car into a street car on Cicero avenue near Diversey avenue, was continued until July 2.

Up to 4 p. m. yesterday 456 persons had been killed in automobile accidents in Cook county since Jan. 1. In the same period 358 were killed and 7,771 injured within Chicago.

GOV. CURLEY'S SON IS INJURED IN AUTO CRASH

Boston, Mass., June 18.—[Special.]—Paul Curley, son of the governor and a member of the graduating class at Georgetown university, was injured in an automobile accident in Roxbury today. The auto he was driving sidewiped another car and hit a pole.

Young Curley was taken to a hospital, where several stitches were made in a cut over his left eye. Afterward he was driven to the family home on Jamaica way.

GORMAN JAILS 6 MORE AUTOISTS IN SAFETY DRIVE

198 Sent to Cells Since May 4.

Six more motorists were sent to the county jail yesterday by Judge Gibson E. Gorman in the Safety court on charges of driving while intoxicated or reckless driving. Their sentences brought to 198 the number of automobile drivers jailed by Judge Gorman since he began his safety campaign on May 4.

Nathaniel Newton, 25 years old, 41 East Garfield boulevard, colored, who was wounded in the foot when he sought to flee arrest, pleaded guilty to a charge of driving while intoxicated. He was sentenced to 20 days in jail.

Blocks Fire Station.

Elmer Snyder, 35 years old, 2625 East 92d street, who drove his car into the runway of a fire station at 93d street and South Chicago avenue and went to sleep, received a ten day jail term on a charge of driving while intoxicated.

Others drivers who were jailed and their sentences are:

Harold Gornson, 49 years old, 11338 Normal avenue, ten days for driving while intoxicated.

Leo Mucha, 23 years old, 5222 South Lotus avenue, five days for reckless driving.

Charles McKenna, 45 years old, 8816 South Aberdeen street, a WPA workman, five days for reckless driving.

Oliver Holland, 22 years old, 5633 Calumet avenue, colored, ten days for driving while intoxicated.

Driver Freed by Jury.

Ralph Knudson, 27 years old, 5211 Kimbark avenue, an accountant, who demanded a jury trial on a charge of driving while intoxicated, was acquitted yesterday before Judge Charles S. Dougherty in the jury branch of the Municipal court.

Knudson's car struck a dairy truck on April 19 at Clark street and Irving Park boulevard. Grant Curtiss, 2022 Foster avenue, the truck driver, at the time refused to sign a complaint, but later did so after Gordon Wanzer, vice president of the dairy company, had been summoned into court.

Attorneys for Knudson argued their client was not intoxicated, and submitted photographs to support their contention that holes in the street were responsible for the accident.

Sentenced in Boys' Court.

In Boys' court Judge J. M. Braude sentenced Carl Johanson, 18 years old, 2633 Homer street, to five days in the Bridewell for reckless driving.

Ralph Burch, 17 years old, 17 East Division street, a former student at the Lake Forest academy, was among nine young men arrested for speeding who were instructed by Judge Frank M. Padden in Trafic court to make small contributions to the social service department of the Municipal court. The funds are used to provide car fare and aid to the needy.

Mayor to Speak

Plans for an outdoor safety show to be held at the Grant park band shell on June 30 were announced yesterday by George W. Fleming, chairman of Mayor Kelly's keep Chicago safe committee. The program is to be held in coöperation with the park district.

The mayor and Robert J. Dunham, president of the park district, are to be the principal speakers. They will review the work of the safety committee and stress the importance of compulsory inspection of motor vehicles as provided by a new city ordinance. Eighteen inspection lanes will open July 1, and motorists must have their cars tested by Jan. 1, 1937.

PREDICTS FALL COMPLETION FOR SUPERHIGHWAY

Milwaukee-Chicago Link Under Way 3 Years.

BY HAL FOUST.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Springfield, Ill., June 18.—[Special.]—Robert Kingery, director of public works, this afternoon predicted that Skokie boulevard will be completed as a superhighway between Milwaukee and Chicago by next Thanksgiving. Construction has been under way for three years.

The final contracts on the Illinois portion of the improvement are to be awarded next month. They will provide for a grade separation with the Elgin, Joliet, and Eastern railroad and for a second grade separation that will span the North Shore electric and the Rock Island road.

Mr. Kingery has word from Madison that Wisconsin is ready to carry out its double two lane pavements south through Kenosha county to complete its sector of the superhighway by fall.

Outstanding Example.

When completed this automotive link between Milwaukee and Chicago will become the outstanding example of modern rural highway construction in the midwest. The total cost for the 62.4 miles from city limits to city limits will approximate $8,786,000.

Illinois is spending $5,237,000 on its 38.4 miles of four lane pavement, three bridges, seven railroad grade separations, three highway grade separations, and a system of trafic actuated lights. A wide right of way is being landscaped.

Skokie now is completed and serving a heavy trafic from Devon avenue to a point west of Fort Sheridan. Also finished two years ago, but of little present use was four miles of pavement from the E. J. & E. to the Belvidere road.

Under construction are four miles of pavement from opposite Fort Sheridan to the north limits of Lake Forest, 3.8 miles of pavement from the Belvidere road to the Desplaines river near Gurnee, a 1.5 mile job from Lake Forest to Rock Island road, and grade separations at Deer Path avenue and at the Grand avenue highway that extends from Waukegan. Contracts are to be awarded next week on railroad grade separations at Onwentsia road.

If Wisconsin is able to carry out its program of construction in Kenosha county, Milwaukee and Chicago this winter will enjoy rapid motor communication, with the urban extensions as the only weak links in the trafic facilities. In Chicago, at least, engineers see in elevated highways the only means of correcting this weakness.

CASH MISSING; SEEK WATCHMAN.

Samuel Brown, 45 years old, colored, night watchman for the Chicago Coal company, 2217 South Ashland avenue, was sought by the police yesterday for questioning about the disappearance of $150 from the office of the company.

YOUTH RETURNED TO FACE DOUBLE MURDER CHARGE

Chief of Police Otto Stumpf of East Chicago returned yesterday from Alexandria, La., with John Halas, 20 years old, who was arrested there on a charge of participating in the murder of two East Chicago policemen in 1934.

Chief Stumpf said Halas admitted driving the automobile used by the killers, but contended the shooting was done by a companion who later was killed while riding on a freight train in the west.

Police planned to take Halas to the old Gary macadam road to reënact his version of the killing of Policemen Martin O'Brien and Lloyd Mulvihill. According to Halas' story, his companion fired on the policemen because he thought they were robbers.

TAKE 10 MILLION SNAPS A SECOND IN NEW CAMERA

Rochester, N. Y., June 18.—(AP)—Ten million pictures a second are taken by a new motion picture camera announced today at the University of Rochester.

This speed, which is said to be about 200 times faster than anything ever attained before, can be used only for photographing light itself. The camera was exhibited to the American Association for the Advancement of Science here today. It was invented by Dr. Brian O'Brien of the department of physics.

Photographing light and finding out what it does in a few millionths of a second has become important both scientifically and industrially because light-sensitive cells or "eyes" are rapidly coming into commercial use.

FEDERAL INQUIRY STARTED IN ARK. FLOGGING CASES

Planters Are Accused of Terrorism Campaign.

authorities of Arkansas counties and by the planters. They assert there has been no evidence to support the stories of beatings and other violence. They declare that Weems, the man supposedly dead, is alive and in good health. They even deny there is a strike. The truth, probably, is somewhere between the extremes.

Union Is Disturbing Factor.

In actual truth, the Southern Tenant Farmers' union is a disturbing factor in southern [or at least in Arkansas] life. For some years this organization has been gaining membership slowly. Its organizers, vocally, demand "equal rights for all" and are consistent in that they extend membership to both white and colored men on the same basis.

Nor is any distinction made between the share-cropper, who contracts with a landowner to raise cotton, the owner's land being weighed against the tenant's labor, and the simple day laborer, hoeing cotton at what he can get for what he does.

The introduction of this levelling of the races has not been popular in the Arkansas cotton lands. That it has made some progress is due, apparently, to the bringing in of a new labor element from the Ozarks. This element is composed of white men who are poor and who, living in sections that have few colored residents, are without marked racial prejudices.

Dislike Fraternizing.

At first the landlords, most of whom operate on a big scale in the fertile bottomlands, looked with favor on the Ozarkers. They did not like them when it was found that the newcomers fraternized with the colored folk. But the mountain men, with a tradition of independence that made many of them Union soldiers in the civil war, were there and they did not want to leave.

They became enamored, so the planters say, of the doctrines that were being spread through the union. As a matter of fact, the Tenant Farmers' union has had much favorable propaganda in the east and north and it has irritated the planters. They look on the organization as radical and dangerous in the extreme.

When their membership grew large enough to warant this, the union heads called their strike. They have claimed that it was effective. The retort of the planters is that they have plenty of labor and that the tales of dark cruelty being spread now are inended to gain sympathy in Washington and elsewhere and to cover the failure of the walkout.

Mock Funeral Reported.

Arkansas officialdom supports this view. Gov. Futrell, after an investigation, declared that a mock funeral of a supposed flogging victim was deliberately planned by union propagandists to gain sympathy. He added that any floggings that had occurred would be handled adequately by police forces and that he intended to do nothing about such things.

Some arrests, it is true, have been made, but of union organizers or agitators and at the request of the planters. Ten of those seized were Arkansans. Sherif Curtin of Crittenden county declared he knows of no strike and certainly of no floggings.

Demand $1.50 a Day.

H. L. Mitchell of Memphis, secretary of the union, called the strike two months ago. The union demands that the planters pay the men with the hoes in the cotton fields $1.50 a day instead of the current 75 cents. Its propagandizers have been active in handing out literature and holding meetings.

It was pointed out that the Rev. Mr. Williams is a professional organizer. He was convicted of barratry in 1935 in connection with a demonstration of discontented relief workers. Last summer he was the organizer of the workers' alliance in Little Rock, Ark., being at that time connected with the Religious and Labor Foundation.

GIRL DIES AFTER FALL.

Myrtle McNeal, 7 years old, colored, 4429 Evans avenue, died in the Provident hospital last night of injuries received Sunday when she fell through a skylight while playing on the roof of a vacant store at 4427 Evans avenue.

PEDESTRIANS IN NEW YORK WILL WALK IN TUNNEL

New York, June 18.—[Special.]—New York soon may take another step toward making this city a truck drivers' paradise by putting pedestrians under the streets.

The city's march toward the underground metropolis of the future was seen today with the announcement that a pedestrian tunnel is planned under 6th avenue, between the 34th and the 42d street stations in conjunction with the subway now under construction.

Capt. William J. Pedrick, president of the Fifth Avenue association, praised the board of transportation for planning to build the passageway.

"This desirable amendment to the original plans," he said, "assures for the midtown shopping district another facility to stabilize its continued development to the end that it always will be the heart of New York's retail shopping area."

When the tunnel is completed it will be possible to walk from 42d street and 6th avenue to 32d street and to 8th avenue and 34th street, a distance of three-quarters of a mile, all underground.

Honest Boy to Get Reward from Mrs. McLaughlin II.

Donald MacKay, 13 years old, 3050 Hartzell street, Evanston, found a woman's purse yesterday on the sidewalk in State street between Madison and Washington streets. He took it to Trafic Policeman William Bresingham and showed him it contained $34 and several checks made out to the Lake Forest Garden Study club. The central police called Lake Forest police, who learned the purse had been lost by Mrs. Frederic McLaughlin II., 1090 North Edgewood road, Lake Forest. Mrs. McLaughlin asked police for the name of the finder and said she would reward him.

10 MILLION CASH FLOWS ON BONUS SPENDING WAVE

The amount of bonus cash distributed to Chicago war veterans probably will be close to 20 million dollars by tonight as the result of large deliveries of checks in exchange for bonus bonds, according to postal officials.

Postmaster Ernest J. Kruetgen said deliveries of checks yesterday brought the total distribution of this kind to $10,529,000. He estimated veterans here already had received more than $2,000,000 in checks.

Yesterday's distribution brought a further impetus to retail buying in the city. Representatives of downtown department stores reported an increased volume of buying was directly traceable to veterans' spending. They expect a further jump in business as more veterans receive cash.

One department store head reported that in addition to new purchases, many veterans are using part of their bonus money to pay up old accounts. He estimated that 20 per cent of the total amount involved went to pay off old accounts. About 40 per cent of the proceeds is being used for new purchases and the balance taken in cash by the veterans, he added.

More than half of the veterans who have received their bonus already have turned in their bonds for cashing, it was said at the postoffice. Analysis of the number of bonds presented by nearly 50,000 veterans shows that veterans are cashing an average of $443 of their bonds. The average bonus to each veteran was $535.

Arthur Christensen, 922 Townsend street, reported to police yesterday that four bonus bonds which had been stolen from him the day before had been returned. He found them in his mail box.

EDUCATION BODY ADOPTS SCHOOL PROGRAM REPORT

Minority Study Differs on Financing.

BY STANLEY ARMSTRONG.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Springfield, Ill., June 18.—[Special.]—Within a few days Gov. Horner will have for his perusal a bound copy of the Illinois educational commission's report in which he is urged to call a fifth special session of the general assembly to create a state board of education, which would have wide powers over the public schools.

The report, adopted by the commission today, urged immediate creation of the state school board to "advise and inform" the governor and the legislature on "conditions, needs, policies, and procedures" which should be followed in the conduct of the schools. Details of the report already have been published.

Three members of the commission voted "present" when the report was adopted. They are Senator Thomas P. Gunning [Rep., Princeton] and Representatives R. G. Soderstrom [Rep., Streator] and Hugh W. Cross [Rep., Jerseyville], who submitted a minority report that also will be placed before the governor.

Differs on Financing.

The minority concurred with the majority in urging a special session and the creation of the unsalaried, nonpartisan state board of education and of similar county boards of education, but differed on the question of financing the schools. The difference was that the minority urges immediate financial relief for the schools in the interim while a long term program is being developed.

The minority report disagreed with the majority's recommendation of state-wide control over use and expenditure of state aid to schools, pointing out that the assembly recently returned to county officials power and authority to care for persons on relief.

National Trend Seen.

The minority ventured the opinion that throughout the nation there is a general demand that public affairs be kept as close to the people as possible and for that reason did not approve vesting in a small group, not elected by the people, the power to control school funds for all the state.

Debating adoption of the report, Senator Gunning said that the recommendation that the state board control expenditures "is a step toward setting up a dictatorship, following precedents given the country by the New Deal in Washington."

"Yes, we've had a dictatorship of spending," added Senator James J. Barbour [Rep., Evanston], who signed the majority report, "but that is coming to an end. Soon we will have a dictatorship of saving that has had its start at Topeka, Kas."

4 SETS OF TWINS FORM AN ESCORT FOR GRADUATES

Four sets of twins, pupils of the Jennings seminary in Aurora, last night formed a colorful escort, dressed in formal evening dresses, for the five graduating seniors in the seventy-eighth convocation of the seminary. The exercises were held in the chapel of the seminary.

The twins, who are members of a Twins club in the school, include Teddy and Dotty Falinger, 16 years old, of 1749 Albion avenue, Chicago, who together occupy the office of president of the club. Marie and Ruth Steinwart, 16 years old, of Aurora, serve as vice presidents. Betty and Peggy Weiss, 15 years old, of 544 Keystone avenue, River Forest, are twin secretaries, and Jane and Mariann Irvine of Lemont form a combination as treasurer.

Bishop Ernest Lynn Waldorf of the Methodist Episcopal church in Chicago delivered the commencement address. Mrs. Mina Malek, president of the seminary, distributed the diplomas.

HUSBAND TURNS BIGAMOUS WIFE OVER TO POLICE

Mrs. Helen Wylie Ranney, 22 years old, 4700 North Racine avenue, mother of two children, was surrendered to the Town Hall police yesterday by her husband, Hudson, 26 years old, a cook, who charged that she had married him bigamously last Dec. 5.

To Lieut. R. A. Goudie Mrs. Ranney admitted that she had wed Ranney without first divorcing Kermit Dale Wylie of Virden, Ill., a coal miner, to whom she was married in February, 1927, when she was 14 years old. Her children by the first marriage, Dorothy, 6 years old, and Jerry, 4, were turned over to the juvenile authorities.

2 CHICAGO BOYS DROWN IN CREEK IN STATE PARK

John Youngman, 12 years old, and his brother, Robert, 10, of 9334 South Ada street, were drowned yesterday at the White Pines state park near Polo, in Ogle county. They were the sons of Mr. and Mrs. R. T. Youngman, who left them in the park Wednesday in care of their uncle, Harry O'Neill, an employé of a CCC camp in the park.

Members of the camp said the boys were wading in the creek when Robert slipped off a small dam, falling into a 12 foot hole. John went to the rescue and both disappeared under the water. The bodies were recovered several hours later by CCC workers. A rescue squad of the Dixon fire department tried unsuccessfully to revive them with an inhalator.

ENTER JUDGMENT AGAINST PASCHEN FOR INCOME TAX

A default judgment of $46,103.97 for 1929 income taxes was entered yesterday against Christian P. Paschen, former city building commissioner, who served a two year prison term for income tax evasion. The judgement was entered by Arthur J. Mellott of Washington, a member of the United States board of tax appeals, who is hearing disputed tax cases here. Claims totaling $98,780 against Paschen in income taxes for the years 1927, 1928, and 1930 were set for hearing June 27.

SENATE PASSES BILL TO INCREASE RELIEF FROM TAX

Votes Adamowski Act 27 to 11 and Adjourns.

BULLETIN.

Springfield, Ill., June 19 (Friday). —(Special.)—The Illinois senate, by a vote of 27 to 11, early today passed the Adamowski bill increasing the amount of the 3 cent state sales tax diverted to relief from the present 1 cent to 1½ cents. The bill has been passed in the house and goes now to Gov. Horner, whose legislative leaders fought its passage. When and if a companion appropriation bill is adopted and if neither of the two measures are vetoed, the amount of sales tax given monthly to relief will be increased from two to three millions. The senate then adjourned the second special session until Aug. 4. Previously it had adjourned the fourth special session sine die.

BY PERCY WOOD.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Springfield, Ill., June 19 [Friday].—[Special.]—Work ended early today for the fourth special session of the general assembly which passed permanent registration for the election board cities of Illinois, including Chicago.

Passage of a joint resolution at a post-midnight session of the senate spelled finis for the bill intended to enforce central standard as the official time of the state. This measure died on third reading on the house calendar and did not come to a vote.

The sine die adjournment also means that no question for the calling of a constitutional convention or amending the revenue article of the constitution will be placed on the ballot next fall.

Must Pass on Adamowski Bill.

The second special, or relief, session still was alive, pending action on the Adamowski-Ward bill to increase the counties' share of the three cent sales tax from one to one and one-half cents.

This measure is being backed by the Chicago members who were three shy of passage on an early roll call.

Arrival of a train from Chicago, which was hours late into Springfield, was being awaited. It was understood that two or three senators friendly to the bill, were aboard.

No apathy attended the closing meeting of the relief session in the house, an hour's debate being featured by hot shots from both factions of the Democratic party, all of which was watched complacently by the Republican bloc.

Majority Leader Benjamin S. Adamowski [Dem., Chicago] touched off the fireworks by taking the floor on a question of personal privilege and raking Director of Finance K. L. Ames of Chicago over the coals for remarks concerning Chicago officials which Adamowski interpreted as "insulting" and "the statements of a nit-wit."

Charges Chicago "Dodging."

Ames was quoted as saying that Chicago officials were trying to dodge "their rightful and legal relief responsibilities." He also charged that the state of Illinois is feeding and clothing Chicago's needy, while the WPA paved Chicago's streets and improved its parks, and the state furnished money for old age pensions and funds from the motor fuel taxes to pay the salaries of school teachers.

Ames, Adamowski said, had "insulted the intelligence of every member of the house and senate, and is closing his eyes to the relief situation as it will exist after July 1." On that date local communities are scheduled to take over relief administration and financing, aided by shares of the sales tax. The Hickman-Lantz-Finn bills apply a 30 cent tax on each $100 of assessed valuation which, even with the sales tax share, the Chicago Democrats say will be far from sufficient to meet the city's relief needs.

Hits Horner's Train "Hiding."

"Yesterday," Adamowski told the house, "the governor of Illinois played cards on a train while a committee of Chicago aldermen rested their feet outside his door. They were trying to tell him of Chicago's necessities. The 30 cent Hickman-Lantz-Finn tax will yield Cook county about $500,000 monthly; the sales tax will bring in about $1,200,000 more, and this will leave us short by about a million and a half.

"Mr. Ames and the governor last night stopped in the senate the house bill which would increase the counties' share of the sales tax from 1 to 1½ per cent. If something isn't done within a few days, they will be regretting this action.

"I have been advised that Ames would no longer be head of the finance department because of his former Republicanism. Now I suppose that he feels that by making statements against Chicago, he can remain.

Recalls Fiasco of Tokens.

"I recall that Ames flung away $50,000 of the taxpayers' money through his sales tax tokens, not one of which is in use today. Ames takes orders from the house of representatives; he has no right to criticize a program or policy passed by this house. I resent it and he had better check on his figures or we will be taking not only 1½ per cent of his sales tax but 2 or 2½ per cent.

"On behalf of the Chicago members on my side of the house we'll raise the 30 cent tax, but that's as far as we can push the people of Chicago."

A little later Adamowski moved to strike the enacting clause in the first of a series of bills backed by the administration to install county taxing units and which were killed last month in the house.

Untrue, Says Horner.

Gov. Horner termed Adamowski's statement that Ames had been asked to resign as "absolutely untrue. I never even discussed the question with Mr. Ames," he added. "The statement is like most of those made by that member of the legislature in his tirades and is entirely unwarranted.

"I am astonished that neither Chicago nor Cook county has taken steps or asked legislation to enable them to meet their relief responsibilities. The thing that would have helped them most to meet their responsibilities [the county tax bills] was defeated on the motion of Adamowski to strike out the enacting clause.

"I assume that was done at the orders of the powers that assume to talk for Chicago and Cook county."

Downstate Backs Governor.

At Adamowski's motion, F. W. Lewis [Dem., Robinson], Gov. Horner's downstate house leader, defended the administration and declared that while the house had just listened to "a tirade depicting Chicago as doing everything it could to help itself," actually "Chicago has done everything it could to defeat legislation by which it could help itself."

"Chicago," Representative Lewis charged, "did everything possible to defeat the Hickman-Lantz-Finn bills and the same group is now trying to defeat this series. Yesterday, the greatest governor that Illinois ever has had refused to talk to some gentlemen who came here not to help themselves but to force Illinois to disgorge money."

This shot referred to the attempt of Ald. J. M. Arvey, James B. Bowler and others to win the governor's support to a plan to give counties 2 cents of the 3 cent sales tax.

"If these gentlemen," Lewis continued, "had wanted to talk over a method to help themselves they would have had a willing listener, but they always want more of the sales tax. We can't buy our peace by bankrupting the state."

Nicholas L. Hubbard [Dem., Mount Pulaski] spoke in the same vein and read figures attempting to show that Cook county, from 1928 to 1933, collected an average of a little more than half its personal property taxes.

Adamowski's motion prevailed in the end, however, and the county taxing series was tabled 64 to 11.

ROOSEVELT REFUSES CLEMENCY TO GOOCH; KIDNAPER WILL HANG

Washington, D. C., June 18.—(AP)—President Roosevelt again refused tonight to commute to life imprisonment the death sentence of Arthur Gooch, Oklahoma kidnaper. Gooch is scheduled to hang at 5 a. m. tomorrow in the Oklahoma state penitentiary at McAllister.

Gooch, convicted because of the kidnaping of two police officers at Paris, Tex., and the injury of one officer, is the first man to suffer the death penalty under an amendment to the Lindbergh law passed in 1934 and designed to protect police officers.

RECEIVER PAYS BILL; TENANTS' WATER ON AGAIN

Water service for the building at 1316 Van Buren street was restored by city officials yesterday after Joseph Rausch, 188 West Randolph street, one of the receivers for the building, paid a delinquent water bill of $87.50. The water was shut off Tuesday for nonpayment of the bill, but it was surreptitiously turned on again a day later, in violation of a city ordinance. Five families live in the building.

Oscar Hewitt, city commissioner of public works, said that water to other buildings operated by receivers will be shut off if they do not pay up back bills at once.

"I'm having the water bureau prepare a list of such receivers," he said. "The tenants pay for the water when they pay rent, but the receivers fail to pass the money on to the city. They'll do it, and right away, or get no water to their buildings."

Chicagoans View Brilliant Northern Lights Display

Many Chicagoans witnessed a brilliant display of the northern lights, or aurora borealis, late last night and early today. The phenomenon appeared before midnight and continued until 3 p. m. Observers described it as resembling a wavy curtain of light hanging in the sky to the northeast.

CONSTIPATION* MAY BE MORE SERIOUS THAN YOU THINK

It Causes Discomfort, May Even Lead to Disease

Constipation* is not a condition to be treated lightly. Continued neglect of regular habits of elimination tend to lower your resistance. Then there is the actual discomfort. For constipation* is one cause of headaches, poor appetite, listlessness.

Common constipation usually develops when you eat meals that lack sufficient "bulk." Your system fails to get needed internal exercise. Fortunately, today, you have a generous source of effective "bulk" in Kellogg's ALL-BRAN.

Within the body, the "bulk" in ALL-BRAN absorbs moisture and forms a soft mass, which gently cleanses the system. This natural laxative also supplies vitamin B and contains iron.

Serve ALL-BRAN as a cereal, with milk or cream, or cook into muffins, breads, etc. Two tablespoonfuls daily are usually sufficient. Stubborn cases may require ALL-BRAN oftener. If not relieved this way, consult your doctor.

ALL-BRAN is guaranteed by the Kellogg Company as an effective laxative food for constipation.* Sold by all grocers. Made by Kellogg in Battle Creek.

SOAP CHIPS

Thousands of women have proved that American Family Flakes save time, save work, save clothes ... and thus save money

ARE you perhaps being penny-wise and pound-foolish about the soap chips you buy? If so, this advertisement may be the means of saving a considerable amount of money for you.

Cheap soaps usually make skimpy suds that simply won't get clothes clean unless you rub and rub. And it is this constant rubbing which wears out clothes—actually robs you of months of service you have every right to expect.

And the use of cheap soap chips is such a needless risk, with American Family Flakes at your command. Just read what these superb flakes do:

First, American Family Flakes' "double suds" float out grimiest dirt—without hard rubbing.

Second, American Family Flakes provide fastest washing with utmost safety to clothes because they depend on rich "double suds" instead of harmful chemicals.

Third, American Family Flakes leave the wash fresh and clean—with colored fabrics bright—and linens and white goods spotlessly white.

For ninety years American Family has demonstrated that it saves time, saves work and, most important, SAVES CLOTHES. That is why more Chicago women use American Family than any other brand. You really can't afford to use cheap, harsh soaps that wear out clothes all too soon, and which require more soap to do the job. Try American Family Flakes your next wash-day—and note the amazing difference.

And for dishwashing, you'll find American Family Flakes unexcelled—and as good for your hands as the finest toilet soap.

CITY WILL TAKE OVER SETUP OF IERC ON JULY 1

But Cash for Relief Is Not in Sight, Says Kelly.

While maintaining that Chicago has no means of financing the $3,000,000 monthly relief requirements for which it will be primarily responsible after July 1, Mayor Kelly announced yesterday that on that date the city will take over the present staf and offices of the Illinois Emergency Relief commission to administer whatever aid can be given the needy.

A special meeting of the city council will be held this morning "for the purpose of discussing and taking necessary action to carry on relief in accordance with state mandates and law." However, the council cannot pass the proposed tax on property for relief purposes at today's session. This tax, of 30 cents on each $100 of valuation, according to law must be levied after July 1 and before Oct. 1 in order for the city to receive its share of the state sales tax for relief.

Lyons to Head Setup.

Refusal of the state legislature to pass a bill which would allow the city to delegate its new administrative duties to the Cook county bureau of public welfare led to the decision to use the present IERC machinery, Mayor Kelly said. Leo M. Lyons, executive secretary of the IERC, also director of relief in Cook county, will head the setup, said the mayor.

How the city will pay the administrative expense, which will be about $300,000 a month, city officials said they did not know. Recent legislation forbids payment of this expense from the city's share of the state sales tax, estimated at $1,200,000 a month.

Council Is Stumped.

"Although we are forced to go ahead and arrange for the administration of relief, we are still short about $1,400,000 a month of the money needed and no action of the city council can raise these funds," said Ald. J. M. Arvey [24th], chairman of the relief subcommittee of the council.

"It is still up to the legislature to take action. The property tax would be inadequate and I don't see how property owners could pay it anyway."

If the city levies the property tax on July 1, it then would have to borrow money to finance relief until tax warants could be sold. This takes about eleven days, according to city officials. The property tax would produce only $400,000 a month, which with the $1,200,000 from the sales tax would still leave a monthly shortage of $1,400,000.

Mayor Kelly declared the state must in all fairness aid Chicago in the relief crisis. The city would be willing and able to shoulder the burden, he said, if it could get the sales tax revenue of at least $3,600,000 a month which is paid to the state by Chicago merchants.

Shortage Keeps Jurymen on Run Between Courts

Judges of the Circuit and Superior courts complained yesterday about a shortage of jurors. Veniremen were so scarce that as soon as one was excused from service in one court he was rushed to another court.

DISCLOSE WILL LEFT BY SULTAN OF SULU; MAY FIX SUCCESSION

MANILA, P. I., June 18.—(AP)—A dead sultan's will may provide the answer to the controversial problem of selecting a new ruler for 500,000 Moros living on the southern Philippine Islands.

Dispatches from Maimbung, Jolo Island, in the heart of Moroland, disclosed today that the late sultan of Sulu, Jamalu'l Kiram, left a will which is to be read next week, and Moro chieftains [Datus] may choose their new spiritual ruler on their dead leader's recommendation.

The field of candidates for the sultantate, which was stripped of all but spiritual authority by the United States government, has narrowed to two candidates. They are Princess Dayang Piandao, acting sultana, and Rajah Muda, only surviving brother of the deceased ruler.

OLD AGE PENSION BILL IS PASSED; UP TO GOVERNOR

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Springfield, Ill., June 19 [Friday].—[Special.]—Illinois' old folk, those 65 years of age and over and otherwise eligible, were assured a maximum of $30 a month pension when the senate early today adopted an amendment to the state old age assistance act. Gov. Henry Horner had said this action would let down barriers to the federal treasury permitting the federal government to match state payments of $15 a month.

This amendment, plus one adopted a few weeks ago, revises the Illinois act in a manner that the governor told the general assembly the federal social security board in Washington had demanded as a condition precedent to releasing federal money. The amendment has passed the house, and in a session that began at 12:05 a. m. went through the senate by a vote of 42 to 0. The number of Republicans voting for it was 10.

Republicans Insure Passage.

The governor is expected to sign this amendment as he did the other. Republican senators made passage possible, according to the roll call, with the blank votes they gave the bill. In caucus they had decided that although in the past they had fought New Dealism dictates they did not want a negative vote for a principle to deprive the aged from a return of federal money poured into Washington by Illinois taxpayers.

This amendment is one that especially irks downstaters. It removes from the act the provision that employés under the act must have been residents for five years of the county in which they are to be employed. Downstaters, accustomed by superior legislative numbers to force their will on Chicago, had put this provision in the bill originally for the announced purpose of keeping out of their counties professional social service workers from Chicago and from outside the state.

The amendment adopted a few weeks ago assured Washington that if the state got any money back from the estate of a deceased recipient of Old Age Assistance the federal government would get its share promptly.

Aided by Senate Maneuver.

Adoption of the amendment was aided by a senate maneuver that permits members, with the unanimous consent of the chamber, to leave their votes. Not present and voting in absentia by this method were Harry C. Stuttle [Dem., Litchfield] and Oral P. Tuttle [Rep., Harrisburg].

"Do our senatorial duties rest so lightly upon us that we can't stay here twelve hours to pass this legislation for the aged?" queried Lieut. Gov. Thomas F. Donovan, senate presiding officer, at one time during the debate in the afternoon that preceded the decision that a midnight session should be held to pass the amendments.

After deciding on a midnight session, the senators adopted a grist of minor bills. Many of these were measures that already have been passed in the house and now go to Gov. Horner for approval.

Raises Committeemen's Terms.

Among them was one introduced by Representative Frank E. Foster [Rep., Harvey] increasing the terms of township committeemen in the townships in Cook county outside Chicago from two to four years. The longer terms would start with the election of committeemen in 1938.

Chicago ward committeemen now are elected to four year terms.

Senator Harold G. Ward [Dem., Chicago], spokesman in the senate for Mayor Kelly, again called up his bills providing for a state-wide system for permanent election registration in the place of the system recently voted for Chicago and nine other cities with election boards. He was voted down, 15 to 2.

Late last night the senate passed two bills for Chicago, permitting the city to issue twenty year bonds to take up judgments without a referendum. The bills are considered vitally important to the city, and Joseph F. Grossman, Chicago's first assistant corporation counsel, was here today to ask the governor to sign them.

A TYRANNY BILL.

A system of government which seeks more power where it should have little may be observed in growth in a bill quietly passed through the house of representatives and sent over to the senate.

Most people would agree that the most flagrant invasions of privileges, rights, and immunities of American citizenship in the last few years have been committed by various investigating committees which paid no attention to the legal, personal, or political rights of persons called to give testimony, usually designed to be twisted against themselves.

Senator Hugo Black and Senator Gerald Nye, as well as others, made peculiar reputations for themselves which may endure a long time as revealing what men should not do with usurped power to discredit and harass a supposedly free people. The congressional inquisitors are so little impressed by the evil of their conduct and so little repentant of their misdeeds that they would extend their power and make a bad thing worse.

The bill which was slipped through the house provides that even when congress is not in session an investigating committee may turn a reluctant or recalcitrant witness, or one trying to stand on his rights, over to the district attorney, not only of the District of Columbia but of any district in the country, to be indicted by a federal grand jury.

The present statute, which has led to a great abuse of authority, limits such action to the District of Columbia and congress must be in session at the time. Under the new bill any roving bunch of congressional inquisitors in any district could certify to the local prosecutor in the federal courts that a man was refusing to give what was demanded and proceedings could be started against him.

There must be men in the United States senate who agree with citizens throughout the country that these methods of conducting inquiries are suggestive of nothing other than medieval inquisitions and the secret police of dictatorship operating in the most terrifying fashion. The assumption upon which congress authorizes inquiries into matters of public concern is that it must enlighten itself in order to pass wise legislation. The congressmen must be informed if they are to make laws which will be good for the country. The truth is that congress wants the powers of secret police, grand juries, and prosecutors. This authority is used not to obtain information for legislation but to intimidate persons of opposing political conviction and citizens who seek legitimately to protect their own interests when threatened by some destructive legislative proposal. The privilege of gathering information is distorted into the license to beat down freedom of opinion and speech by threatening to discredit in the public eye any one who takes a stand against any measure or policy proposed.

BABES IN THE WOOD.

The administration's Pacific northwest regional planning commission has completed its preliminary report. Among other things it has found that the "long distance to heavy consuming markets and consequent high costs of transportation have been factors limiting the development of the Pacific northwest and restricting the volume of its products." As a consequence, transportation studies occupy a prominent place in the summary of recommendations. A review of the more interesting features will show that burocracy itself balked when placed face to face with regulatory measures that it has meted out to industry.

"Cargo or mass movements" of commodities adaptable to it are to be studied. Had the authors of the report been conversant with the decisions of the interstate commerce commission they would have known that the administration of present law frowns on trainload rates or mass transportation.

"The extended use of portable containers" is to form an important link in the new scheme of development. The framers of the plan have overlooked the fact that the interstate commerce commission has found the use of these contrivances prejudicial to other buyers of railway service. It has surrounded container rates with so many restrictions as to destroy promised economies. Such "container" cars as the railways had built were reduced to the status of white elephants.

"Elimination of useless parallel routes" is to be the watchword. The mandates of congress and the several states have always emphasized that competition must be preserved. Duplication of service on parallel routes is the political theory of competition.

"The elimination of any practices that will obstruct the way to lower cost" closes the list of recommendations. If given proper effect, this would annul the great bulk of transportation legislation. Obstruction and regulation are first cousins, if not the twin children, of czarism.

To brief the entire report, burocracy has found through other channels that industry requires flexible and modern transportation. These attributes have been impossible under the present "pick and shovel" brand of government control devised in 1887. It has been discovered that no nation-wide transportation policy is possible if such policy will impose standard rules and regulations on the entire country. Freezing rates and practices also paralyze progress.

POWER.

The first of THE TRIBUNE's horse and mule pulling contests, held a year ago, attracted a record breaking number of entries. This year's contest, to be held on Saturday at the experimental farm at Wheaton, has an even longer list of contestants. Forty-one teams will compete for the prizes.

Last year more than 8,000 spectators turned out to see what it was all about. A good many of them were farmers and horsemen, but the crowd included a substantial number of city people. Many of them half expected to be bored. Some came because it was announced that as an added feature an elephant would give a demonstration of his pulling ability.

The elephant was something of a flop but the horses weren't. This year there will be no elephant and nobody who went last year will be disappointed. The horses themselves provide all the sport that any one can want.

They present a handsome sight when they are merely standing at ease, awaiting their turns at the testing machine. When they go into action they are superb. They are huge animals, but they are as spirited in their way as thoroughbreds. When they pull they are on fire. The great muscles of the legs and back leap and strain. It is a show which not many people have seen, but those who have are not likely to forget it.

FREE PRESS IN THE HIGH COURTS.

Another high court has put its shield before the people's right to a free press. Nothing is more encouraging in the struggle for the preservation of American liberties than this and other decisions of our highest tribunals in defense of free press. Lower courts have too frequently failed to see the significance of attacks upon this liberty. The highest courts have not. An exception was the Supreme court of Minnesota in upholding the press gag law of that state. But happily that was an exception that proved the rule.

In the Michigan case the filings in a lawsuit had been ordered by a trial court closed to the public. The Detroit Times procured the facts from another source and published them. Its managers were held in contempt, but an appeal to the Michigan Supreme court reversed this finding, holding that while a court had control over its records and the publicity thereof until service of process or judicial action, this power cannot be extended to curtailment of free speech or of the press upon information apart from the records suppressed.

A contrary rule would be a serious restriction of the press' duty to inform the public. The Supreme court foresaw the possibilities of such a rule and upheld the full force and scope of the constitutional guaranty of free press which is the right of the people to know what is going on in their public affairs. The citizens of Michigan are to be congratulated upon the quality of constitutional interpretation in their highest court. The decision indicates reassuringly that their Supreme court is a watchful guardian of their fundamental rights and its influence passed beyond the bounds of the state to strengthen the defense of constitutional rights throughout the nation.

THE CUBS ARE UP AND AT 'EM.

Mr. Grimm's young men of the Chicago Cubs until two weeks ago were having a spell of indifferent behavior in practicing their profession. Some of their less ardent supporters were beginning to wonder if the young men knew what their profession was or if they had not been misguided in thinking that it contained a career for them. The less ardent supporters of a ball club quickly sour on misfortune.

More hopeful partisans blamed the slapping down of their favorites on the unseasonable weather or something the young men had eaten. It was admittedly unpleasant to see champions on the ropes so much of the time with all manner of ball clubs tossing them there. The Cubs have rallied. With their system full of rough treatment they have turned upon the oppressors and at this writing have won thirteen straight. If Mr. Grimm loses today the blame can be laid upon this puff. Puffing precedeth a fall.

A ball club chasing a pennant is a gratifying thing. It causes the fellow citizens to rejoice. It fills even the suburbs with the sound of the loud speaker in midafternoon. A team pounding on the cellar door and asking to be let out stirs no emotions, not even of sympathy. This is unfair because some one must be in the basement if there is to be a league and the last place fellows are excellent craftsmen, competent and active, although it is said that defeat is a poison which destroys the will.

WINSTON CHURCHILL'S WARNING.

[Illinois State Journal.]

Winston Churchill, former British chancellor of the exchequer, writing in Collier's, sounds a warning against what he refers to as this country's "unwaranted dissatisfaction with the capitalist system."

Wealth and credit Churchill describes as draft horses of the social order, and he says they should be required to "pull the national coach up the unending hill." Then he adds:

"But beware you do not starve, maltreat or injure these invaluable animals, for without their aid we should all slide back rapidly into the morasses of barbarism."

While this warning is addressed to Americans, it is conceivable that the famous statesman has in mind the situation in his own country. Its government has been belaboring wealth and credit without mercy, and the effects are showing on the tired beasts.

Though Landon gives every assurance of the stability of the present government and the continuation of its democratic form, it is known that the seeds of dictatorship now fruiting on the continent are taking root in British soil. An indication that all is not well is found in this paragraph of a letter from that city:

"In these days, when a member of the British cabinet pats another on the back, no one knows whether it's a friendly gesture or whether he is just feeling for a place to put his knife."

A LINE O' TYPE OR TWO

How to the Line, let the quips fall where they may. Reg. U.S. Pat. Office

NOT LONG AGO the duststorms were burying farmhouses and crops out west. Now the grasshoppers have taken the place of the dust. It does seem that in this machine age the inventors could do something about the grasshopper. They invent machines that will do the work of two hundred or three hundred men and they don't seem to be able to do a thing about the grasshopper or the duststorms. Whenever man thinks he is about the most wonderful being on the planet along comes a duststorm or a little trifling, silly thing like a grasshopper to make him feel that after all he's got a long way to go yet.

THERE'S A TOTAL ECLIPSE of the sun today, but we needn't get excited over it. It's going to happen over in the northern part of Japan, where the Hairy Ainus live. Think of the sun putting on a big show like an eclipse to an audience of Hairy Ainus. A Hairy Ainu is a primitive Japanese dressed mostly in long whiskers. They will probably use their whiskers instead of smoked glass through which to view the eclipse. But if the New Deal was as smart as it claims to be it would have the eclipse in the U. S. A., where the common people could see it.

THE ETERNAL IN THE EPHEMERAL.

How frail the beauty made by grass,—
May is gone and June will pass;
How infirm is all loveliness
Dancing in a summer dress.

Whether for woman or fragrant flower
All beauty is for the hurried hour,
And all the loveliness we see
Has been and again shall be.

In cycles return the beautiful things,
Seemingly endless like golden rings,
But even cycles run to rust
And man to immemorial dust.

Yet the lamp of life forever burns
And vanished beauty always returns;—
All that fades will rebloom,—
Life weaves on an endless loom.

AND NOW WE HAVE A "Chicago Beautiful" stamp, which is a sticker you are supposed to put on the letters you send out of town. Which reminds me of the stickers Chicago motorists used to put on their back windows, "I'm from Chicago and Proud of It." HOPELESS.

A poet is impractical
He will not toil for gold;
But to this pensive prodigal
What worlds of dream unfold!

A dinner he will gladly miss
If spring is in the air;

If only June is fair.

O pity not the mooning bard
Who wantons through the days;
Though men be stern and life be hard,
He will not change his ways.

THE STREAMLINED TRAINS come through from California now in nineteen hours' less time than they used to take. Yes, but you have to carry your dog up in the baggage car, where the baggagemen are liable to feed him chicken bones, and you can't stop in a lovely woodland glade and have a glass of milk and a piece of lemon pie. Which brings us to the point that there is no great gain without some loss.

YET ANOTHER SONNET.

(For Mary Anne Flanagan.)

Dear lass, the world—as some one featly said
(Wordsworth, methinks—you know, old William would!)
Is too much with us; hark ye, gentle maid:
Let not my tender be misunderstood.

Put not upon my blushless, upright yen
Such stuff as smug Polonius on Ophelia
Put, to knock off Hamletian men
And such—I do not skulk with thought to steal yuh!

Mais non! But fain with thee the woods I'd stalk,
Bask in the bosky dells and verdant bowers,
Go rustically for a lengthy walk
And list thee, fascinated, child, for hours—

For by th' Olympian deities who heaven jiggle,
Thou'rt one girl who can talk . . . and never giggle!

WHAT WE EAT AND WHY.

[Part III.]

IN the first two articles of this series a few simple facts relative to proteins, carbohydrates, minerals, and water were set forth. Naturally the subject cannot be covered comprehensively, but a casual reading will, we hope, prove informative.

What about fats? They are important, as they yield twice as many calories per unit weight as carbohydrates or proteins. The most desirable type is that which melts at body temperature. We must recall that fats cannot be taken except in the presence of sufficient carbohydrates, as their digestion otherwise may give rise to acidosis. There is a true saying that you build the digestive fire with carbohydrates, burning your fats thereby. Butter and cream are our most available forms, but they constitute expensive food staples.

A common but erroneous impression is that fatty foods are indigestible. They leave the stomach slowly and in many instances are responsible for the sensation of comfort and well-being which follows a balanced meal. Every normal diet should contain—in each 24 hours—at least 1½ ounces of fat.

The Greek physician Hippocrates hinted at the fact that there was a specific nutritive substance quite apart from foods. Perhaps it was contained in certain foods but it might be absent in others. On long sea voyages epidemic scurvy took a terrific death toll. It made no difference how well the ship was supplied with food. The thin, emaciated, bleeding victims, teeth dropping from their jaws, presented a pitiable picture. Then came a doughty old sea captain who forced his men to drink lemon juice, while another compelled them to eat boiled greens. In none of their crews did scurvy develop, or, if it did, lemon juice or greens cured it. It took two centuries for the surgeon generals of the British navy to realize that lemon juice would prevent scurvy. Thus we have the appellation "limey," designating the English sailor. In the Japanese navy in the latter half of the nineteenth century superior grades of rice were served the sailors and great was the consternation of the naval authorities to discover among their men many cases of beriberi, some of which resulted in paralysis and death.

Then came the discovery of those unique substances without name, later called vitamins. We now know that every balanced diet must contain all the needed vitamins, although the quantities required are exceedingly small.

In order to differentiate vitamins they have been labeled with letters and there are several of them, each having its special function in aiding nutrition. A is found in fats, milk, egg yolk, and green vegetables; B in yeast, cereals, eggs, etc.; C in fresh fruits, vegetables, and milk; D in butter, cod liver oil, etc., and E in nearly all of our ordinary foods.

Without A we would develop sore eyes and become easy prey to infections. B promotes appetite and protects against beriberi; another type of B opposes the onset of pellagra. Scurvy follows a deficiency of vitamin C. Without D children become rickety and the normal growth of bones and of teeth is interfered with. E is needed for reproduction. Although most of these vitamins are now available in concentrated form, how much better it is to take them in foods than out of a bottle. We should not fail to receive all we need in the three or four meals of the average American home.

Just how much shall we eat? We have stated often that the average adult not engaged in active exercise will not require more than 2,500 calories in each 24 hours, and those doing hard manual labor will require but 3,500. Nevertheless, the diets of most of us if accurately calculated would show an excess food consumption.

All this goes to show that the healthy individual need give but passing attention to what he eats. We may all profit in possessing some information about foods, but it is well to recall that more digestive difficulties arise from hurried, irregular meals than from any other cause. Stick to a menu that suits you; if an adult, one that maintains weight and strength, but consume your food leisurely in as pleasant surroundings as can be secured.

DIFFERENT DISEASES.

C. L. J. writes: If gonorrhea is still active in a woman during pregnancy, will the child be affected or deformed? Is this the same as syphilis?

REPLY.

Probably not. It is important, however, to protect the infant's eyes from the infection by using a suitable germicide such as a weak solution of silver nitrate. Most physicians employ this method routinely. Syphilis is the great killer of unborn babes. Gonorrhea and syphilis are different diseases.

RINGWORM.

F. G. writes: What causes ringworm to appear on the face? Some say it is because of close shaving.

REPLY.

Ringworm is a local, infectious disease of the skin produced by a plant parasite. Close shaving cannot cause it, although a freshly irritated skin may provide a favorable site for the growth of the fungus. Ringworm that involves the beard can be relieved best by X-rays. Certain drugs are helpful, such as iodine, ammoniated mercury, or tar ointment.

CIRRHOSIS.

W. K. writes: Some time ago a friend died of cirrhosis of the liver. He was healthy and vigorous. However, he was a heavy drinker of hard liquor. Do you think drinking was the chief factor in his death? He was in his late fifties.

REPLY.

Yes. Although there are other causes, the persistent use of alcohol is the chief factor in cirrhosis of the liver.

STUTTERING.

Mrs. J. Y. writes: Can you tell me a cure for stuttering or how to slow it down?

REPLY.

Stuttering is a symptom of nervous instability. Training in poise and self-confidence is the cure. There are many methods and we will be glad to recommend a book on the subject which will aid you if you will write, sending stamped, addressed envelope for reply.

DEPENDS ON TYPE.

C. J. writes: Would an operation of any kind be harmful to a person with anemia?

REPLY.

It all depends upon the type and severity of the anemia. A blood transfusion prior to an operation is of great value.

DAY BY DAY IN THE MAKING OF THE CONSTITUTION

BY JAMES MADISON.

[Father of the Constitution and Fourth President of the United States.]

Mr. Madison Defends the Virginia Plan.

Philadelphia, Pa., June 19, 1787.—In committee of the whole on the Virginia and New Jersey plans. Mr. Madison of Virginia, proceeding to the consideration of Mr. Patterson's [the New Jersey] plan, stated the object of a proper plant to be twofold—to preserve the Union; to provide a government that will remedy the evils felt by the states both in their united and their individual capacities. Will it [Mr. Patterson's plan] prevent these violations of the law of nations and of treaties which, if not prevented, must involve us in the calamities of foreign wars? The tendency of the states to these violations has been manifest in sundry instances. The files of congress contain complaints already from almost every nation with which treaties have been formed. Heretofore we have been indulged.

Will it prevent encroachments on the federal authority? A tendency has been sufficiently exemplified. States have entered into treaties and wars with the Indians. Virginia and Maryland, Pennsylvania and New Jersey have entered into compacts without previous application or subsequent apology. Has not Massachusetts already raised a body of troops?

Will it prevent trespasses of the states on each other? Acts of Virginia and Maryland give a preference to their own citizens. Will it secure the internal tranquility of the states themselves? The insurrections in Massachusetts admonished all the states of the danger to which they were exposed. The great difficulty lies in the affair of representation, and if this could be adjusted all others would be surmountable. The expedient proposed was that all the states should be thrown into one mass and a new partition be made into thirteen equal parts. The dissimilarities existing in the rules of property as well as in the manners, habits, and prejudices of the different states amounted to a prohibition of the attempt. It had been found impossible for the most absolute prince in Europe, the king of France, aided by the most enlightened minister, Mr. Neckar, to equalize the usages and regulations of the different provinces. The prospect of many new states to the westward was another consideration. If they should come into the Union at all they would come when they contained but few inhabitants. If they should vote according to their proportion of inhabitants all would be safe.

On the question of re-reporting the Virginia plan from the committee of the whole to the convention Massachusetts, Connecticut, Pennsylvania, Virginia, North Carolina, South Carolina, and Georgia were aye; New York, New Jersey, and Delaware, no; Maryland divided.

"ONE DAY'S REST IN SEVEN."

Chicago, June 13.—[Legal Friend of the People.]—I am working in a garage and work 13½ hours a night and 6½ nights a week. Could you tell me if they still have a state law in regard to twenty-four consecutive hours off each week and what the maximum hours per night are?

D. D. N.

The 1935 act for one day's rest in seven applies to "Every employer operating any factory, mercantile establishment, transportation or public service company, restaurant, theater, or freight or passenger elevator in this state." The act excepts: 1. "Janitors. 2. Watchmen. 3. Superintendents or foremen in charge of groups of employés. 4. Employés whose duties on Sunday shall not consume more than three hours" [examples are given], and 5, employés in various listed lines depending on milk as a raw material "where not more than seven persons are engaged."

REAL ESTATE PURCHASE.

Chicago, June 13.—[Legal Friend of the People.]—I am going to buy a clear $1,500 house and lot with $600 down and $15 a month at 6 per cent interest, amounting to $21 a month, to be bought from owner. 1. Do I just need a contract or should I take a mortgage? Please advise the [2] safest way for me. 3. Is the Torrens system or trust company the best guaranty?

A. H.

1. It could be handled either way. A common procedure is to pay under contract until you are half through, at which time you receive a waranty deed and give back a mortgage for the balance.

2. Receiving the deed gives you some additional protection, particularly if you have the title examined.

3. Some persons prefer one and some the other. We see little choice so far as safety is concerned.

It is nearly always advisable for a purchaser of real estate to employ an attorney throughout, and we advise you to employ one now.

BRITISH INFLUENCE.

Racine, Wis., June 15.—Will the pro-British and peace at any price proleaguers please mention whether in the course of its fifteen years of existence the league has taken any really decisive step to eliminate the most fundamental cause of war, namely, giving the needy nations some access to basic raw materials? Is it not true that the empress of the seas [pronounce "seize"] and France, not content with grabbing a large part of the world's resources, took in more as the result of the world war, and that they with the aid of their satellite nations in the league have established a policy which enables them to keep what they have acquired and at the same time hold in a state of economic servitude such poor countries as Italy and Germany?

How cleverly, O Albion, hast thou hidden thy selfish interests behind a smoke screen of humanitarianism!

Let us check on the materialistic side of the sanctions imposed by the league [i. e. Great Britain]. Jugo-Slavia, Turkey, etc., have imposed them because of natural enmity towards Italy, Russia because she still resents the fact that the Italian Moscow-ruled communists were thwarted by Mussolini in 1922. Most of the other nations voted sanctions because they are under the thumb of Great Britain from a military, financial and economic standpoint. The empire proudly stands, or at least pretends to stand, guard over Portugal and Belgium; it holds in her pockets notes for practically all of the money owed by Greece; it controls the packing industry of Argentina, the mines of Spain, the oil wells of China; it takes almost all of the dairy produce of Denmark and Holland, etc. A cynical view, which, unfortunately, happens to be the right one.

OFF THE RESERVATION.

Appleton, Wis., June 12.—Undoubtedly the entire United States witnessed the action of the Wisconsin delegation at the Republican convention when last night 18 of the 21 Borah-pledged delegates refused to support Gov. Landon's nomination on the first ballot.

The fact that Senator Borah had released all candidates pledged to him before the first ballot was cast enabled the Wisconsin delegates to support the nomination of Landon on the first ballot. Wisconsin, however, persists in sending delegates to the national convention who are consistently out of step. They cannot resist being irregular. They might, however, have exercised good taste in their vote, and properly have joined with the other forty-seven states. Their actions remind one of the proverbial dog in the manger. I do not think that the lack of propriety there evidenced is indicative of true Republicans of Wisconsin.

W. E. WAHLMAN

EVIDENTLY THEY WON'T.

Chicago, June 8.—In today's Voice of the People the writer of a letter headed "But Would the Scots Give a Quarter?" certainly blunders amazingly. If to start with he would resent being called Welsh and his country Wales and say Kymri and Kymria [Saxon Cambria], the Scot would view him with some respect and give him a quarter, or quarter arm. Secondly, there is no English lion on the coat of arms; the "single" lion is the lion rampant of Scotland. The three lions are leopards couchant and the Normans put them there.

There is nothing "English" in the British coat of arms except the cross of St. George, if you wish to call that English in the customary acceptance of it, but it is really Saxon. The Saxons called the Kymri "Welsh" or foreigners, and the Kymri ought to despise that misnomer. Wales [Kymria] was conquered by the Normans, who used British [Britons, Saxons, Angles, Danes, and Jutes] as soldiers to fight their own kin. Wales, being conquered, had no right or claim for quartering in the Union Jack, just as Cornwall has none.

Ireland had a parliament of its own until Castlereagh and his parcel of rogues sold it to Britain. Scotland was never conquered at any time in its history. Romans, Danes, Saxons and Normans were driven out in turn or absorbed by them. The Saxons and Danes were beaten to the level of their millions of British slaves and lost their identity among the mass of Britons or Kymri.

There never was a time when the Scots held a superiority in numbers in Caledonia, but their prestige made all the Caledonians, Picts, Danes, and Kymri [of Strathclyde] wish to be classed as Scots and so sentiment brought the change of name from Caledonia to Scotland.

WHAT BECAME OF LOST HATS?

Chicago, June 16.—While riding on top of the bus on Sunday afternoon, June 14, in the vicinity of the Oak street beach, my sister and I lost our hats. The wind first blew off my sister's hat, a black felt one, and as I got up to see if it was on the floor, along came a strong whiff of wind and off went my hat, a blue straw. There must be many hats lost in that manner. I just wondered what becomes of such hats. Are they picked up by some kind hearted pedestrians or motorists and if possible returned to their owners, or are such articles just lost? It would be interesting to know.

DISCOURTESY BY TELEPHONE.

Chicago, June 12.—This letter is being written and dedicated to the thousand and one pests who persistently have their secretaries or stenographers call a number and get a party on the phone. The individual being called is busy when his phone rings and a voice says: "Mr. So and So calling." You hold on and sit and sit and finally this individual comes on and says: "Hello."

This is a very unthoughtful custom and the writer hopes that the offenders will take the hint.

LUCIANO, GOTHAM VICE LORD, GETS 30 TO 50 YEARS

9 Others Also Sentenced to Sing Sing.

New York, June 18.—[Special.]—Charles [Lucky] Luciano, convicted overlord of New York's $12,000,000 a year prostitution ring, today was sentenced to serve thirty to fifty years in Sing Sing prison by Justice Philip J. McCook.

Justice McCook called Luciano forward as the first of ten convicted defendants scheduled for sentence. No longer the sardonic, leering gangster of the recent trial, which was the setting for a parade of prostitutes and revelations of the syndicate's rule over prostitution by death threat and violence, Luciano heard sentence with a bowed head.

Three Are Squealers.

The others sentenced and the terms they received were: Dave Betillo, 25 to 40 years; Jimmy Frederico, 25 years; Ralph Lirguori, 7½ to 15 years; "Little" Abie Wahrman, 15 to 30 years; Thomas Pennochio, 25 years; Jack Ellenstein, 4 to 8 years; Pete Harris, 2 to 4 years; Dave Marcus, 3 to 6 years, and Al Weiner, 2 to 4 years.

The last three were squealers, and took the stand against their boss.

Jesse Jacobs, Benjamin Spiller, and Meyer Berkman will be sentenced July 1. Special Prosecutor Dewey moved the postponement of their sentences, presumably so that he can try to get information from them concerning other rackets.

Under the law, it is posible for Luciano to get out of prison in 20 years on parole.

Court Bristles with Guns.

Justice McCook detailed Luciano's sentence as follows:

Ten to 20 years for having placed females in houses of prostitution, 10 to 15 years for having taken money for so placing them, and 10 to 15 years for accepting money from prostitutes.

The sentencing was carried out under elaborate police protection. The courtroom bristled with guns. After sentencing, the prisoners were taken to the prison.

ORDERS CHILDREN FROM BEACHES IN PARKS TILL JULY

As a sequel to the drowning of two young sisters at a Lincoln park beach on Wednesday, George T. Donoghue, general superintendent of the park district, yesterday ordered park police to compel all children to keep off park beaches until July 1, when the regular bathing season opens. After July 1 life guards will be stationed at all beaches.

At the inquest yesterday into the deaths of Freda Dickman, 9 years old, and her sister Helen, 8, of 2233 Orchard street, their father, Gus Dickman, a milk dealer, declared he held the park district responsible for the drowning of his daughters. The coroner's jury returned a verdict of accident, and recommended that a guard be kept at the beach at all times.

Informed of the recommendation, Mr. Donoghue said the park district maintained beaches from 7600 north to 9500 south along the lake front, and it would be impossible to patrol all of them the year around. He asked parents to prevent their children from going bathing at any place which does not have supervision.

The three forest preserve swimming pools will be opened July 1. They are: Cermak, 7600 Ogden avenue; Emmett Whealan, Milwaukee and Devon avenues, and Green Lake, 159th street and Torrence avenue.

DEPUTY GETS HIS MAN—TWO WEEKS OLD AND ASLEEP

Deputy Sherif James Svejda was surprised yesterday when he was ordered to the Robert Burns hospital with a legal notice, which stated that Baby Kaplan, 2 weeks old, was summoned to attend a hearing in the County court on a petition for his adoption by Mr. and Mrs. Carl Adams of 3540 5th avenue.

"You are to hand this personally to Baby Kaplan," Svejda was instructed. "The law says he must be notified in the regular way."

A hitch in his plans developed when the deputy reached the hospital. He couldn't see the baby, the hospital authorities said, for at least three hours. The reason: Baby Kaplan was asleep. Svejda called his office and explained the situation.

"Wait till the baby wakes up," he was ordered.

At the end of the appointed three hours a nurse let the deputy and his quarry meet in the hall and the legal formalities were performed. Svejda called his office again.

"Baby Kaplan is served," he reported. "And he laughed at me."

FRENCH CABINET DECREES END OF FASCIST LEAGUES

American Hospital Hit by Strike Wave.

BY EDMOND TAYLOR.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

PARIS, June 18.—France's fast moving "new deal" was marked today by a spectacular reënforcement of "republican order" and further relaxations of the ordinary garden variety of order.

On the side of republican order, the outstanding development was a decree drafted by the cabinet dissolving all Fascist leagues—the Croix de Feu, the Young Patriots, the French Solidarity, and the Francistes.

The government's action was taken after a strong protest by communist deputies inspired by rioting between Nationalists and leftists in Marseilles last night.

On—or rather against—the side of ordinary order was the occupation of an American hospital at Neuilly by some 60 striking employés and the refusal of the government to dislodge them, despite an official protest from Jesse Isidor Straus, American ambassador.

Near Diplomatic Incident.

The hospital strike for a few hours looked as if it were about to develop into a first class diplomatic incident.

Dr. Edmund L. Gros, director of the hospital, appealed to the police to clear out the strikers on the ground that their occupation was harmful to the patients. The hospital at the moment had 23 serious cases demanding absolute quiet.

The local police commissar refused to intervene, whereupon Gros called Roger Salengro, minister of interior, but without obtaining satisfaction. Ambassador Straus then protested at the foreign office, but was told the government could not take action against the workers. The ambassador's visit, however, inspired the government to attempt settlement of the strike, and a meeting between the strikers and the hospital board was arranged.

The hospital made concessions on pay and working hours and the employés agreed to resume work tomorrow. A dangerous situation thus was averted, as the American Legion was threatening to march out to the hospital tomorrow and dislodge the strikers.

Plan Franc Defense.

The cabinet today authorized Vincent Auriol, finance minister, to ask the chamber of deputies for legislation to defend the franc, repress attacks on state credit and punish fraud—a further triumph for the republican order whose precise details are awaited with interest.

Other developments were:

Tipping in cafés, hotels, and restaurants was suppressed by a government decree.

The government's plan for reforming the Bank of France was approved by the cabinet and will probably be published tomorrow.

The senate passed the rest of Premier Blum's labor reform measures, already approved by the chamber of deputies. These included the 40 hour week and collective bargaining bills.

The strike wave increased in intensity at Marseilles, where garbage is piling up in the streets owing to a strike in the city health department. The strike situation remained critical in Lyons and Brest.

Mme. Gabrielle Chanel, Paris dressmaker, announced her willingness to turn over her business to her employés and run it for them without pay.

One Dead, 5 Hurt in Belgian Strikes.

BRUSSELS, June 18.—(AP)—A woman died of excitement and five demonstrators were seriously injured as strike disorders swept over Belgium tonight.

The number of strikers reached 500,000 and was swelling hourly. Reports received from Verviers said police were attacked by strikers there and that strikers, in seeking to paralyze transportation, were destroying roads.

Liege strikers set fire to a wooden bridge, authorities reported, stopped buses, and poured cement into letter boxes.

Two Huy newspapers suspended publication because of a strike of compositors. Merchants at Andenne locked up their shops in sympathy.

Spanish Prisoners Riot.

MADRID, June 18.—(AP)—A heavy guard was thrown around munitions dumps and gunsmiths' shops tonight as strike disorders in the east and south threatened to spread.

Prisoners rioted in the Alcala de Henares prison near Madrid. One prisoner was shot by guards and four guards were injured. The inmates smashed windows and set fire to their beds. They demanded the release of several mates from underground cells.

Barcelona was placed further in the grip of a general strike when 100,000 store employés walked out.

Fire Into Lithuanian Strike Mob.

KAUNAS, Lithuania, June 18.—(AP)—Carbine armed police patroled the streets of Kaunas tonight after firing into a crowd of demonstrating workers. The number of injured was not determined. The strikers attempted to demonstrate at a spot where one of their comrades was killed yesterday as a funeral procession passed.

General Strike in Mexico.

MEXICO CITY, June 18.—(AP)—The Confederation of Workers of Mexico again demonstrated its grip on the nerve centers of Mexican industry today by a half hour general strike.

The walkout was called to protest the government's action in breaking the Mexican National railways strike one month ago today. It involved some 500,000 workers.

HORSES WILL VIE TOMORROW IN BIG PULLING CONTEST

41 Teams to Test Brawn at Tribune Farm.

BY FRANK RIDGWAY.

THE CHICAGO TRIBUNE Horse and Mule Pulling contest will be held at the Wheaton Experimental farm tomorrow. Thousands of spectators from the city and country are expected to attend as they did the first one held last year when 8,250 men, women, and children were thrilled by this new American rural sport.

Tomorrow's event will be the largest pulling contest ever held in the United States. THE TRIBUNE was the first to make these large scale pulling competitions open to the public without charge. Last year many Chicagoans and suburban residents went to the contest mainly to have a day in the country.

They found a meadow alive with farm "power plants" wrapped up in the hides of horses furnishing all the thrills of a football or baseball game, or prize fight. From now on the pulling contest likely will rank high on their list of sports.

Cash Awards Total $500.

That first contest started friendly rivalry between individuals, between communities, and between states that may take years to settle. The competition has been intensified by the fifteen cash awards, totaling $500, and special drivers' cash prizes ranging from $4 to $15, offered by this newspaper.

The contest is free to contestants and to spectators. There is a natural amphitheater leading down from the top of a slope to the foot of the hill where master horsemen will furnish thrilling episodes for several hours on the contest course.

Details of the contest will be broadcast over a public address sound amplifying system, enabling spectators to follow every minute of the day's program. Engineers are today installing at the farm the amplifiers used at Soldiers' field for broadcasting the Chicagoland Musical Festival.

41 Teams Are Entered.

Forty-one teams entered in the contest are expected to begin arriving today at the Tribune farm near Wheaton. Approximately half the contestants plan to reach the farm before midnight.

The contest will be held rain or shine. Parking space has been provided near Weisbrook station shown on the accompanying map. The Wheaton farm is about thirty miles west of the loop on Roosevelt road, a four lane highway marked U. S. No. 330. Visitors who go in automobiles should follow arrows on signs reading, "Tribune Horse and Mule Pulling Contest." These signs have been put up at crossroads in the vicinity around the farm.

Both east and west bound trafic on U. S. highway 330 should go to Wheaton and turn south on South West street, which leads into Weisbrook road. Trafic from the south will come in over Butterfield road, turning north on Weisbrook road to Weisbrook station.

Food Throughout the Day.

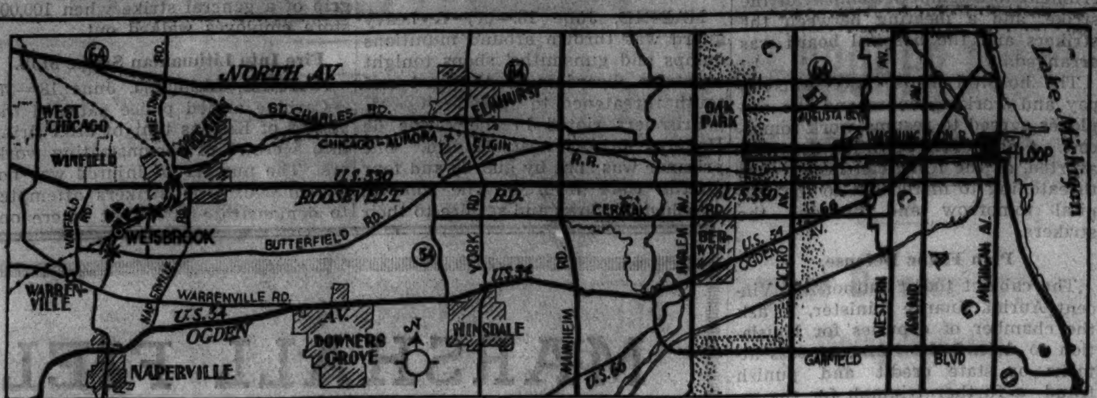
Food will be served throughout the day on the contest grounds by Wheaton post, No. 76, of the American Legion. The post will feature a sizzling hot country fried steak dinner for 50 cents and a barbecue snack for 30 cents. Palmer Leren is commander of the post and Leo Ford is chairman of the food committee.

One hundred Boy Scouts, trained under the direction of Jack Conley, scoutmaster of Du Page county, will be on hand to aid in parking cars.

The technical phases of the contest are under the direction of Wayne Dinsmore, secretary of the Horse and Mule Association of America. He will be assisted by E. T. Robbins of the University of Illinois.

The prizes will be awarded by THE TRIBUNE tomorrow afternoon after the judges have made their decisions. The judges are: J. G. Fuller and E. R. Jones of the University of Wisconsin, Madison, Wis., and C. F. Curtiss of the Iowa State college, Ames, Ia.

HOW TO REACH TRIBUNE PULLING CONTEST



Map showing means of transportation to be used in reaching the second annual Tribune Horse and Mule Pulling contest, to be held tomorrow in a meadow on the Tribune experimental farm at Weisbrook station on the Aurora and Elgin railway, about 1½ miles southwest of Wheaton, Ill. Stars indicate where cars turn off Roosevelt road (U. S. 330) and Butterfield road onto Weisbrook road, which passes Weisbrook station at the contest grounds, indicated by cross. Highways leading to farm are marked with signs reading ,"Tribune Horse and Mule Pulling Contest."

PULLING CONTEST PROGRAM

LIVE WIRE KILLS TWO AS THEY TRY TO SAVE FARM BOY

Hastings, Mich., June 18.—[Special.]—John J. Beattie, 55, a farmer, and his son, Earl, 23, were electrocuted by a fallen high tension wire last night while trying to rescue a second son, Louis, 14, at the Beattie farm at nearby Gun Lake.

The high tension wire started a fire among the farm buildings and Louis was severly burned when the 4,800 volt charge passed along a stream of water he threw at the blaze. His father and brother were killed when they touched the wire. Louis' condition is critical.

Fire Chief and Son Killed.

Toledo, O., June 18.—[Special.]—Edward Brown, 55, chief of the Rossford volunteer fire department, was killed today in a futile attempt to rescue his son, William, 22, who was killed when he touched a high tension wire while fighting a fire. The electric shock also killed the father.

Members of the fire company shouted warnings, but could not stop the father as he ran to the side of his son, lying on the ground, and seized his arm. The electric current passed from the son to the father and the latter fell to the ground.

The wire had been clipped after it caused a fire in the Caple Alfalfa mills and part of it dangled from a pole. The hanging wire struck young Brown as he ran to extinguish the blaze. Another son witnessed the deaths.

Power Lineman Killed.

Kalamazoo, Mich., June 18.—[Special.]—Walter Peters, 40, a power lineman, was killed today on a pole when he accidentally touched a high tension wire near Scotts.

SUN GOES INTO TOTAL ECLIPSE ACROSS RUSSIA

Watched by Scientific Groups Along Path.

MOSCOW, June 19 [Friday].—(AP)—A giant arm of shadow fell across Russia and Asia early today as scientific mirrors attempted to imprison a few of the sun's secrets.

The total eclipse became visible over soviet territory at Tuapse at 6:58 a. m., Moscow time [10:58 p. m., Chicago time, Thursday].

American and British scientific units were scattered across the Russian hinterland for the event. Soviet scientists also were prepared for the phenomenon.

Planes Carry Instruments.

Three soviet planes took off from Belo Reckenskaya shortly before the eclipse carrying special instruments for observation aloft.

Early reports were that the American expeditions were highly successful with the exception of the National Geographic society and Georgetown university units at Kustanai, where rain made ground observations impossible.

Dr. Donald H. Menzel, leader of the Harvard-Massachusetts Institute of Technology group at Akbulak, was making radio as well as astronomical tests.

[The Reuters (British) News agency reported from Belo Reckenskaya by wireless that the totality was almost complete at 6:65 a. m., local time (10:56 p. m. Chicago time, Thursday.)]

Called Magnificent.

"The eclipse was a complete and magnificent spectacle," a dispatch said. "At 7 a. m. the clouds took on a reddish green aspect and obscurity became complete. At 7:01 a. m. the total eclipse had nearly ended. At 7:04 a. m. the sun shone fully again."

At Taupse the mist cleared just in time to afford a magnificent view for early risers.

FATHER SUES TO ANNUL MARRIAGE OF DAUGHTER, 17

Peter Fischbach, 1016 Greenleaf street, Evanston, sued in the Superior court yesterday to annul the Waukegan marriage last March 18 of his daughter, Anna Marie, 17 years old, to Robert Paul Shade, 18 years old, 1111 Darrow avenue, Evanston. The young couple have a daughter, Ann Elizabeth, who is living with her mother in the Fischbach home. A charge of kidnaping against Fischbach and his wife, Elizabeth, is pending before Justice of the Peace Percy Harms of Niles township. It was brought by young Shade's mother, Rose, who adopted Ann Elizabeth. The elder Mrs. Shade alleges that the Fischbachs took Ann Elizabeth while visiting in the Shade home.

SHOWERS HELP CROP OUTLOOK IN EAST AND WEST

But South Continues to Feel Drouth.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS.]

Cooling breezes and scattered showers came to the aid of farmers in the east and west Thursday while a crop searing heat wave slowly burned itself out in the south, leaving a mounting drouth toll in its wake.

Temperatures generally were lower over the nation, after yesterday's seasonal record high readings.

Developing crops generally were in need of rains and in parts of the midwest grain area grasshopper invasion added itself to the farmers' troubles.

"Dust Bowl," a Bright Spot.

The Rocky mountain states, the Pacific northwest, sections of the upper Mississippi valley and the erstwhile "dust bowl" of the southwest, washed by heavy rains in recent weeks, were bright spots of the nation's crop maps.

But the drouth damage continued in the south and the Tennessee department of agriculture estimated losses in that state alone at $50,000,000. Scattered thundershowers failed to turn back the advancing drouth in Kentucky, and West Virginia crops were suffering from the lack of moisture.

Prospects for good to excellent farm production abounded in the Rocky mountain area. Abundant rains made southern Idaho's outlook the best in years and conditions in northern Utah and eastern Washington were described as "excellent."

Showers in Pennsylvania.

Crop conditions in Minnesota, Wisconsin, Nebraska, and Iowa ranged from fair to good, although a lack of rain carried a drouth threat in some sections.

South Dakota, already seared by an early drouth so severe that the state is appealing for federal aid, saw small grain crops good only in the southeast section.

Early morning showers broke a developing drouth in Pennsylvania. There were rains in most of the east and crop progress was about normal in Maryland and Delaware.

LIGHTNING KILLS THREE; N. Y. AREA SWEPT BY STORM

New York, June 18.—[Special.]—The most severe electrical storm here this year struck the metropolitan area today and lightning killed two electrical workers near Newark and a PWA worker in the Bronx. Two schools and several church steeples were struck.

The crashing bolts caused thousands of dollars in damage in burned barns, cattle sheds, warehouses and mills, but brought welcome rain to withering crops and pastures. Bolts struck a parochial school in Brooklyn and a public school in Jersey City. Bricks and mortar were knocked from the roofs.

Day By Day Story of the Experimental Farms

By Frank Ridgway

Pulling Contest.

June 18, 1936.

BREEDS and bloodlines, including pure breds and grades, from western bronchos to pedigreed aristocrats of the Percheron, Belgian, Clydesdale, Shire and Morgan horses, are represented in the 82 animals entered in the second annual Tribune Horse and Mule Pulling contest to be held at the Tribune's Wheaton Experimental farm Saturday. Fifteen cash prizes ranging from $20 to $100, totaling $500, will hang as the tantalizing stake before this big field of drafters.

Untrained teams that have never competed in any contest before will be there to battle with champions and prize winners of other competitions. Some of the teams are quite young; others are fairly old. Owners and drivers of many of the teams have lived and worked with their horses for years, sometimes winning but often losing in this new and fascinating rural sport. Contestants tell many interesting stories about their winnings and experiences with their horses.

Life Saving Champion.

Take, for instance, John A. Day of Springport, Ind., who is coming to the contest with King and Queen, his drafters that have won many prizes. They hold the state pulling record for Indiana and were among the winners at the competition held in connection with the National Stallion Pulling contest at Crete, Ill., last year.

Mr. Day is proud of his champion pair, but Queen, particularly, has a warm spot in his heart. Here's the reason:

"Last week Queen saved my life," says Mr. Day in a letter to THE TRIBUNE. "I rode her into a field where we were attacked by a bull. Queen's bridle had blinders and she did not know the bull was attacking until he had run his head under her and lifted her. Fortunately, he had no horns.

"As Queen wheeled to free herself of the bull, I fell from her back to the ground where I lay half stunned. Queen ran toward the barn with the bull following her. After giving chase for some distance he started back for me. Meanwhile, Queen had reached the barn. Instead of going to her stall, as usual, she nickered and tried her best to direct the attention of the men working there to the field where I lay. When one of the men mounted her, she brought him directly to me. As soon as they arrived, the bull's attention was turned toward the horse and the man. The man fought him off with a club and stones.

"Needless to say, Queen is now a great favorite of the family, while the bull is bologna."

Eight Winners Back.

Eight winners in THE TRIBUNE'S 1935 pulling contest will be back again this year. John Prough of Millersburg, Ind., one of the prize winners in the first competition and also among the prize winners at the Crete, Ill., competition, will be at the contest Saturday. Eugene Showalter of Middlebury, Ind., is bringing the team he won with at Goshen, Ind. Spencer Rice of Dana, Ind., will be there with Jim and Dick, the drafters that won many prizes for him last summer when his team tackled the dynamometer for the first time.

WATHIER SULKS IN CELL; WIDOW TELLS HER SIDE

Mrs. Smith, 82, Wants Him to 'Cough Up.'

BY MARCIA WINN.

Roy A. Wathier, 38 years old, a former bank clerk, sulked in the county jail yesterday, but out at the Hyde Park hotel, 1511 Hyde Park boulevard, gray haired Mrs. Elizabeth Palmer Smith, 82 years old, a niece of the late Potter Palmer, smiled as she sat by her bedroom window and watched the trafic.

"There was nothing crooked at all," declared Wathier, who is in jail for failure to pay the $12,400 he admits owing Mrs. Smith. "It was just bad investments."

"You know," reflected Mrs. Smith, "last night I was heartbroken, thinking—'It was I who put him behind the bars,' but today," and she paused expressively, "why should I feel friendly toward him?"

Unable to Raise Bond.

"I want to repay the money I owe," declared Wathier, who was seized Tuesday night after private detectives had sought him for six months. "But now I haven't the money to pay. I haven't even been able to raise my $5,000 bond."

"He's got money somewhere," insisted Mrs. Smith, whose $900,000 estate dwindled to $100,000 under the care of Wathier. "He may cough it up yet, and when he does, I'll be there to——" and she opened her mouth wide—"swallow it."

"I want to say, too, that there was never any 'sweetheart' relationship between Mrs. Smith and me," Wathier stated.

He Uses No Toothpicks.

"He was so amiable and mannerly," reminisced Mrs. Smith. "Of course, he wasn't a man of native refinement, but he never used a toothpick, as so many men do. He sent me bouquets of flowers and took me for drives. I suppose," dryly, "that he made the most charming of chauffeurs."

"It might be called a mother and son relationship," Wathier pondered. "She was very kind to me."

"He spoke often of marriage," Mrs. Smith recalled, "but after two husbands, what would I want of another? I'd say, 'Let's wait until you get your divorce and then—.'" [Wathier, in the meantime, married another woman.]

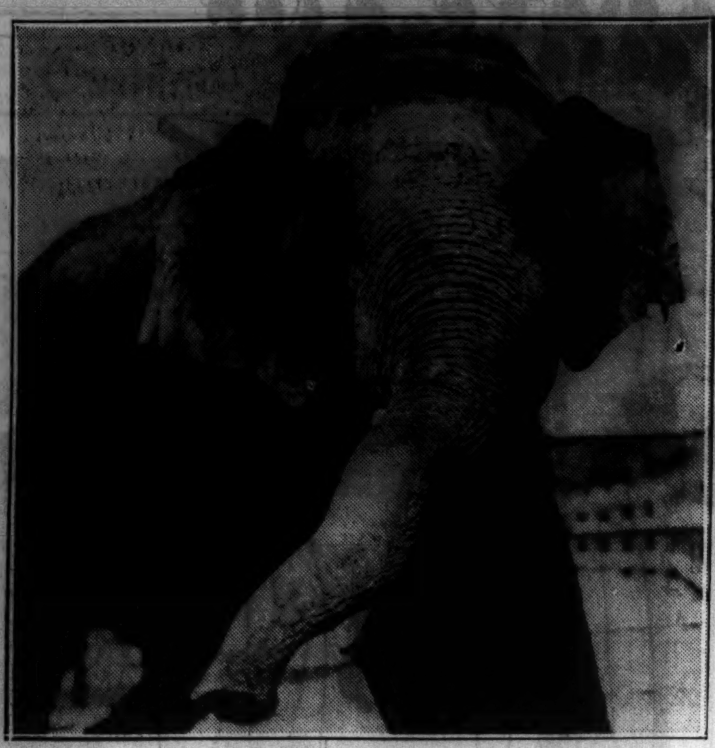
"I tried to make her life happy," said Wathier.

She's Slow on Figures.

"He used to be here all the time," Mrs. Smith went on. "So charming and so friendly, and so helpful with my statements. Of course, I never did have a head for figures. I don't even know the multiplication table. He had a strong temper, but he kept it under control, except when I'd get too confused about money matters."

Now, with a conservator appointed for her dwindled estate, the daughter of the late Milton Palmer and Elizabeth Frazee, who came to Chicago in the '60s in the arms of her uncle, Potter Palmer, who married and buried two husbands, William Hooker Alcott and Frederick Smith, lives quietly in her hotel room and gives advice on how to hold a man. "The only way," she says, "is to keep him guessing."

Killer Elephant Is Executed



WALLY BEFORE HIS DEATH.
[Acme Photo.]

Shot by Police

San Francisco, Cal., June 18.—(AP)—A police marksman shot "Wally" to death today because the huge elephant had killed his trainer.

Attorneys for "Wally" lost their final court action.

The District Court of Appeals declined to issue a restraining order to Attorney Alexander Mosslin.

The elephant was spreadeagled and chained. Fifty persons watched the execution.

Three shots were fired from nine feet away. The beast staggered at first shot. Then he rolled over as the other bullets crashed into his head.

ARRAIGN WIDOW OF BROKER TODAY IN MURDER CASE

Expect Defense to Seek Delay in Trial.

CRIMINAL COURT.

Arthur Pelky, robbery, sentenced to 20 years in the penitentiary under the habitual criminal act; Sam Monzulla, robbery, sentenced to 1 to 20 years in the penitentiary by Judge Cornelius Harrington.

Mrs. Mildred Mary Bolton, 40 years old, who is charged with the murder of her husband. Joseph, 39 years old, an insurance broker, last Monday, will be arraigned today before Chief Justice Denis J. Normoyle of the Criminal court. It was indicated, however, that she will not enter a plea today, but will ask for a continuance.

Assistant State's Attorney Morris G. Meyers, in charge of the prosecution, said that he will probably ask the death penalty for Mrs. Bolton when she is brought to trial. Mrs. Bolton conferred yesterday with Attorney Harold Levy in her cell at the county jail, but she said she had not yet retained the lawyer and Levy would not say definitly whether he will handle the case.

Accused in Office Shooting.

Mrs. Bolton, a stocky little woman with dark skin and closely curling hair, is accused of shooting her husband to death with a revolver in his office at 166 West Jackson boulevard. She has admitted purchasing the gun and asserts that the weapon was discharged while she grappled with him. She said her husband was $175 in arrears in alimony payments in her pending divorce suit.

Yesterday she was asked whether she planned to plead emotional insanity as a defense for the slaying.

"No," Mrs. Bolton answered firmly. "I remember every single detail of what happened."

Recalls Martin Case.

The emotional insanity plea was used successfully several weeks ago by Mrs. Betty Martin, blonde hat check girl, who shot and killed her fourth husband, Andrew Martin. Mrs. Martin was acquitted by a jury.

After Attorney Levy visited Mrs. Bolton yesterday he said he had not decided on what defense would be offered if he takes the case.

When Levy left he told Mrs. Bolton not to give any more interviews to newspaper men. On Wednesday Mrs. Bolton had been quite willing to talk.

In defiance of the attorney's orders, Mrs. Bolton summoned newspaper men to her cell immediately after Levy departed.

"But I don't want any photographers," she said. It was then that she informed the newspaper men she would not employ an emotional insanity defense plea.

TIRED OF LIFE; HANGS HIMSELF.

John Mason, 46 years old, 1834 Hammond street, a former accountant, hanged himself yesterday in the clothes closet of his room. He left a note saying he was tired of life. According to police Mason's widow and three children live in Rockford.

WARNS YANKEES TO QUIT MISSIONS IN SOUTH CHINA

Observers Believe Peace Efforts Are Deadlocked.

NANKING, China, June 18.—(AP)—American missionaries in Hunan province were warned to evacuate their missions today as the result of South China's anti-Japanese campaign and its attendant threat of civil war.

The warning came from the United States consul at Hankow. It sent members of the Evangelical mission toward Changsha, but Presbyterian and China Inland missionaries decided to remain at their posts.

Fear was expressed in foreign quarters that negotiations for peace between the Nanking [North] government and Canton [South] government had resulted in a deadlock. Ho Chien, governor of Hunan province, considers sending provincial forces from the western to the southern region, it was reported. Hunan lies north of the Cantonese controled provinces of Kwangtung and Kwangsi.

7 Killed in Rioting.

CANTON, China, June 18.—(AP)—Delayed reports from Wuchow, Kwangsi province, today said seven persons had been slain in serious rioting which resulted from civilian resistance to military conscription.

The bloodshed occurred June 13, the report stated. Militiamen were called out after one recruiting officer and several assistants had been slain, but the fighting continued. Regular troops arrived the next day.

Japs Tighten Grip.

TIENTSIN, China, June 18.—(AP)—What was interpreted as another step toward increasing Japanese influence in North China was taken today.

The political council of Hopei and Chahar provinces, of which Gen. Sung Cheh-yuan is chairman, announced that henceforth the council's diplomatic problems would be handled by a special commission instead of under the direct authority of Gen. Sung. His policies in many respects have been unpopular with the Japanese.

This development was believed to be one result of a conference opened today by leading Japanese army officers in North China.

ENGLAND APPROVES PLAN FOR SISTER SHIP TO THE QUEEN MARY

LONDON, June 18.—(AP)—Neville Chamberlain, chancellor of the exchequer, announced in the house of commons today that the British government had agreed "in principle" to the construction of a sister ship to the Queen Mary.

The chancellor said the Cunard-White Star line had applied for authority to enter an agreement for the vessel. Chamberlain said he reserved the right of further consultation before the contract is signed.

The Cunard-White Star line, Chamberlain asserted, has received preliminary bids from ship yards. At present the line is negotiating with the Clydebank firm which built the Queen Mary, he added.

Does that perfect vacation seem a little hard to arrange? Perhaps your vacation budget just—and no more than—reaches a happy balance, not enough to include extras. Extras are what Carson's means when suggesting a visit to the "Old-Gold and Silver Exchange." It is a very easy way of getting that ravishing beach coat, that extra pair of white flannels, or that unexpected taxi fare.

Just look around the house for such small but valuable things as dental gold, watches, cuff links, sterling silverware, eyeglass frames—you will receive cash for them immediately.

Harvard-Yale Boat Race Will Be Run Today

Number of Chicagoans to Watch Event.

THERE will be a number of Chicagoans in New London, Conn., today watching Yale and Harvard race, some aboard flat cars on the railroad tracks on the shore of the Thames river and others aboard boats of every sort and description, all moving along, as the shells do, so that the thousands of interested spectators can see the entire course.

It's a thrilling occasion, perhaps not such an interesting one from the sports standpoint as the race next Monday in Poughkeepsie when eight or ten colleges will compete, but from the standpoint of tradition today's is "the tops."

One of the yachts that will follow today's event is the Freedom, Sterling Morton's schooner, from the deck of which Mr. and Mrs. Morton and some guests will watch the race. From New London the boat will go to Newport to see the start next Monday of the Bermuda race, in which only one Chicago boat is entered, and that belongs partly to New York, for it is Col. Albert E. Peirce's new racing-cruising cutter, one of twenty in a new class of the New York Yacht club. As soon as the 45 foot boat reaches Bermuda it will be rushed to Chicago, via ship and train, so as to be here to sail in the Mackinac race on July 18.

The ten European boats that will sail in the Bermuda race and several American vessels will set sail from St. David's Head in Bermuda on July 1 to race to Cuxhaven, Germany, but Chicago will not be represented in this event.

Mortons Will Return to Chicago July 15.

Mr. and Mrs. Morton have chartered the Freedom for the last half of the summer, so about July 15 they will return to Chicago. Mrs. Morton's mother, Mrs. Heaton Owsley, who arrived in New York early this month from California via the Panama canal, now is in Ogunquit, Me., visiting her other daughter, Mrs. Philip Hutchins. From there she will go to the Virginia Hot Springs for the summer.

Watching the races at New London today from the deck of the Aras, the Hugh Chisholms' yacht, will be Miss Bette Rich, who went east with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. R. Joseph Rich, for the graduation of Joseph E. Rich from Yale. Mr. and Mrs. Rich returned yesterday, but Miss Rich will not return until Monday. She will spend most of the summer with her parents in their new home on the lake shore. They just recently moved from a house in Evanston to a house at 985 Sheridan road, Winnetka.

The Joseph M. Cudahys had planned a party for Garfield King aboard their yacht at New London today, but it had to be called off because they could not go east until later. Young Mr. King, who was graduated from Yale on Tuesday, is sailing soon to spend the summer abroad. Next winter he will be in Chicago taking a business course at Northwestern university.

More Debutante Parties Announced.

Cushing-Schmid Wedding

Jacque Cushing Becomes Bride of Karl Schmid

At 4:30 o'clock yesterday afternoon in the home of her uncle and aunt, Mr. and Mrs. Gardiner B. Van Ness, in Wellington avenue, Miss Jacque Cushing, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Lemuel Kennedy Cushing of the Belmont hotel, became the bride of Karl Morton Schmid, son of Mr. and Mrs. Richard G. Schmid of Barry avenue.

The Rev. R. Everett Carr, rector of St. Peter's Episcopal church, read the ceremony in the presence of about 125 relatives and friends and a reception followed for the same group.

The bride wore a simple white satin wedding gown made with a high neckline that rolled over into a soft, round collar. The sleeves were large at the shoulders, becoming close fitting near the wrists. She wore a halo of tulle to which a long tulle veil was fastened, and she carried calla lilies.

Miss Jane Cushing, who attended her sister as maid of honor, wore a soft gown of periwinkle blue, and the bridesmaids were dressed similarly in peach color. The bride's attendants carried bouquets of delphinium, gladioli, and roses. The bridesmaids were Miss Eleanor Blevins of Cambridge, Mass., and Miss Carol Spedick of Oyster Bay, N. Y.

Richard Schmid served his brother as best man, and ushering were Gardiner Jr. and Radford Van Ness, cousins of the bride; Willard Jacques and Jack Haverkamps. After a wedding trip to Bermuda Mr. Schmid and his bride will be at home on the near north side.

Small Designs Feature New Cotton Prints

Old Fashioned Patterns Win Style Favor.

BY RHEA SEEGER.

The smartest of simple daytime summer dresses are made of peasant printed cotton—printed cotton with delightful old fashioned patterns in soft, mellow colors or combines. Only in these prints do you find lovely old blues, accented with yellowed greens, rosy reds, and delicate tints of mauve. These look like old Paisley shawls, with all the mellow flattering colors.

Tiny floral designs also are found—sprigged motifs against old blue backgrounds or the same thing in pale green or beige. And, because the designs are small and the colors so unusual, these peasant prints are exceedingly high fashioned and popular.

With moderate price tags, with the materials exceptionally soft and cool, with prim streamlines and very brief sleeves, these prints become the pet frocks in any clothes collector's summer wardrobe. Worn with pastel colored accessories or with dull white gloves, brimmed hat, and sandals to contrast, they are unquestionably the coolest looking outfits you can wear on a hot day, in either town or country.

Fashion photograph . . . showing one of the slimmest of printed peasant daytime dresses. The pattern is a charming Paisley design in soft tones of rose, green, blue, and beige. Twin chest pockets are sharply outlined in white, and dazzling white flat buttons match the white lether belt. The belt, the white band around the collar, and the band streaking down the center of the blouse all are narrow and smart. White accessories—short fabric gloves and a white Shantung linen half-a-hat—complete this ensemble. Hat, gloves, dress all are guaranteed to tub, and all are priced for limited summer time budgets.

Front Views and Profiles

By June Provines

A RED HEADED young woman was swinging southward along Michigan boulevard yesterday, enjoying the June day and her own rythmic locomotion, when the bridge started to go up, some yards ahead of her. Not wishing to have the swing of her progress arrested, she started down the steps beside the Wrigley building, and, beckoning to a speed boat idling there, stepped in and was taken across. Paying the pilot, she stepped out and ascended the steps just as the bridge was going down. No time had been saved, to be sure, but she went on her way, buoyed up by the feeling that she was a woman who could overcome any obstacle and that the world was hers. The feeling lasted, unfortunately, only until she got into the dentist's chair, for thither was she bound. There she collapsed into a shuddering mortal who would have shied at a piece of paper in her path.

A WOMAN who lives on Ellis avenue heard from her open bedroom window the conversation between a little girl and a small boy in the apartment next door.

"Come on down and play."

"Let's see it." [Skeptically.]

"I can't. It's in the hospital."

"What's the matter with it already?" [Disgustedly.]

AMONG the tardy tales from the Republican convention there is the true one about the little boy who was lost. He was distressed and frightened, and as adults gathered about to reassure him, at the close of one of the sessions, he said, with lip trembling:

"Maybe I wouldn't have minded so much if I could have seen anything. All I could see was the wrong side of Hoover."

Academic Freedom Theme of Alumni Meeting.

Cambridge, Mass., June 18.—(AP)—Two nationally known educators and a prominent churchman demanded academic freedom for American universities today at Harvard's tercentenary year commencement.

At the same alumni meeting—a post-graduation affair—Dr. James Bryant Conant, president of Harvard, told alumni the college had, he believed, attained its growth and should henceforth seek no enlargement of its student body or its buildings and equipment.

"Quality, not quantity, is the ideal for which we must strive," Dr. Conant said.

Robert Maynard Hutchins, president of the University of Chicago, told Harvard's alumni the pursuit of knowledge could not be directed by prejudice "or even by legislation."

Samuel Eliot Morison, professor of history at Harvard and the university's tercentenary historian, warned against "a large and powerful section of the body politic which no longer wishes its universities to be free."

The Rt. Rev. Henry Knox Sherrill, protestant Episcopal bishop of Massachusetts, termed character the greatest need today and urged the forces of both religion and education to battle against "state domination of every aspect of life."

Honorary degrees were conferred upon all three at this morning's 285th commencement. They spoke at the alumni association meeting later.

Seven other men—scientists, churchmen and historians—received honorary degrees.

Prof. Morison received an honorary doctorate of letters, Dr. Hutchins, a doctorate of laws and Bishop Sherrill a doctorate of divinity.

MACHINES TELL MEAT QUALITIES, EXCEPTING TASTE

Experts Outline Progress in Cooking Methods.

Special machines have been invented to test the various qualities of meats—except taste, which still relies upon the epicurean sense of human beings—it was pointed out yesterday at the annual meeting of the national live stock and meat board at the Stevens hotel.

The twenty members of the board, of which Thomas E. Wilson, chairman of Wilson & Co., is chairman, are meeting in executive session to present annual reports for the year ending June 30.

"More worthwhile information concerning the selection and preparation of meat has been made available in the last ten years than in all previous history, Miss Alice M. Child, associate professor of home economics at the University of Minnesota, told the board members yesterday morning.

Coöperates with Colleges.

The board is coöperating with about twenty experimental stations at leading colleges and universities in tests to determine the best methods of preparing meats, and also the factors producing the highest qualities of meat, such as feeding, age of the animals and comparisons between breeds.

"The spotlight of science has been thrown on the age-old art of meat cookery and, as a result, methods long in vogue have been discarded," Miss Childs said. "Searing of roasts and basting are now both out of date. We know that roasts should be cooked uncovered and without adding water."

Tests have proved that there is less shrinkage in meat when cooked at lower temperatures and for a longer period, she pointed out. In one test, two beef rib roasts weighing the same amount were cooked at different temperatures, one at 300 degrees Fahrenheit, and the other at 250 to 300 degrees.

Tells Result of Cooking Tests.

After both had been cooked to the same state of thoroughness it was found that the meat cooked at the higher temperature lost 22 per cent of its weight, while the other lost only 8 per cent. The time required was five hours under the low temperature and three hours at a high temperature. The shrinkage factor is particularly important to restaurants and hotels, it was pointed out.

Some of the machines used to test meats include one which tests tenderness by recording the number of pounds of pressure required to cut through the meat; a colorimeter determines the degree of color, and a pressometer tests juiciness by the amount of juice extracted under pressure. Formerly, it was believed that searing retained juices in meat, but tests have proved that the process really increases the loss of juices, it was indicated.

Meat Diet Can Control Weight.

Whether a person wishes to gain weight or to reduce the desired result in either case can be obtained through a meat diet, Dr. Leo K. Campbell of Rush Medical college told the board.

In the case of the reducing diet the meat is lean with all visible fat removed, while in the weight gaining diet the fat need not be removed, Dr. Campbell said. In a study of underweight persons, he said that the average weekly gain of his patients on a diet containing ¾ to 1 pound of meat daily was 1⅛ pounds, and in one case a gain of 6 pounds was recorded.

"Within the last ten years more definite proof of the important part that meat plays for health has been made available to the consuming public than in all previous history," said R. C. Pollock of Chicago, general manager of the board, in his report to the annual meeting.

The board consists of two representatives of packers, three representatives of the commission men, two from among the retailers and thirteen from the producers. Among those attending the sessions, in addition to Wilson, were: R. H. Cabell, president of Armour & Co.; H. C. Peterson of the National Association of Retail Grocers; Earl C. Smith, vice president of the American Farm Bureau federation, and C. B. Denman of the National Live Stock Marketing association.

The population of the United States is exceeded slightly by the number of meat animals on the farms, which was 132,000,000 head at the end of 1935, according to R. C. Pollock, general manager of the board. Of this number, sheep and lambs numbered 51,690,000, hogs 42,541,000, and beef cattle 37,750,000.

Most Live Stock in West.

"The density of live stock population is greatest and meat production is highest in our central states, including the corn belt," he asserted. "Seventy per cent of all our meat is produced in thirteen central states, including 80 per cent of our pork, 60 per cent of our beef, and 33 per cent of our lamb and mutton.

"Only fourteen states produce more than enough pork for their own needs, only twenty states produce a surplus of beef, and in only twenty-one states is there a surplus of lamb and mutton."

Pollock said that the housewives of America serve approximately 47 million pounds of steaks, chops, and roasts every day of the year, and that to transport this day's meat supply would require a train of refrigerator cars more than 11 miles long.

Find Oven Broiling Beats Pan Method for Steaks

An oven broiled steak is more digestible than a pan broiled steak, because it does not soak up grease and become covered with a film which coats the meat particles and hinders digestion. In an oven broiled steak the tasty, wholesome juices are sealed inside while excess fat and grease drip off the meat.

BROIL PORK CHOP SLOWLY TO SAVE ITS GOOD FLAVOR

Authorities on pork cookery tell us that although pork chops are tender enough to be broiled, braising them [browning and cooking slowly with the addition of a small amount of liquid] is a much more satisfactory method. Far too many cooks toss the chops into a skillet to fry them rapidly, with tough and dried out meat as a result.

If broiling is used as a method for cooking pork chops, it must be done at a moderate temperature and for a relatively long time. A high temperature will dry the meat, and rapid cooking drives off the flavor-containing fat too rapidly to be desirable. Slow cooking is necessary for all pork cuts to develop and bring out the fine flavor of the fat.

The surface of the chop or tenderloin patty should be seared or browned to develop rich flavor. Sear at a fairly high temperature. Cover closely after browning, and if the cover of the skillet is not self basting, add a small amount of water or other liquid.

Wrap Cantaloupes if You Keep Them in Refrigerator

If several cantaloupes are to be kept in your refrigerator for a period of time, it is advisable to wrap them tightly or place in individual paper sacks. With this protection there will be no danger of their giving off odors to be taken up by other foods. Nothing is less pleasant than a strong cantaloupe flavor permeating the cream and butter.

Hot Oven, Then a Moderate One for Fresh Fruit Pies

When baking fresh fruit pies, bake in a hot oven [450 degrees F.] for the first 10 to 15 minutes to "set" the crust. Then reduce the heat to a moderate oven [350 degrees F.] to allow the fruit to cook.

BY MARY MEADE.

Just as Grandpappy So-and-so's soothing sirup used to cure anything from rheumatism to flat feet, and also enable one to win the one she loved, so women's wire hairpins will perform any number of useful services from picking a lock to repairing a clock.

And the hairpin will work as a cherry pitter, too, as hundreds of women discover anew each year at cherry canning time. If there are a great many cherries to be pitted, however, the commercial pitters probably will be called into service.

Besides the quart jars of cherries canned for pies or sauces, the canned fruit shelves probably will want a garnish of jellies, preserves, and jams made from cherries. Here are a few recipes which you may wish to use.

Jellied Cherries.

1 cup pitted cherries
1 pint sugar
1 pint apple juice

Add the sugar and cherries to the apple juice, and boil the mixture until it congeals when tested with a spoon. The drops of jelly should run together and "sheet" from the side of the spoon. Remove from the fire immediately when this takes place. Pour into hot glasses and cool. Seal with hot paraffin.

Red Raspberry and Cherry Conserv.

1 cup pitted cherries
1 cup red raspberries
1½ cups sugar

Cook the fruit and sugar together until a thick, clear mixture results. Pack in clean, hot preserve jars and seal at once.

CHERRY AND PINEAPPLE MARMALADE.

Use one-quarter as much fresh pineapple as cherries, and two-thirds as much sugar as fruit and juice. Wash, drain, and pit the cherries, and run them through a meat grinder. Peel and grind or shred the pineapple, and mix with the cherries. Add the sugar and cook the mixture until thick and clear, stirring to prevent burning. Pour into clean, hot jars, and seal.

Cherry Jam.

4 cups pitted and crushed or ground cherries
1 bottle [1 cup] commercial fruit pectin
7 cups sugar

Add one-quarter cup of water to the crushed fruit, bring to a boil, cover, and simmer for fifteen minutes. Measure sugar into a large kettle. Add the prepared fruit, mix well, and bring to a full, rolling boil over a hot fire, stirring constantly. Boil hard three minutes. Remove from fire and stir in pectin. Stir and skim by turns for five minutes to cool slightly and prevent fruit from floating. Pour quickly and paraffin at once. This recipe makes about eleven 8-ounce glasses.

CHERRY RELISH.

Pit cherries in any quantity desired. Drain and cover the whole fruit with a vinegar solution made by using three-quarters cup vinegar to one quart of water. Let the cherries stand in this solution for six hours, then drain and measure, and add an equal amount of sugar. Let stand overnight and seal in clean, hot jars.

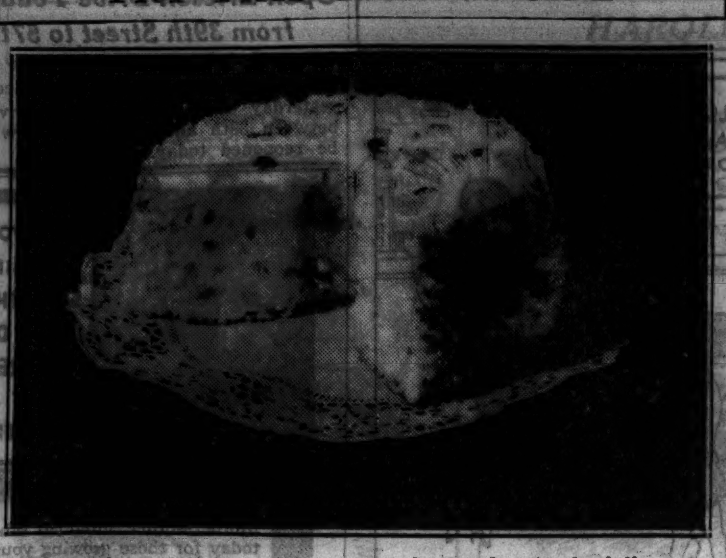
Honeydew Melons Make Attractive Fruit Cups

Attractive fruit cup baskets may be made from honeydew melon. Select nicely colored melons and cut to give shape of basket with handle. Scoop out flesh and make into balls. Combine with other fruits, diced pineapple, fresh raspberries, strawberries, seeded grapes, cantaloupe balls, and orange sections or other fruits. Sprinkle with fruited French dressing. Serve well chilled and garnished with mint.

TRY THIS CAKE RECIPE



To make a delicious cherry angel food cake simply follow your favorite angel food cake recipe. Pour about 1-3 of the batter into an ungreased tube pan, sprinkle with 1-4 cup of finely chopped maraschino cherries, add another 1-3 of the batter, then 1-4 cup cherries, and the remaining batter. Run knife through to bottom of pan to mix cherries evenly throughout.

TIPS GIVEN ON USE ON SOUR CREAM FOR SUCCESSFUL BAKING

Sour cream muffins, waffles, and cookies have long been famous for their richness and flavor and the delicate brown crust which makes them particularly tempting. The sour cream may be used in place of the milk in the usual recipe, and it supplies some of the shortening—all of it if the cream is rich enough. In substituting sour milk for sweet, add ½ teaspoon soda per cup of milk. For each ½ teaspoon soda used, reduce the baking powder 2 teaspoons. Sift the soda with the dry ingredients, and stir the sour cream batter slightly longer or the cake will be crumbly and too tender.

Redness of Devil's Food Cake Controled by Soda

If your devil's food cakes do not seem red enough, it is due to too small an amount of soda, as the red color in this type of cake is controled by the amount of soda used in the batter. However, increasing the soda tends to influence the flavor of the cake in a detrimental way. For those who are willing to sacrifice flavor for color, a good reddish shade may be obtained in the devil's food cake by using ¾ to 1 teaspoon of soda to 2 squares of chocolate.

IF SPICES ARE OLD, THROW 'EM AWAY, BUY NEW

It may sound extravagant, but it's just pure common sense to throw out spices that have lost their "kick."

If you feel that you are not getting the best flavor results from your spices, they may need the aroma test. Open the covers. Unless a full-bodied fragrance greets your nostrils, your spices probably have been aging—and aging does them no good, you may be assured!

Replace the old batch with a new supply—for once the rich fragrance has gone there is nothing that can be added to restore it. Spices depend upon their delicate volatile oils to give flavor and in ground spices these gradually evaporate just as perfume loses its strength.

Take an inventory—and you may be shocked to realize just how long you've had your present stock. Many homemakers expect their 10 cent cans of spices to last at least a quarter of a lifetime. Sad but true, they won't!

Here Are Suggestions on Whipping of Cream

If whipped cream will not stand up, it is often due to the fact that the cream is not sufficiently chilled. It is important, too, to have a heavy cream of the right butter fat [20 to 30 per cent] and 12 to 24 hours old. The cream must be cold, and is best beaten in a cold container. A rotary egg beater is better than a whisk for whipping cream.

STORES PRESENT BARGAIN LIST OF FOODS THIS WEEK

Sugar, Coffee and Flour Prices Reduced.

BY FRANK RIDGWAY.

Merchants' bargain lists are longer than usual this week. Today and tomorrow stores generally will have their counters and shelves loaded with foods at reduced prices. Most of the price cuts are on staples and fresh vegetables.

Sugar, coffee, and flour are being featured at lower prices. In many stores sugar is from 5 to 7 cents under last week's prices for a 10 pound bag. Leading brands of coffee, as well as the lower grades, have been reduced from 2 to 5 cents a pound under prices asked this time last week in most stores. Several stores in the city and nearby suburbs have cut their flour prices as much as 10 cents on a 24½ pound sack.

Butter Rises Again.

Butter is among the few foods that have been advanced in price. It has been increased for the third consecutive week. Storekeepers are asking from 1 to 2 cents a pound more than last week.

The next two days will be a good time to shop around for eggs. They have suddenly become unstable in price—some stores have raised the quotation on eggs while others have lowered it.

Retail potato prices still are a bit unsteady, although most stores are selling potatoes at about the same price as last week. Consumption of potatoes is said to have fallen sharply during the "dollar a peck" scare of two weeks ago. Market reporters say that movement of potatoes on the wholesale market is increasing and that prices are getting back to normal.

Old potatoes from Idaho and Wisconsin still may be found in a few stores. Canadian potatoes started pouring into Chicago when prices reached their highest poinnt, but the imports ceased when the market suddenly dropped. Most potato shipments to local markets now are coming from Arkansas, Oklahoma, California, and Alabama.

Cabbage Due for Drop.

Cabbage prices still are high, but are expected to go lower during the next few days. Wholesale prices of cabbage already are down. Most of the supplies are from the truck crop territory around St. Louis. Some are coming from Kentucky and California.

Included in the list of fresh fruits and vegetables that have been reduced in prices since last week are bananas, bunch carrots, green beans and peas, head lettuce, green onions, radishes, spinach, fresh tomatoes, cantaloupes, and bunch beets.

Most retail meat cuts are selling at about last week's prices. Pork loin roasts have been reduced three to five cents a pound in some shops. Many stores are featuring beef pot roasts and assorted cold meats. Cured hams are up one cent a pound and a few stores have raised the price of pork spare ribs about three cents a pound.

Meat Prices Held Steady.

Cool weather apparently has increased the demand for fresh meats and enabled butchers to hold most retail prices up, despite last week's heavy drop in many wholesale meat prices. There has been practically no change in the wholesale price of fresh meats since last week.

There were slight changes in live stock prices at the Union Stockyards during the week. The better grades of hogs advanced 10 to 20 cents a hundred pounds, reaching top for the week of $10.35, the highest price paid since May 7.

Beef steers went up 25 cents a hundred pounds and veal calves 50 cents. The week's top price was $9.75 a hundred, paid for a carload of highly finished Nebraska steers, weighing an average of 1,257 pounds. Live lambs sold 15 to 50 cents a hundredweight lower than last week.

Cherries and yellow transparent apples from Illinois orchards now are on the market here. Some Kentucky blackberries arrived this week.

Prune Nut Filling Goes Well with Ginger Bread

A delicious mixture to spread between the layers of hot gingerbread is a prune nut filling.

2 tablespoons orange juice.
2 teaspoons cornstarch.
⅛ teaspoon grated orange peel.
3 tablespoons chopped nuts.

Mix prune pulp, orange juice, and cornstarch. Cook until thickened. Cool and add remaining ingredients. Split hot gingerbread and spread with filling. Top with softened cream cheese and a sprinkling of nuts.

"I'M THROUGH FOOLIN' AROUND! there's just no substitute for real mayonnaise

"I TRIED 'em all. I know. Those ordinary dressings can never give you the wonderful flavor and creamy goodness of real mayonnaise like Hellmann's."

It's what goes into them that counts. You see, Hellmann's is all mayonnaise. It's made only from fine salad oil, freshly-broken eggs, a specially selected vinegar, and imported spices. And double-whipped to give it that wonderful creamy-smooth texture.

So remember, if you want your salads to be at their very best, always ask your grocer for Hellmann's Real Mayonnaise. It is so good . . . and costs but a trifle per salad!

TAPIOCA SAVES TIME IN MAKING FRESH FRUIT PIE

Helpful in Casserole Dishes, Too.

Tapioca is a splendid thickening agent for use in making fresh fruit pies. It is also a time-saver in making casserole dishes, as it eliminates the task of preparing a gravy with flour, or a white sauce.

The 1936 champion cherry pie which carried off honors during National Cherry week, used tapioca as an ingredient and was made as follows:

CHAMPION CHERRY PIE.

2 cups red sour cherries
1-3 cup cherry juice
1 cup sugar
2⅓ tablespoons quick cooking tapioca
1 recipe pastry

Combine cherries, juice, sugar, and tapioca. Let stand about 15 minutes or until pastry is made. Line a pie pan with pastry. Roll out crust for top of pie and perforate. Fill pie shell with cherry mixture. Moisten edges with cold water. Adjust top crust. Bake in hot oven [450 degrees F.] for about 15 minutes. Then decrease heat to moderate temperature [350 degrees F.] and bake 30 minutes longer.

FRESH STRAWBERRY PIE.

1 quart fresh strawberries
1 cup sugar
2 tablespoons quick cooking tapioca
1 recipe pie crust

Combine sliced strawberries, sugar, and tapioca and let stand about 15 minutes or while pastry is being made. Line a pie pan with pastry. Cut top of pie crust and make several incisions to permit escape of steam. Fill pie shell with berries. Moisten edge with cold water. Place upper crust on filled lower one. Press edges together with fork dipped in flour. Bake in hot oven [450 degrees F.] 15 minutes, then decrease heat to moderate [350 degrees F.] and bake about 30 minutes longer.

RHUBARB PIE.

3½ cups rhubarb, cut in ½ inch pieces
1¼ cups sugar
3 teaspoons water
1⅓ tablespoons quick cooking tapioca
1 recipe pastry

Combine rhubarb, sugar, water, and tapioca and let stand while pastry is being made. Line pie shell with pastry and fill with rhubarb mixture. Moisten edges with cold water and place perforated upper crust on lower one and press edges well together with fork dipped in flour. Bake in hot oven [450 degrees F.] 15 minutes, then decrease heat to moderate [350 degrees F.] and bake 30 to 40 minutes longer.

And now for a quick lamb casserole dish, using this same handy tapioca ingredient:

CASSEROLE OF LAMB.

1 pound breast of lamb, cut in small pieces
1 sliced onion, medium size
1 tablespoon butter
1 cup boiling water
1 cup diced carrots
1 cup diced potatoes
2 cups canned tomatoes
1⅓ teaspoons salt
¼ teaspoon pepper
3 tablespoons quick cooking tapioca

Brown meat and onion in butter, add water, and place in casserole. Cover and bake in 350 degrees F. oven for one hour or until lamb is tender. Add vegetables and seasonings, cover, and continue baking 30 to 35 minutes, or until vegetables are tender. Sprinkle quick cooking tapioca over top and mix carefully. Bake 5 minutes longer. Serves 6.

Number of Chicagoans to Watch Event.

few evening parties have been arranged, so the debutantes and their beaux will be delighted to hear that Mrs. J. Wallace Wakem is going to give a dinner-dance at the Saddle and Cycle club on Sept. 11 to present her granddaughter, Miss Celeste Wakem, the daughter of Mrs. Charles J. Haines.

Mrs. Wakem, who lives at the Ambassador East, is taking the debutante and her brother, Wallace S. Wakem II., to Desbarats for August, just the time that Desbarats is crowded with young people.

Before Mrs. Charles L. Trumbull and her daughters, Miss Lucy and Miss Mary Trumbull, left Evanston yesterday, bound for their summer home in upper Michigan, they set the date for Miss Mary's debut for the afternoon of Dec. 30. The party will be given in their Winnetka home and will be just the same kind of gay, informal party that was given four years ago to introduce Lucy. Mrs. Trumbull and her daughters will move into their house in October. It has been rented during the last year while they have been in California.

It is likely that Miss Nancy Poole and her younger brother, Richard, will be among the young people at Desbarats this summer, for Mr. and Mrs. Ralph H. Poole have been thinking of going up there for a few weeks. Ralph Jr. is working in New York, and will not be at home this summer. Miss Poole is returning from the east July 1 after a round of visits with friends. She was graduated early this month from Sarah Lawrence.

Miss Poole has decided not to have a formal debut party this year, for she was hostess at a large dinner last fall preceding Miss Clarice Hamill's debut supper-dance, and Miss Poole took part in the debutante festivities during the last winter. Miss Poole will take some special courses at the University of Chicago in the fall. Richard will return east in September for his last year at Hotchkiss.

Many Plan Parties for Louise Conway.

The last few days before Miss Louise Conway's and Gail Belden's marriage on June 27 are filled with parties for them. Mrs. Francis D. Weeks of Evanston, who is to be one of the bridesmaids, is giving a pantry shower tonight, and tomorrow night two other bridesmaids, Miss Jean Smith and Miss Barbara Barrett, will entertain the bridal party at dinner and dancing at the Exmoor Country club.

Mrs. George Parker and her daughter, Mrs. Leonard Bridges, will be hostesses at a kitchen shower next Tuesday, and that night Mr. and Mrs. James Lawrence Houghteling will give a dinner-dance at the Tavern. Mrs. Edward S. Rogers will give a swimming and supper party at her home in Winnetka on Wednesday, the same day that Mrs. James Prindiville will give a luncheon at the Indian Hill club. Mrs. Harry L. Street will give a dinner on Thursday at the Indian Hill club, and on the following evening the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Barret Conway, will give the bridal dinner at the same club.

The wedding is to take place at 4:30 o'clock in the afternoon at the Winnekta Congregational church and a reception will follow at the Conway home in Linden street.

Mr. and Mrs. John Drum [Isabel Davis] are entertaining at tea this afternoon for his mother, Mrs. Hunter Drum of Wilton, Conn. The senior Mrs. Drun will be in Chicago until the middle of next week, and there is a flurry of small informal parties being given for her by her old friends.

Sorge-Dunne Nuptials in Detroit Today.

Several Chicagoans will go to Detroit today for the wedding tomorrow of Miss Ruth Ann Sorge of that city and Edward J. Dunne of Chicago. The ceremony, which only members of the family will witness, will be held at the chancery of the Catholic diocese of Detroit at high noon. A breakfast will follow at the University club. Robert J. Hummer of Chicago will be Mr. Dunne's best man and Mrs. Carl M. Berry of Kansas City will attend the bride, who is the daughter of Mrs. Paul A. Sorge.

Among the wedding guests will be the bridegroom's father, former Gov. Edward F. Dunne of Illinois. Also going over from Chicago for the ceremony will be Miss Jeannette Dunne, Mrs. William J. Corboy, Mr. and Mrs. Arthur T. Leonard, Mr. and Mrs. Richard J. Dunne, Mr. and Mrs. Maurice F. Dunne, Mr. and Mrs. R. Jerome Dunne, and Mrs. Robert J. Hummer. Also present will be Mr. and Mrs. Edward F. Dunne Jr. of New Jersey.

Lake Geneva Theater Season Opens Tonight.

Residents of Lake Geneva and the surrounding countryside are interested in two performances of Philip Barry's "Holiday" to be presented by the Belfry Theater players tonight and tomorrow night in a quaint old Mormon church near Williams bay. The performances will be given for the benefit of Holiday home, the pet charity of many prominent Chicagoans who have summer homes in Lake Geneva.

Mrs. Albert F. Madlener Jr. is the new president of Holiday home, which annually provides a two weeks' summer outing for 500 of Chicago's underprivileged children. Among the directors of the home are Mrs. Henry Bartholomay, Simeon B. Chapin, Charles R. Crane, Mrs. Edwin B. Frost, Mrs. Augustus K. Maxwell, and the senior Mrs. Albert F. Madlener.

The Belfry theater group was organized in 1933, and now numbers 30 members from the Lake Geneva region. The players expect to give a series of plays during the summer.

Mrs. Frank A. Rehm, who has one of the old homes in Lake Geneva, is entertaining two grandchildren, Charles and Roxanna, the son and daughter of Mrs. Allan A. Floyd of Reno, Nev. Mrs. Floyd brought them east with her and left them in Lake Geneva with her mother while she went to New York to find an apartment to occupy next winter. Although Mr. and Mrs. Floyd are building one of the most beautiful new homes in Nevada on their ranch near Reno, they have decided to make New York their permanent address, and will be settled in the east in the fall.

Sheltering Pines.

BY NANCY CABOT.

"Sheltering Pines" is one of the old Wisconsin blocks which has, as its inspiration, the work of an elderly settler planting a row of pine trees around an orchard and farm building to protect them from blizzards. The block is one of the simplest and most effective of the many applique blocks, and an ideal one for the amateur quiltmaker. In spite of the fact that it is more than 75 years old, the design possesses a distinctly modern note.

Lake Forest Homes Opened for Benefits

Five of Lake Forest's attractive young girls modeled negligées at the Woman's exchange sale yesterday at Mrs. Lester Armour's beautiful home on Sheridan road in Lake Forest. Consequently the negligee department was one of the most successful of the day, for every purchaser, of course, hoped she would look as youthful and charming in her new garment as did Miss Beth Coleman, or Miss Betty Keith, or Miss Anne Winston, or Miss Peggy Clow or Miss Clarice Hamill.

The house lured many who otherwise might not have put themselves in a position to be tempted to buy any of the lovely things for which the exchange is noted, for it was the first time Mrs. Armour had opened the house for a semi-public affair since it was built by David Adler four or five years ago.

French colonial in style, of cream color brick with dark green shutters, the house is one of the most charming on the north shore, and every one who saw it for the first time was enthusiastic about the subdued, neutral colors of the decorations.

A log fire in the library added to the comfort of those who were there and almost every one, saleswomen as well as customers, wore a sweater or coat. The terrace, on a bluff overlooking the lake, did not tempt the visitors to come out there to obtain a better view, for the wind was too cold for comfort. Mrs. Armour, like many of the women, was wearing a knitted dress, of a lovely shade of rose, and over it she had on a brown sweater. Mrs. Robert A. Gardner, an assistant, wore a blue knit and Mrs. William H. Mitchell, another helper, wore a navy blue sweater over her smart wine color linen frock.

Some of those who visited the house during the day, either to assist in selling or to buy, or to do both, were Mrs. George A. Ranney, Mrs. Kersey C. Reed and her sister, Mrs. Charles H. Schweppe, Mrs. T. Philip Swift, Mrs. Alden B. Swift, Mrs. William McCormick Blair, Mrs. A. Hill Whiting, Mrs. James S. Kemper, Mme. Cardelli, Miss Cornelia Conger, Miss Margaret Conover, Mrs. Frank E. Wilhelm and her daughter, Mrs. Daggett Harvey, and the latter's mother-in-law, Mrs. Byron S. Harvey, and Mrs. Charles F. Glore.

Another beautiful Lake Forest house designed by David Adler was opened for charity yesterday, that of Mrs. Leslie Wheeler's, in Woodlawn avenue. About 160 women played bridge and had tea to benefit the Presbyterian Woman's Guild of Lake Forest. Almost every one there had seen the house before, either as a guest of Mr. and Mrs. Wheeler at one of the parties they have given since they moved into the house last fall, or at the Eli Bates sale held there in November.

Church Social Action Group Is Under Fire

BY THE REV. JOHN EVANS.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

South Hadley, Mass., June 18.—[Special.] — Resolutions demanding that the Congregational and Christian churches chart a more conservative social and economic course, were received today by the general council of that denomination in session here.

These resolutions, offered by a notable congregation and by a powerful group of eastern members of the denomination, attack especially the activties of the church's council for social action and the resolution passed by the council two years ago at Oberlin, O. This resolution condemned "the profit motive" in industry as being destructive and un-Christian.

Prof. Arthur E. Holt of Chicago Theological seminary, is a founder and chief director of the council for social action. The resolutions will be offered to the council tomorrow.

One resolution, prepared by a Montclair, N. J. group, which includes some of the members of the denomination's endowment holding corporation, declared that the council for social action lacks preparation on the question of the relation of Christianity to the economic system. "We of the general council," the resolution then states, "urge upon the council for social action to pursue its research, and, recognizing the right of private judgment and the wide room for differences of interpretation to submit in due course its applicable plans and recommendations."

The resolution then demanded that the Oberlin anti-profit motive resolution be rescinded.

The powerful South Congregational church of New Britain, Conn., recently voted to "rescind and disavow" the Oberlin resolution and offered a resolution to the general council demanding action against it in the name of the whole church. This resolution asked the council to "review seriously the present policies and aims of the council for social action," and expressed doubt concerning the "wisdom of much of the council's program especially as expressed in the Oberlin resolution."

The report of the general council committee on denominational history which will be presented later, quotes the late moderator, Dr. Jay T. Stocking, to the effect that the Oberlin resolution has already been repudiated.

Youthful Skin, Long After 30? Of Course

DOES it seem impossible? Thousands of women have this allure of youthful, dewy-fresh skin at 30—35—40 and after. A new cream, applied at night like cold cream, acts in scientific way to free skin of that veil of semi-visible darkening particles which ordinary creams cannot remove after a certain age. So gentle, and often only 5 days is enough to bring out rose petal softness and white clear look of youth. The way it eliminates ugly pimples, blackheads, freckles is a revelation! SHERIDAN ROAD

By Helen Topping Miller

SYNOPSIS.

Eden Faraday, young secretary, opens the door of a taxi early in the morning and finds a man murdered. She and the driver are taken to the police station, where Eden is allowed to call her grandmother. Eden's mother sells gowns. Eden and her young sister, Robin, and Coburn, her brother, depend on their peppery Gran. Owen Field of the district attorney's office arranges Eden's release, though she is needed as a witness.

INSTALMENT V.

A SPOILED BROTHER.

"Sorry for your Mr. Garnett then," said Coburn. "By this time he is probably out of a job. Any photographer who would miss a fat beat like that would be fired without any music."

"I'm no society girl," Eden complained, "I'm merely a hard-working wage earner trying to get along."

"Working women don't interest the mob who read this sheet. They want their women trailing satin and sinning in pink boudoirs. Bridget's not coming to dinner—she telephoned. Where's Bob?"

"Dressing for a dance—in my clothes."

"You spoil the brat."

Eden regarded him. Handsome—he looked like their mother—and lazy, Coburn had never had a thought or impulse that did not concern himself.

"You're slightly spoiled yourself.—I must remind you. Your grades were dreadful last term—that isn't fair to mother and me. We're giving up a lot to keep you in that school."

Coburn narrowed his handsome eyes. "You may give up something, Edie, but you know Bridget isn't cramping herself. She gets what she wants."

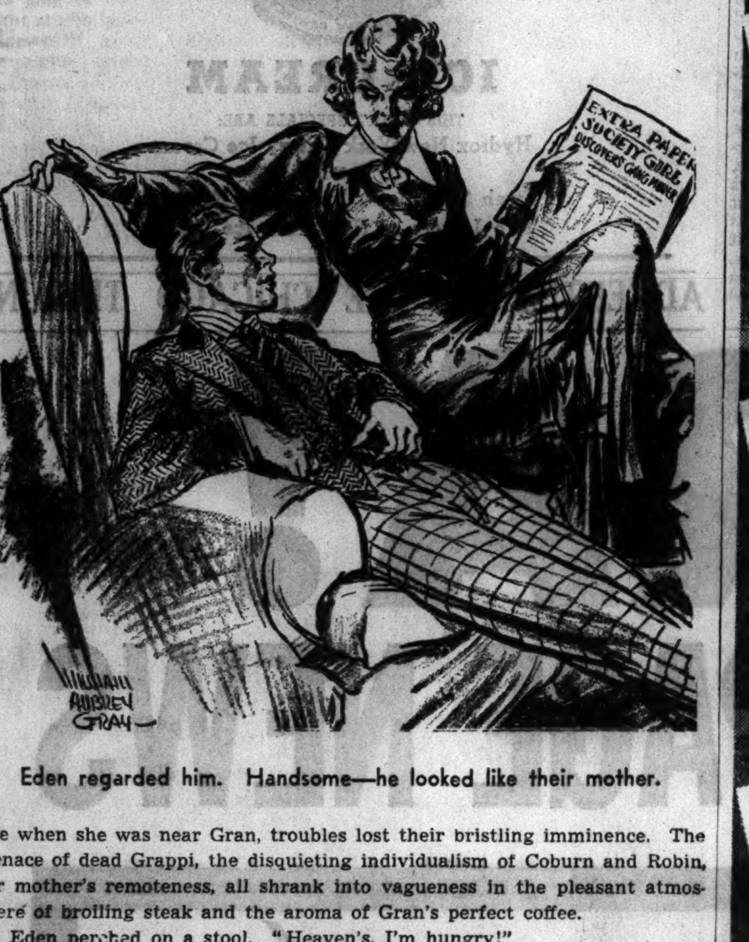
"That isn't a nice way to talk about your mother, Coburn."

"O, for the love of Judas, don't start lecturing! I get enough of that all day."

"At the Poinsettia?"

"So the little devil blabbed, did she? All right, I'll just publish a few hot items about her, the sneaky——"

Eden did not wait for the rest. She went out to the kitchen where Gran was splitting hot baked potatoes and putting butter and paprika in their steamy hearts. Gran was always brisk and bustling, but there was a competent atmosphere of peace surrounding her. Eden felt young and safe when she was near Gran, troubles lost their bristling imminence. The menace of dead Grappi, the disquieting individualism of Coburn and Robin, her mother's remoteness, all shrank into vagueness in the pleasant atmosphere of broiling steak and the aroma of Gran's perfect coffee.



Eden regarded him. Handsome—he looked like their mother.

Eden perched on a stool. "Heaven's, I'm hungry!"

"No wonder. You've had nothing to eat all day."

"Mother's not coming, Coburn says."

Gran's lips tightened a little. "It's that Creighton, I suppose?"

"You don't like Sidney Creighton, do you, Gran?"

"He's younger than Bridget. And he worships his god every time he goes past a mirror. Understand, Edie, I'm not finding fault with your mother. Bridget's had a tough row to hoe—she's fought for you all and made a place for herself in the world and that isn't so easy when a woman has her looks. You'll find that out yourself. There's a lot of prowlers out on the make—and that Creighton looks like one of 'em to me—and the Lord knows I've heard the pack yelpin' the most of my life. You can't go in and out of a stage door for sixteen years without getting a pretty good view of the cussedness of men."

"I wish I could remember my father," Eden said.

"I spoiled him. And I spoiled Robin and Coburn, too. I would have spoiled you but you're made like me. There's a core of good metal in you that won't melt nor bend. It's no credit to us—we're just lucky. You'll see the day when you'll want to break and soften and you'll find you can't do it. The soft ones can break—but life can break them, too. Remember that, when men say you're hard hearted."

"I'll remember, Gran."

Unexpectedly Bridget Faraday came home early.

Robin had gone to a dance and Coburn was listening to a fight on the radio while Eden, her conscience troubling her, argued with Gran.

"I should go, really, Gran. Those Elys depended on me—and it's a big order. Mr. McLachlan ought not to lose it."

"Call up," Gran's small chin was stubborn. "They know by this time what happened to you. They won't expect you."

"Coburn could go with me."

"Coburn could not!" he drawled. "Not till after this decision anyway. Telephone—tell the customers to dash out and buy themselves some chop suey."

Gran did one of her swift reversals, her black eyes flashing. "You could at least go with your sister, when she's trying to help us all."

"O, skip it, Gran—I'm listening to this. This Field fellow told her not to go out, didn't he? Well?"

It was then that Bridget came in with Sidney Creighton. Eden felt her heart close with the little hurting click that tortured her whenever she saw her lovely mother with Sidney Creighton.

Creighton's head was always carried imperiously, his long eyes were saturnine, a small, gallant mustache did not hide the sensuous curve of his lips. His hair was graying at the temples, but he was the type who would never be old. A debonair sort of ruthlessness would keep him youthful till his last day, defeat frantically the decay of that well-tended body.

Bridget tossed her furs over a chair. "I worried about you, Edie, when Sidney told me what a dreadful creature this Grappi was. So we decided at the end of the first act to come home."

"I heard that that show was rotten," Coburn said callously. "Do you mind keeping quiet for a little? I've got a bet up on this fight."

"Don't be rude, Coburn. Give me a cigaret." Bridget Faraday's voice, her gestures, every move of her beautiful body had a finished completeness. Her hair lay in softly sculptured waves. Her makeup pointed her mature beauty without being obvious. Looking at her Eden knew that neither she nor Robin would ever be as handsome as their mother.

"Edie thinks she ought to go back to that hotel," grumbled Gran. "She thinks that woman may get away without buying any towels if she doesn't see her tonight."

"It isn't that exactly—but Mrs. Ely depends on me. And that girl from the Murray company is after her—it's a big order and Mr. McLachlan needs the business."

"Coburn won't go with her," added Gran.

Sidney Creighton crushed his cigaret out, and looked at Eden with his slow, amused gaze. She felt again the touch of nausea, as though hands were stripping her body, her blood knew the surge of that odd fury chilled with fear that he inspired in her.

"Would I do?" he asked.

A swift small change came over Bridget Faraday's face. Her eyes grew a little stony, her lips drew in. All her years leaped to line her face, then as quickly withdrew as her control returned.

She said, "I think I'll go myself, Sid. If Eden has convictions she'll be tormented until she does what she believes she ought to do. She gets that grimness from me. And I haven't been a very devoted mother lately. If I had I wouldn't have an unmannerly brute for a son, and perhaps Eden wouldn't have stumbled into this unhappy affair. I'll be ready in a moment, Edy. You can trail along Sid, if you're yearning to be gallant."

"Delighted," Sidney Creighton sat down to wait, but Eden caught the dryness in his voice. She knew what it was—that sly, suave satisfaction of the man who knows his power over women. Her mother was jealous. She was sorry Bridget had let her poise be shaken.

Gran said, "You wear your heavy coat."

"Robin wore my coat."

Creighton laughed. "Robin gets the best of this family always, doesn't she? I suppose she wore her mother's best dress.'

"No," said Eden, levelly, "mine."

New Contract Not All Roses to Skipworth

Alison Gives Up Hopes of Being Free for Time.

BY GEORGE SHAFFER.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Hollywood, Cal., June 18.—[Special.]—A friendly, familiar soul walked into a Hollywood boulevard bank. She was ferreting through her big purse for some mislaid item and nodding to this person and that as they glanced at her and half smiled.

"Ah, there it is," Alison Skipworth said, breathing relief. "I thought I had lost it. It's one of those studio checks. The studios are such a bother. Here I have been out here six years and working all the time. I never liked it. I thought when Paramount didn't take up my option on Monday that at last I was free; free like a bird to go where I pleased and do what I pleased. And now, what has happened" [her face grew long].

"On Tuesday Paramount studio starts me to work on a new picture. I can't go where I please and I can't do what I please. O dear! I feel as though I were a weakling to put up with it."

She added, as an afterthought, "The fact they pay me $200 a week more than when they dropped my contract has nothing to do with it. It ought not to have influenced me. But here I am working along in pictures again and liking it no better than I ever did."

For its side of the deal, however, Paramount studio is delighted to have Miss Skipworth again, particularly after the public reception given "The Princess Comes Across" in which she appears with Carole Lombard and Fred MacMurray.

Paul Hajos, brother of Mitzi Hajos, well remembered star of tuneful operettas, and himself an organist and composer, temporarily is working as doorman at a Los Angeles undertaker's parlor. Hajos is a composer of rhumba tunes familiar to dancers.

Doris Dudley will play Katharine Hepburn's sister in "Portrait of a Rebel."

Clark Gable, Bette Davis, and a group of others made the roller coaster rides at Santa Monica beach, much to the thrill of the awed throngs of spectators.

Louise Fazenda says that while she and Hal Wallis may adopt a companion for their 3 year old son, Brent Wallis, that it is not true they took formal steps for such an adoption at Evanston's famous Cradle. She visited the Cradle because she is much interested in babies and wanted to see the place from which the Al Jolsons, the Pat O'Briens, and Gracie Allen adopted their youngsters.

When Irving Cummings finished directing "Girls' Dormitory" at Twentieth-Century-Fox, he singled out one of the feminine stars and gave her a hearty, sincere piece of his mind because of tantrums and unpleasant incidents that occurred during the filming. "I hope I never have to contend with situations such as arose during this picture," Cummings said and stomped off the set leaving the young lady in question standing pop-eyed.

Director Clarence Brown, who was a wartime flying instructor, arose at 6 a. m., visited his doctor, had the latter reset Brown's broken elbow, and was on his set at 9 a. m., directing Joan Crawford in "The Glorious Hussy." Miss Crawford's own husband, Franchot Tone, as replaced Walter Abel in the rôle of the young politician whom Joan marries.

Metro studio recently promulgated a rule that its actresses must not get themselves all tanned because of makeup difficulties. Maureen O'Sullivan, however, was exempted. In fact she was encouraged to soak up sunbeams because she needs heavy tan to wear with her jungle habiliments in the new Johnny Weissmuller Tarzan yarn, "Tarzan Escapes."

Margaret Lindsay says the way she keeps her figure is to drink one glass of orange juice before each meal and another glass immediately afterward.

Anna Sten is back in Hollywood to resume the film career interrupted by her withdrawal from her Sam Goldwyn contract, and she is personally supervising the redecoration of her home in Santa Monica. Her husband, Dr. Frenke, is here with her.

THROUGH THE LOOKING GLASS

There are some awfully pretty little compacts around town at the moment that are as summery as the airiest of your frocks or accessories. They're not expensive, either—and you'll wonder that so much of daintiness and feminine good taste could be embodied in metals.

These are a nice size, flat, and less than three inches long. The backs of all are golden, but the lids are available in a variety of enamels in summer shades—pale yellow, hydrangea blue, nasturtium, black, and white. Tiny gold dots are embossed on the lid.

The mirror is generous and you may take your choice of loose powder and dry rouge or a compartment for loose powder alone.

You'll like these because they're smart summer accessories and well constructed to boot.

If you're going places soon, or even if you're sticking close to your own air conditioned hearth, you should invest in some of those bags [they're breaking out in many shapes and sizes] that have the trick fasteners consisting of a series of clips that slide easily along on a slim chain. There are small ones in which you can keep your cosmetics in your purse.

There is a love of a "tourist" bag of silk, waterproof lined, that you can use for everything from your bathing kit to week-end necessities. Then there is a polka dotted beach bag, with a rakish head scarf to match. Some are fitted pouches, with empty jars and bottles you can fill with your own things. One is an oiled silk container for your tooth paste and brush when you travel. They're all attractive and unbelievably handy to have around.

GIRL'S CULOTTE DRESS.

If your figure demands that you wear something over size 16 you are going to be exceedingly jealous of the wispy young things who will have an opportunity to wear this dashing sports ensemble this summer! It is designed for sizes up to 16 only, which leaves many figures out of consideration, but if you are a mother you have the consolation of having the clever outfit in the family, anyway, and making it for your growing daughter.

The ensemble consists of culotte skirt, tied halter blouse, visor bandeau, and cape. The divided skirt is cut generously to assure the wearer of grace and plenty of leg room for action on tennis court or beach. The halter blouse ties smartly in the back and fits the waistline snugly. Its clever neckline is squared and trimmed with buttons which, we'll tell you beforehand, serve also to anchor the brief cape. The visor cap, which protects the eyes from the sun and keeps a vigorous young girl's flowing locks in place, repeats the fabric, in this case printed, of the blouse.

The original model consists of the culottes in navy blue linenlike cotton; the blouse in navy and white dotted fabric; visor of the same; and the cape to match the trousers.

Style No. 3493 is designed for sizes 8, 10, 12, 14, and 16 years. Size 12 requires 1½ yards of 39 inch material for the culotte, with 1 yard of 39 inch material for the halter and cap and ¾ yard of 39 inch material for the cape.

Fashions in Baby's Clothes Are Stationary

BY GLADYS HUNTINGTON BEVANS

The baby's a conservative young "feller" as far as fashions are concerned. Except that his clothes are fewer and softer there hasn't been much change in the "cut of their jib" since—well, since I was buying or making them myself.

I knew this to be true—still I thought there might be something in our good shops that would surprise me with its novelty. So I started my tour of shopping with a store which has the reputation of being a bit swankier and higher priced than some others, and about the only surprise I got was to find that they carried as inexpensive baby clothes as any store in town!

Of course, there were elaborate christening robes and imported handmade embroidered dresses and delicate jackets of a fabric like dainty albatross, lined with silk. But also there were dainty slips for less than $1 and cunning little flannel [like a light domet] jackets or kimonos bound in silk for as little as 50 cents. Kimonos were obtainable also in the much used cotton knitwear, and most practical they are, too. And always there are fluffy jackets knitted of the softest wools that are like thistledown in the hand.

The question as to how early in life the baby boy should dress differently from the baby girl is not a live one in the fashion world. In the 18 inch dress that the baby graduates into after he stops being a "long clothes baby" he occasionally finds a little round boyish collar on a dress, but few mothers really care for such fine distinctions. All they do, perhaps, is not to choose for their small son too feminine a model, like one I saw in sheer pastel colors with tiny puffed sleeves and ribbon bows on the shoulders. This was in the 18 inch length, of course.

A layette can really be assembled at a small cost, and you don't want to get too much at first. But if you must count every penny and like to sew and knit you can cut the cost still further if you plan and buy materials carefully. Nainsook, batiste, and pure dye silk [crêpe de chine], smocked or with tiny tucks, I found charming and so practical to launder.

Clothes for the baby's first year will be discussed in detail next week.

[Copyright: 1936: By The Chicago Tribune-N. Y. News Syndicate, Inc.]

A layette list will be sent out on receipt of a large, stamped, self-addressed envelope with your request.

Mrs. Bevans' column also appears in the Sunday Tribune.

CHOOSING THE CONTRACT.

The hand I am presenting today was sent to me by Thomas H. Peebles of Boston, Mass., to illustrate excellent deduction and clever "squeezing" by a declarer at a small slam contract in no trump.

I have no reason to cavil at the statement that the hand was exceedingly well played. The description of the play, given below, speaks for itself. The more important point about this hand, however, is that it preaches a sermon, which is just this: No trump slam contracts, unless twelve tricks are cold, usually require absolute perfection in play. The average player is not up to difficult squeeze plays and therefore it is only the better part of wisdom for him to choose contracts that will not offer involved problems.

Compare the tortuous line of play necessary at six no trump with the simple line at six hearts, and my meaning will become crystal clear.

North, dealer.
Both sides vulnerable.

The bidding:

North	East	South	West
1 club	Pass	2 hearts	Pass
3 clubs	Pass	3 dimds.	Pass
4 no trp.	Pass	5 no trp.	Pass
6 no trp.	Pass	Pass	Pass

The queen of spades was opened and taken by North, who finessed the ten of hearts. West, winning, returned a spade which was taken by North, who discarded a diamond from dummy.

The deuce of diamonds was led and the queen successfully finessed and the king of hearts was laid down. Since the queen dropped, the remainder of the hearts was played out, West discarding two small spades. North reasoned that West was protecting four clubs to the jack, and so discarded his four and three of clubs. The North hand now was entered with a club, and the ace, king, and queen played out, leaving North with two cards, the four of diamonds and the deuce of spades. West was left with the two minor suit jacks, and dummy with the ace-10 of diamonds. East, becoming squeezed, had to bare his diamond king or part with his spade. If West had saved a spade and thrown the jack of diamonds, North could take the A-10 finesse against the diamond king.

Incidentally, a diamond opening and a diamond return by West when on lead with the heart jack would have scotched the eventual squeeze and defeated the contract.

Now let us consider the simple play at six hearts. Regardless of the opening lead, South merely would have to take the diamond finesse [also necessary at six no trump] and ruff one diamond in the dummy. The queen of clubs and king of spades would provide tricks for the discarding of the other two diamonds. The only conditions necessary to success would be a reasonable break in hearts and a successful finesse against the diamond king.

An infinitely easier contract to play, I should say, than six no trump.

TODAY'S QUESTION.

Question: My partner was declarer at three no trump. One of the opponents held four aces. Does he get credit for 150 honors?

Answer: Yes. Honors go to the side that holds them, regardless of which side plays the contract.

Recital by Students Marks Commencement of Sherwood School

The Sherwood Music school rounded out 41 years last night with the annual concert and commencement at Orchestra hall. The purely musical part of the exercises consisted of performances by nine student soloists with the support of the Sherwood Symphony orchestra, and of one number, Weber's "Euryanthe" overture, by the orchestra alone.

The pianists appearing were Esther Bernstein, Harold Berlinger, Evelyn Sampson, and Ejnar Krantz. The last two divided the Schumann concerto between them, Miss Sampson taking the first movement and Mr. Krantz the second and third. Jocelyn Powell and Robert Fries played movements of violin concertos by Mozart and Tschaikowsky, respectively.

Leona Glovatsky, Maria Saviniemi, and Maxine Lagerstrom were the only vocalists on the program, the first singing an excerpt from a Mozart "Credo," the last two a "La Giaconda" duo. P. Marinus Paulsen conducted the orchestra, and Arthur Wildman, assistant musical director of Sherwood Music school, conferred degrees, diplomas, and certificates.

Don't Be Fat!
says IRENE RICH
Lovely Lady of the Screen

"Eat Sensibly—Drink Welch's Grape Juice"

HERE, at last, is a SAFE way to reduce. A way that does NOT call for strict dieting, exercising, or taking drugs. A way that actually increases your mental and physical energy as pounds of ugly fat seemingly melt away.

Please read carefully: In a recent test, held under the direction of the eminent Dr. Damrau of New York, 14 people who were gaining at the rate of 1⅓ pounds a month, followed this method. And the average loss registered was 7 pounds a person in a single month—WITHOUT STRICT DIETING OR EXERCISING.

What You Do

Now, all you have to do is this: Mix ¾ of a glass of Welch's Grape Juice with ¼ of a glass of water—and drink before each meal, and at bedtime. Then eat sensibly—and this is what happens.

First, Welch's Grape Juice satisfies your normal craving for rich, sweet foods. You have less desire to over-eat fattening foods—yet you do feel comfortably satisfied.

Second, the grape sugar in Welch's is quickly burned up—producing vital energy—and, most important, helps nature to burn up excess fat.

Irene Rich is over 40, but weighs the same as at 16

Thus, weight is lost naturally and safely. Often at the rate of 7 pounds a month, or more.

Only One Thing To Watch

In following this proved, SAFE way to lose ugly fat, eat sensibly—and then there is only one thing to watch. Use only the genuine Welch's Grape Juice. In order to get the finest, selected, premium grapes grown we pay more than anyone in the United States. That is why Welch's is always full strength. No adulterants; no artificial coloring—Certified Pure. Insist upon Welch's.

"Gives Quick Pep and Energy"

"Red" Woodworth, All-American Star and Coach at Morgan Park Military Academy, says: "Welch's Grape Juice gives my boys strength and energy without adding health-destroying fat. The minerals and vitamins are valuable in helping to build red blood, strong bones and teeth. I recommend it for all growing children and athletes. I have also found it excellent between meals as a quick energy pickup-drink for children and grown ups."

WHITEHEAD PITCHES 3 HIT GAME; SOX WIN, 1 TO 0

SCORE IN FIFTH TO BEAT BOSTON AND TAKE SERIES

Marcum Yields Only Six Safeties.

BY EDWARD BURNS.

Big John Whitehead, who has been getting better and better during the merry month of June, yesterday reached the peak of his major league form when he presided at a 1 to 0 White Sox victory over the Boston Red Sox. The silent Texan held the Bostonese to three rolling singles and otherwise did not suffer a runner to reach first base.

Whitehead was supported in his grand performance by an errorless cast, which was fine but not remarkable, for there were few hard hit balls. Cramer, who led off the seventh with the second Boston hit, was the first runner to reach second. He got to third on two infield outs and was the only one to get that far. Werber, who forced McNair in the eighth, was the only other runner to get to second.

Has Perfect Control.

Whitehead not only refused to walk a batsman but he threw three wide ones to only one of the visitors, that one being Almada, the first batsman of the game.

It was a tough one for Johnny Marcum to lose, of course. But if it was to be a 1 to 0 game he had it coming, for the White Sox run was acquired on sound socking. Manager Jimmy Dykes opened the fifth with a double off the left field wall and scored on Frankie Grube's single to center. Radcliff added a double to this uprising and the Chicagoans had runners on third and second with one out, only to see Whitehead doubled at the plate on Piet's fly to Dusty Cooke.

The White Sox made only six hits off Marcum, a single by Mule Haas in the first, a single by Radcliff in the third, a single by Bonura in the fourth, and the aforesaid doubles and single in the fifth. The Comiskeys never got a man on base after the fifth.

Near Fourth Place.

The outcome gave the White Sox their first series in four with the Red Sox, two games to one. It was their third victory in twelve games played this year, also three games in the last four played with the Red Sox.

The White Sox went into a virtual fourth place tie with the Cleveland Indians and the Detroit Tigers, each now being one game below the .500 mark. A fraction of a percentage point separates the three teams.

All the base running in the first two innings was done by the White Sox, but when the contest went into the third inning the score was nothing-all. Haas singled with two out in the first and Bonura ended it with a pop to Cronin. In the second Appling reached second when Cooke got too fancy and dropped his easy fly. The break meant nothing more than an error for Dusty, however, for Kreevich was called out on strikes, Dykes fouled to Werber and Grube flied to Almada.

Boston Gets a Hit.

Ferrell broke the sequence of Boston outs by singling to left with one out in the third inning, but forthwith was forced by Marcum. Almada then flied to Kreevich. Radcliff singled to right with one out in the home third, but was sunk, Almada to McNair, trying to stretch his shot into a double. Piet flied to Cooke.

The Red Sox were retired in order in the fourth, but in the Chicago half Bonura singled to left and went from first to third while Cronin was throwing out Appling. Kreevich popped to McNair.

In the fifth the Red Sox went out in order for the fourth time, after which the White Sox netted one run on two doubles and a single. Dykes opened with a two base liner off the left field wall and scored on Grube's single to right. Whitehead attempted to sacrifice and forced Grube, after which Radcliff came through with a double to right, Whitehead stopping at third. Piet flied to Cooke and Whitehead was doubled at the plate, Cooke to Ferrell.

The Red Sox were disposed of in

All-Star Game Lineups Take Definite Shape

Boston, Mass., June 18.—(AP)—Selection of players for the major league All-Star teams that will meet here July 1 took definite form tonight as the close of balloting by the nation's baseball fans neared.

On the basis of the voting to date the American league infield will be as follows: Lou Gehrig, New York Yankees, first base; Charley Gehringer, Detroit Tigers, second base; Luke Appling, Chicago, shortstop; Jimmy Dykes, Chicago, third base.

In the outfield Joe Di Maggio of the Yankees seems certain of the left field berth, with Earl Averill of Cleveland in center and Mule Haas of the White Sox in right field.

Cochrane Leads Catchers.

Mickey Cochrane, manager of the world champion Tigers, seemed to have the catching berth sewed up, with Bill Dickey of the Yankees running second and Billy Sullivan of Cleveland in third place.

The pitching assignment, unless last minute voting changes the situation radically, will fall to Lefty Grove of Boston, Lefty Gomez of New York, Monte Pearson of New York, and Schoolboy Rowe of the Tigers.

The National league lineup seems settled, with each of the following having a long lead over all competitors:

Manager Bill Terry of the Giants, first base; Bill Herman of the Cubs, second base; Pinky Whitney of the Phillies, third base; Arky Vaughan of the Pirates, shortstop; Ducky Medwick of the Cardinals, left field; Frank Demaree of the Cubs, right field, and either Hank Leiber of the Giants or Wally Berger of the Bees in center field.

Likely N. L. Battery.

Carl Hubbell, Giant pitcher, and Gabby Hartnett, Cub catcher, were generally accepted tonight as the starting battery for the National league. Dizzy Dean of the Cardinals, Van Mungo of the Dodgers, and Lon Warneke of the Cubs were running next to Hubbell. Paul Dean's vote gave him a slim chance of getting in.

Hartnett has polled the highest individual total of the 287 players mentioned in the tabulation. Behind him were Gus Mancuso of the Giants and Jimmy Wilson of the Phillies.

The final tabulation will be announced June 27.

Manager Jimmy Dykes welcomes Larry Rosenthal, new Sox outfielder purchased from St. Paul. Rosenthal replaces Vernon Washington.

N. C. A. A. TO OPEN ALL-STAR TRACK PROGRAM TODAY

Winners to Be One Step from Olympics.

America's track and field champions will advance to within a step of a trip to Berlin when they open the two day championship meet of the National Collegiate Athletic association at Stagg field this afternoon in the semi-final Olympic qualification test. The athletic club and varsity alumni stars get their chance in the east next month and the leaders in the two big meets will be thrown together for the final tryouts just before the ship sails on July 15.

Big Ten, central intercollegiate, southeast, middle south, southwestern, Pacific coast, Rocky mountain, far northwest and the Atlantic slope have sent the prize competitors of the 1936 varsity season. Seventy-seven colleges and universities, an all time American record, have nominater their Olympic team hopes. Only sectional champions, winners in the various conference and district meets and runnerup performers have been invited.

The entry list includes 276 athletes, although duplications of men competing in more than one event swells the total nominations to 451. There will be fully 100 men in competition whose home sectors believe are of Olympic team caliber.

Two Final Events Today.

The trials will start this afternoon at 2 o'clock. Finals in two events, the high jump and the hop, step and jump will be staged as well as preliminary heats and qualifying tests in all other events except the 1,500 meters, 5,000 meters and the pole vault.

Fourteen finals will be staged tomorrow at 2:30.

The coaches face an almost hopeless task this morning in seeding the sprint and hurdle heats, for there are so many stars entered that half a dozen of the best ones may have to be crowded into the same heat.

Many Big Names.

The three biggest names on the program are those of Jesse Owens of Ohio State, world's record holder in both sprints, low hurdles, and broad jump; Archie Williams of California, new quarter mile sensation, and Don Lash of Indiana, who last week set a new world's record of 8:58.3 for two miles. But, there are probably 30 more definite Olympic team men scattered through the meet.

T. Nelson Metcalfe, athletic director at the University of Chicago, who is chairman of the N. C. A. A. track committee, said yesterday as the entry lists were closed and the program sent to the printer, "This N. C. A. A. meet has finally reached its goal. In its early years we sent entry blanks to every college in the country and hoped to get entries from half of them.

Missed Only a Few.

"That isn't true any more. This year the N. C. A. A. track committee, in drawing up a list of the college men who had a good chance to make the Olympic team, missed only a few. One or two more are a bit doubtful because of injuries, and I feel that the meet will be the greatest American college athletics has ever presented to the public."

The semi-annual meeting of the National Collegiate Track Coaches' association convened yesterday at Bartlett gymnasium at the University of Chicago with a clinical discussion and election of officers for the coming year. The rules committee, headed by T. Nelson Metcalfe of Chicago, will meet today, after which the two day session will adjourn.

Franklin P. Johnson, Drake university, was reëlected president. Frank Potts, Colorado university, was appointed vice president, and Ward Haylett, Kansas State, was elected secretary treasurer. The new advisory council is composed of Carl Olson, Pittsburgh; Wilbur Hutzsell, Alabama Polytechnic institute; E. C. Hayes, Indiana; Ralph Young, Michigan State; Henry Schulte, Nebraska, and Dean Cromwell, Southern California.

Chicago May See Braddock, Louis Fight in September

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

New York, June 18.—If Joe Louis whips Max Schmeling tomorrow night at Yankee stadium, it seems quite likely he will meet Jimmy Braddock for the heavyweight championship of the world in Chicago in September. Despite reports to the contrary, Braddock already has signed to fight Louis in the event he whips the German. Today Mike Jacobs, who has Louis under contract until 1940, asked Joe Triner, chairman of the Illinois athletic commission, to arrange for the match in Chicago.

"Let's get going on the Chicago fight, commissioner," Jacobs said in a hurried conference with Triner at the Hippodrome, where Schmeling and Louis weighed in today.

Julian Black and John Roxborough, managers of the Brown Bomber, said they would be delighted to have Louis meet Braddock in Chicago.

Getz Believes Gould Sincere.

George Getz, also a member of the Illinois commission, was positive Joe Gould, Braddock's manager, would agree to the Chicago site.

"Gould told me last winter in Miami," Getz said, "that he would rather have Braddock fight in Chicago than in New York. I believe he is sincere. I think Chicago will get this heavyweight match if Louis defeats Schmeling."

Chicago frequently has been used by New York promoters as a club to force concessions in New York. That Chicago should get a Braddock-Louis fight might seem far fetched under ordinary circumstances, but these are not ordinary circumstances.

In the first place, the Schmeling-Louis bout has proved a financial dud. Louis is tremendously popular but he didn't give the fans a long enough run for their money in his fights with Primo Carnera, Max Baer, and Paulino Uzcudun. It's a question if New York really would pay as well for a championship fight as Chicago, which would draw thousands from Detroit and other cities which saw Louis rise to fame.

Would Escape Garden's Cut.

More important, 30 per cent of the receipts would be deducted in New York. The milk fund always receives 10 per cent for bouts held by the Twentieth Century club. Madison Square Garden, having Braddock under contract to defend his title, will permit Jacobs to use the champion in a New York bout for 20 per cent, it is said, if the Garden also is named in the promotional billing.

Under the current stipulation of the New York commission, the championship bout will go to any promoter who appears with signed contracts of the most worthy contender and Braddock. Louis is the contender, of course, if he whips Schmeling. Moreover, the Garden's contract with Braddock is said to expire Aug. 1 unless the Garden signs an opponent who will receive his approbation.

Jacobs Has Agreement.

By moving to Chicago, Mike Jacobs believes he can obtain Braddock without difficulty. At least he can pay off the Garden for much less than if the fight is held here.

There is a definite agreement between Braddock's manager and Jacobs, for the champion has started training and Gould has received advances from Jacobs.

Louis' managers want more than the challenger's customary 12½ per cent and probably will get it. They are ready to sign now, if they haven't already. Announcement can be expected within a week.

"If Chicago gets the bout," Triner said, "you can tell the fans $25 will be the top price."

Talking It Over

BY ARCH WARD.

[Copyright: 1936: By The Chicago Tribune.]

CHICAGO today and tomorrow will be host to one of the greatest events in sport—the national collegiate track and field meet. . . . The games have been returned to Stagg field after a lapse of two years when they were held in Los Angeles and Berkeley, Cal. . . . The combined attendance at the 1934 and 1935 meets in California was greater than the total in Chicago from 1921 to 1933. . . . For some unaccountable reason Chicago has been apathetic. . . . Six weeks hence many of the athletes who will compete at Stagg field this week-end will be front page news throughout the world as a result of their achievements in the Olympic games. . . . Never have the colleges of America produced a stronger array of track and field talent. . . .

The photographic eye will be used for the first time in a Chicago track meet today and tomorrow. . . . It proved a valuable aid to the placing judges in last year's 100 yard dash at Berkeley. . . . In a preliminary to this event the seven runners hit the tape in almost a dead heat. . . . The seventh man was less than eight inches behind the winner. . . . Officials threw up their hands in despair, but the photographic eye easily separated the seven sprinters. . . . Southern California will have three entrants in the pole vault who have cleared 14 feet this year. . . . Sefton, Meadows, and Day may win the first three places. . . . The Trojans have another vaulter named Hooker, who has soared 13 feet 9 inches, but he rates only fourth best and is almost forgotten. . . . Fourteen high jumpers entered have bettered 6 feet 4 inches in competition, six have done 6 feet 7 inches, and one, Gilbert Cruter of Colorado, has leaped 6 feet 8¾ inches. . . . It wasn't many years ago that a fellow who could clear 6 feet 4 inches was a rarity. . . .

The national collegiate games have produced some of America's finest mile runs. . . . Bill Cunningham of Kansas nosed out Henry Brocksmith of Indiana by a foot in 1932 for a new outdoor record of 4 minutes 11 1-10 seconds. . . . A year later Cunningham lowered that mark to 4:09.8 and in 1934, trying for his third straight victory, Cunningham lost to Bill Bonthron of Princeton, who toured the route in 4:08.9 for another new American outdoor record. . . . The mile run last year, however, was the most thrilling of all. . . . Four finished less than four feet apart. . . . The world's record of 14.2 seconds for the high hurdles is likely to be excelled before the college stick steppers leave Stagg field. . . . Five entrants have equaled that mark in the last month. . . . They are Caldemeyer of Indiana, Osgood of Michigan, Cope and Staley of Southern California, and Towns of Georgia. . . . Towns has bettered it three times and Cope once, but their records have not been officially recognized. . . .

◆

Harvey Patton, Michigan's 440 yard Phi Beta Kappa runner, weighs only 126 pounds. . . . Milan Zori, North Carolina State's discus thrower, is 6 feet 7 inches tall, weighs 230 pounds and his coach says "he sorta drags himself around the campus." . . . Both Indiana and Ohio State won the national collegiate team championship before they ever won the Big Ten title. . . . It required only three men to win for the Buckeyes in 1929, George Simpson, who took both dashes; George Rockaway, who got a first and a second in the two hurdle races, and Pete Rasmus, who won the discus.

◆

Ten Years Ago Today—Walter Hagen defeated Abe Mitchell of England, 2 and 1, for the unofficial world golf championship. . . . Rocky Kansas, world lightweight title holder, and Sammy Mandell were matched to fight for the championship in the first legalized bout in Illinois. . . . The Yankees defeated the White Sox, 6 to 5. . . . Jess Petty and Brooklyn shoved the Cubs into fifth place by defeating them, 7 to 1.

SALES CHECKED AT HALF MILLION, FAR FROM GOAL

Fight Postponed by Rain.

BY WILFRID SMITH.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

New York, June 18.—Torrential morning rains, which eased off at noon to a steady, drizzling mist, today forced a 24 hour postponement of Joe Louis' 15 round bout at Yankee Stadium with Max Schmeling, heavyweight champion of the world, class of 1930-'32. Announcement of the delay was made by Gen. John J. Phelan, chairman of the New York Athletic commission, and Mike Jacobs, general manager of the Twentieth Century Sporting club, at 2 o'clock, just after the principals had completed physical examinations and been weighed.

If the bout is held tomorrow night, the heavyweights will not appear again before the commission physicians. No plans were announced in event of further postponement, but the match might be held Saturday night rather than wait until next week. The Saturday night date would be agreeable to Manhattan's fight visitors and, it is suspected, a distinct relief to Promoter Jacobs and his newspaper cohorts who have watched this financial venture fold up on their hands in the last week.

Scalpers Make Returns.

Excessive prices and public belief that Schmeling is no match for the Brown Bomber checked the sales near the half million mark. Sales now are offset by returns from scalpers and many ordinary citizens suddenly have discovered they are overstocked. Tickets soon may be as cheap as Chicago world series seats a half hour before Detroit started to lick the Cubs last fall.

Jacobs is guarding financial details, but it would be no surprise if gross receipts failed to reach $600,000. And if the rumor that Schmeling has been guaranteed $200,000 is true, the Twentieth Century club may barely escape red ink.

Louis and Schmeling faced three examining physicians, a battery of camera men and news reel photographers, and one hundred reporters shortly after noon today at the Hippodrome. There, on the revolving stage where until two months ago the extravaganza "Jumbo" was New York's best entertainment, Schmeling and Louis were subject to as much shoving and crowding as if the examinations had been held in the commission's stuffy quarters downtown.

Forty Police Not Enough.

Gen. Phelan had the services of forty New York police, but they could not cope with reporters and camera men.

Louis and his party consisting of Managers Julian Black and John Roxborough and Trainer Jack Blackburn arrived at noon. Joe waited in his dressing room. Schmeling, accompanied by Manager Joe Jacobs, Trainer Max Machon, and Doc Casey of Detroit, one of his corner men, engaged because he knows Louis rather than Schmeling, arrived at 12:35. They motored from Napanoch and were delayed by a thunder storm in the foothills.

Max and Joe shook hands as they came into the arena from their dressing rooms. For the remainder of the half hour of examinations and picture taking, the two were together but each studiously avoided any action indicating knowledge of the other's presence. Louis was first to be examined. Schmeling sat at a table nearby. The examining physicians were Dr. William Walker, Dr. Vincent Nardiello, and Dr. George M. Edson.

Louis' blood pressure was 130 over 82, or 48. In comparison, Schmeling's blood pressure was 144 over 84, or 60, which indicated nothing of importance since Max is eight years older than Joe.

Louis Weighs 198 Pounds.

Pulse tests showed Louis' count per minute at 67 and then at 76 after exercise. His pulse returned to normal in 20 seconds after exercise. Schmeling's pulse beat was 66 at normal and 78 after exercise, returning to normal in 25 seconds. Reactions of both were marked as "active and acute."

Louis weighed 198 pounds. Schmeling weighed 192.

"Louis seemed much more interested in this examination than before his bout with Max Baer," Dr. Walker said afterward. "This accounts for his more positive reactions. Neither fighter gave any indication of nervousness or undue stress."

Louis was very much at ease, so it seemed, while he waited for Schmeling's examination to end. He inquired if Dr. Edson was a German physician [he knew the others], apparently associating the physician in some unexplained fashion with his German opponent; and he shook hands cordially with Doc Casey and greeted Joe Triner, chairman of the Illinois athletic commission. George Getz of Chicago also attended the examinations, but Packy McFarland, the third

ORDER OF START SET FOR TRIBUNE SAILING REGATTA

Expect More Than Fifty Boats to Enter Race.

The order in which boats competing in the Tribune sailing regatta for small boats a week from Sunday will start was announced yesterday by George R. Clark, chairman of the committee.

The program provides that the four classes of boats entered shall start separately, within five minutes of each other, beginning with the snipe class sloops at 1:10 p. m. and continuing with the sailing canoes, Chicago Corinthian Yacht club dinghies, and the Dyer dinghies.

Racing sail boats competing are expected to number upward of fifty, all of which will be out on the 1½ mile triangular course off Montrose harbor at once. Each boat will carry a number on its sail to make identification possible.

A short radio hookup between points on the lake shore stations and a Tribune public address car will be arranged, with Fred E. Garner, yachtsman and amateur radio operator, in charge. Garner's cruiser, Judy G., and a coast guard patrol boat will be the lake control points and will announce the position of each boat as it passes the outer buoys on the course. The announcement will be picked up by two shore stations and relayed to spectators through the public address car.

Three other prominent yachtsmen have been added to the group managing the regatta. Ray Roland, veteran small boat builder and member of the South Shore Power Boat club, will have charge of trophies and other awards, and will keep scores. Commodore Gerhard W. Kugle, head of the South Shore Canoe club, will serve on the acting regatta committee, and Commodore Clark Wright, former chief officer of the Chicago Yacht club, will serve as one of the committee of judges.

WOMAN DEFEATS BOBBY JONES IN HOLE-IN-ONE GOLF

Atlanta, Ga., June 18.—(AP)—Bobby Jones tried his far famed skill in an unusual hole-in-one golf tournament today and, in spite of unfavorable greens conditions, gave the leaders a scare.

The idea of the tournament is to make a hole in one in three tries. If nobody makes one, the entrant who comes nearest the cup will win.

Bobby dropped his first shot about a foot and a half from the cup, but the ball, bouncing on a billiard table hard green, stopped 6 feet 7 inches away. His second try wound up a little more than 11 feet from the cup, and his third 21 feet.

Mrs. Sam Ramsey, with a shot 2 feet 5 inches from the cup, and Tom Wilson, with a 2 foot 5½ inch try, are the present leaders.

Louis Tickets Counterfeited, Promoter Finds

New York, June 18.—[Special.]—Mike Jacobs, promoter of the Louis-Schmeling fight, declared today there was an unprecedented flood of counterfeit tickets in circulation. The counterfeits are printed on paper which is white all the way through. The genuine tickets have a red streak inside "like a sandwich." Jacobs had 60 of the bogus tickets in his office this morning.

In the WAKE of the NEWS

LAST ROUNDS.

NEW YORK, June 18.—[Special.]—With the Louis-Schmeling fight postponed until tomorrow night and with pelting rain outside suggesting indoor pursuits, The Wake turned to fistic records of John L. Sullivan, Corbett, Fitzsimmons, and Jeffries to pass the time.

We perused again the stories of their battles with particular interest in the final rounds. Some final rounds:

James J. Corbett vs. John L. Sullivan, Sept. 7, 1892, at New Orleans:

ROUND 21—Sullivan rushed, but Corbett stepped nimbly aside and smashed the big fellow's sore and bleeding nose with both fists, causing the blood to flow in a torrent. Sullivan was bewildered and began to show signs of early collapse. Young, lithe, confident Corbett, smiling, hooked a right to the head. Corbett then steadied himself, shooting a right to the ear and a left to the jaw. Sullivan sank unconscious to the floor. He was not knocked out, but was too exhausted to rise. The round lasted about 1:30.

Bob Fitzsimmons vs. James J. Corbett, March 17, 1897, at Carson City, Nev.:

ROUND 14—Corbett landed a left jab on Fitz's head. Fitz countered with left swing on Corbett's neck and Corbett retreated. Fitz landed a terrific hook to pit of Corbett's stomach, and Corbett went to his knees with a look of agony on face. The timekeeper tolled off the seconds, with Corbett apparently muscularly paralyzed and unable to move. At the count of ten Corbett struggled to his feet and rushed at Fitz, attempting to deliver a blow. Referee George Siler [of THE CHICAGO TRIBUNE] declared Fitz had won at the count of ten. Time, 1:40.

James J. Jeffries vs. Bob Fitzsimmons, June 9, 1899, at Coney Island, N. Y.:

ROUND 11—Fitz came up slowly, but assumed the aggressive. Jeff stood off, evidently waiting for a knockout. They clinched three times. At close quarters Jeff put two rights over Fitz's heart, sending him back. Fitz crowded in. He tried a right for the jaw. It was short, but he blocked Jeffries' counter. Jeff jabbed a left to head and sent a right flush to point of Fitz's jaw. Fitz went down for the count.

Jack Johnson vs. James J. Jeffries, July 4, 1910, at Reno, Nev.:

ROUND 15—They rushed into a clinch. Johnson wriggled out and hooked a left to the jaw of Jeffries, who had taken a terrific bombardment in the earlier rounds. Johnson whipped three lefts to the jaw and the Boilermaker reeled. Johnson, realizing the end was near, rushed Jeff to the ropes and with a right to the jaw, followed by a left uppercut, knocked Jeffries flat. Jeff took a count of nine. Johnson was on top of him, throwing in blow after blow, almost knocking Jeff out of the ring. Again the Californian regained his feet in a dazed, helpless condition. Johnson rushed and a left hook to the jaw finally toppled the "white hope" in a heap in the corner of the ring.

Big Fight Gates.

Six prize fights in American pugilism have grossed more than $1,000,000 each in gate receipts. Jack Dempsey, now conducting a popular food and thirst resort across the street from Madison Square Garden, figured in five of them. The other was the Joe Louis-Max Baer bout last September which entered the charmed circle only by including the broadcasting and moving picture rights. Dempsey's second fight with Gene Tunney at Soldiers' field, Chicago, tops the list. Here is the record:

Dempsey-Tunney, Chicago, Sept. 22, 1927	$2,658,668
Dempsey-Tunney, Philadelphia, Sept. 23, 1926	1,895,733
Dempsey-Carpentier, Jersey City, July 2, 1921	1,188,603
Dempsey-Firpo, New York, Sept. 14, 1923	1,143,000
Dempsey-Sharkey, nontitle, New York, July 21, 1927	1,083,530
Louis-Baer, nontitle, New York, Sept. 24, 1935	1,000,832

Age of Champions.

Rain Puts Off Louis Fight Until Tonight

member of the Illinois official group, skipped the ceremonies.

"What will you do if the fight is postponed?" Louis was asked. Official announcement of the postponement then had not been made.

"I guess I'll get me some sleep," Joe replied, and he chuckled in appreciation of his humor. For the remainder of the hour Louis was as stolid as Schmeling, who never smiled and seldom spoke.

Broadway's opinion of the outcome of the bout has not changed. Several newspapers, particularly interested in the fight because 10 per cent of the receipts will be donated to their charity fund, have placed the odds at 4 to 1 on Louis. This is as much an understatement of fact as the same papers' belief that the gross receipts will be $800,000.

New York's peak interest in the match passed a week ago. Louis is considered a certain winner by a knockout and only complete reversal of this result will create any excitement.

Charles Galbreath Joins Harrisburg Coaching Staf

Harrisburg, Ill., June 18.—[Special.]—Charles Galbreath, captain of the University of Illinois football team last season, has been added to the Harrisburg High school coaching staf, Principal Harry Taylor announced today. Galbreath will be head basketball coach, succeeding Charles Stunkel of Owensville, Ind., who resigned.

Kenneally and Bowman Fight Second Battle

Tom Kenneally, heavyweight champion of the Catholic Youth organization, and Bernie Bowman of Trafton's gymnasium meet for the second time in four days in the amateur headliner, on this occasion at Northwest stadium, 4848 Irving Park boulevard. Jim McMillen, the Antioch, Ill., heavyweight, clashes with Bobby Bruns in the windup bout of the mat card at Peg Benning's arena at Round Lake, Ill.

Kenneally won after three hard rounds in a previous scrap with Bowman at Western stadium. Gil Longton and George Dion, Kankakee, Ill., fighters, appear in two other matches, Longton against Jesse Robinson and Dion against Willie Lorenz.

The card at the Northwest arena includes:

Eddie Shapiro vs. Al Pomeraki [3], 112.
Willie Peterson vs. Clarence Brown [3], heavyweights.
Ralph Waharado vs. George White [3], 130.
Willie Lorenz vs. George Dion [5], 145.
Jesse Robinson vs. Gil Longton [5], 112.
Tom Kenneally vs. Bernie Bowman [3], heavyweights.

Al Nettlow has been signed to compete in the semi-final to the Johnny Erjavec-George Vallas eight round main event at Marigold Gardens Monday. Bruno Dooley, north side heavyweight, opposes Chuck McCarthy at four rounds. . . . Milt Aron, the Dubuque welterweight, yesterday was signed to encounter Ralph Leslie, Eau Claire, Wis., in an eight round match at Milwaukee Monday. Cowboy Frankie Edgren meets Bert Paxton in another at this distance. Frankie Battaglia and Bud Creed are windup principals at ten rounds.

A new generation is evidently leaning very strongly toward the drinking of Drewrys Ale. Probably because of its strong, heavy body but mellower taste.

Drewrys Ale as now made in the U. S. A. is the same fine, mellowed product with the same unhurried process as the Drewrys Ale that has been known in Canada since 1877.

BY IRVING VAUGHAN.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

New York, June 18.—This was the day which, according to the reckonings of the gay Cubs, would fetch them their fourteenth straight victory, but they didn't make it. Rain fell in Philadelphia this morning and the Philly bosses, always on the lookout for double headers, lost no time broadcasting an announcement that the last of the series wouldn't be held. Robert Round Lewis, the Chicago secretary, immediately herded his troupe of pennant seekers aboard a New York bound train.

Tomorrow, weather permitting, the Cubs will resume their fun with another of the National league's down at the heel outfits. This time it will be the Brooklyn Dodgers, who have spent years trying to figure out just how the game should be played. They haven't made much headway. The champions will have three days in which to feast off Casey Stengel's itinerants, so unless there is a terrible upset one place or another the winning streak has an excellent chance to extend to sixteen games. Bill Lee will try for No. 14 tomorrow. Bill usually handles the Dodgers to suit himself.

Davis Deal Is Real Tonic.

Less than a month ago, Charles Grimm, the manager, was bemoaning a scarcity of pitchers. It was a rare happening for a starter to go the full route. It was in the midst of this panic that Grimm pleaded for help and got the money needed to bring Curt Davis, along with outfielder Ethan Allen, from the Phillies. Now with everybody on the staf pitching unbeatable ball, it might look to some people as if Davis wasn't needed. But it happens that shortly after Davis and Allen arrived the entire team picked up and went into the pace it maintained last September. The deal proved a tonic. So, whatever the cost, it was a bargain.

Until Roy Henshaw fell by the wayside in yesterday's affair with the Phils the Cub staf had contributed twelve straight performances without a substitution. A showing of that kind is pretty hard to beat. Lon Warneke contributed three complete games and won a fourth yesterday on his relief effort. Lee, Carleton, Davis, and French have figured in two full games apiece during the 13 game winning streak. Henshaw was involved in one. With this many pitchers able to start Grimm is in the happy situation of not having to rely on any second string help to save a game. He can use a starter for relief as he did yesterday and not hurt himself.

Clark Is Dodgers' Choice.

It's probable that William Watson Clark will operate for the Dodgers tomorrow and as William is a southpaw, his appearance may be the means of bringing Gabby Hartnett out of retirement. However, Ken O'Dea still has first claim on the catching job and will continue to have until such time as a change is waranted. O'Dea has caught the last ten of the thirteen straight victories and his bat has been good for 17 hits in 36 trips to the plate. The pitchers haven't complained any about his presence. He doesn't throw as accurately as Gabby, but throwing doesn't mean much any more.

After finishing with the Dodgers the Cubs will move up to Boston for four games. The next call after that will be at the Polo grounds where the Giants are never easily subdued. Two of the four games scheduled with the latter will be in a doubleheader a week from Sunday. From New York the Cubs jump to Cincinnati and thence to Pittsburgh before returning to their own Chicago acreage.

Yankees Beat Indians, 6-5, in Slugging Bee

Cleveland, O., June 18.—(AP)—The New York Yankees, paced by Lou Gehrig's four hits, including his sixteenth homer of the season, stretched their American league lead to four and a half games today by outslugging the Indians, 6 to 5. The Yanks thus made it three out of four over the Indians. The battle was one of home runs that saw Hal Trosky of the Indians hit his fifteenth and sixteenth of the season, and Bill Dickey his twelfth.

Cramer led off the seventh with the second hit off Whitehead, a grounder past Dykes. Cooke bounced in front of the plate and was thrown out by Grube. Piet threw out Foxx, Cramer reaching third. Cronin flied to Haas. The White Sox again went out in order in their half of the seventh.

McNair opened the eighth with the third Boston hit, a single to center, and was forced by Werber, Piet to Appling. Appling threw out Ferrell, Werber becoming the second Boston runner to reach second. Marcum flied to Radcliff.

In the ninth Almada fouled to Dykes and Whitehead threw out Cramer. Cooke bunted and was thrown out by Grube.

Vernon Kennedy, possessor of six White Sox victories, this afternoon will seek his seventh at the expense of the Philadelphia Athletics in the opener of a three game series at Comiskey park. The Sox have no clew as to which one of his boys Connie Mack will start. It may be Herman Fink.

CARDINALS LOSE TO BEES, 4 TO 0; GET ONLY 2 HITS

Boston, Mass., June 18.—[Special.]—The Boston Bees beat the league leading St. Louis Cardinals again today, 4 to 0, behind the airtight pitching of Bob Smith, the reformed infielder. Smith allowed only two hits, both singles, of which one was a single by Mize, who came as a pinch batter in the ninth inning. Terry Moore, Cardinal center fielder, got the other hit.

In addition to his splendid pitching Smith drove in one of his mates' four runs with a clean single. The Bees collected seven hits off Pitcher Bill Walker. Boston's hitting was timely, although eight men were left on base as the result of four passes by Walker.

OMAHA FINISHES SECOND IN CLOSE ASCOT CUP RACE

150,000 See U. S. Horse Beaten by Inches.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

ASCOT, England, June 18.—In a thrilling stretch drive, Lord Stanley's filly, Quashed, today captured the 129th running of the Ascot Gold cup, defeating William Woodward's American champion, Omaha, by inches. A crowd of 150,000 watched the two horses battle stride for stride in the final furlong of the two and a half mile classic.

Omaha, 11 to 8 favorite, and winner of two English races, remained back of the early pacemakers until the last half mile. Then he began to move up. He was followed by Quashed, and the pair started their stirring drive for the finish line. Edouard DeRothschild's Bokbul finished third, five lengths behind Quashed and Omaha.

Only the fortunate thousands near the finish line could see which horse won. When the numbers were put up there were cheers for the English horse, which went to the post second choice at 3 to 1.

Hertz Horses Are Unloaded at Arlington

Eleven horses, the vanguard of the eastern division of Mrs. John D. Hertz's stable, arrived yesterday at Arlington Park. The horses were in charge of Trainer Lon Johnston and Stable Foreman Pat Dwyer. They came from Belmont Park.

Count Gallahad, strapping 2 year old son of the popular imported sire, Sir Gallahad III., and Anita Peabody, queen of the Chicago sportswoman's Leona stud, was the center of attention as he stepped briskly off the car onto the unloading platform. This highly regarded colt is entered in the Arlington futurity and the Hyde Park stakes, to be run during the thirty day meeting opening June 29.

The older division was led by the 4 year old Count Arthur, a candidate for the Stars and Stripes handicap and the Arlington handicap.

Other horses in the Hertz shipment were:

My Count, 3 year old; Our Reigh, 4 year old; Count Stone, 3 year old; Conte, 4 year old; Count Atlas, 2 year old; Count Edward, Duchess Reigh, Reigh Helen, and Her Reigh, all 2 year olds.

Three more horses of the Hertz stable will arrive from Belmont today. They are Reigh Cleo, Kitty Reigh, and Leona Reigh, all 2 year olds.

Referee Joe M'Namara Made Police Lieutenant

Joe McNamara, a Golden Gloves referee since the inception of the tournament, yesterday was promoted to the rank of lieutenant in the Chicago police force. He will be attached to the 19th district. Lieut. McNamara has officiated at many of the leading professional bouts in Chicago.

TURF FANS FIND RUSHAWAY AT TOP DERBY FORM

Colt Rates as Co-Favorite with Hollyrood Tomorrow.

BY FRENCH LANE.

A fleeting pre-view of Hawthorne's big show which comes tomorrow in the tenth running of the $15,000 added Chicago Derby was flashed upon the scene there yesterday when Rushaway was brought upon the track between races and asked to go through his final training drill.

After this glimpse of him in action, even though his work was not sensational by any manner of means—he went a mile in 1:40 2-5 and galloped out a mile and an eighth in 1:54 2-5—much support went out to him. It became evident that he is going to crowd Hal Price Headley's star Hollyrood for the post of honor as favorite by the time the race is run.

They Are Equal First Choices.

The best guess of those who have made a close study of the Derby field which probably will number eleven was that Rushaway and Hollyrood would parade to the post as equal first choices and that the odds against them will be around 2 to 1. Third choice in the wagering will be either Col. E. R. Bradley's Bow and Arrow or the Maryland filly, Carvola.

During his drill Rushaway showed no bad effects from the strenuous campaign he has made this year. The fact is that he looked to be in more perfect condition yesterday than he was a month ago when he startled the racing world by winning the Illinois Derby on one afternoon and the Latonia Derby the next.

Last Saturday when he sacrificed his chance of capturing the Detroit Derby by his bad post behavior, some were of the opinion that the long weeks of training and racing he has undergone had at last begun to show, but Rushaway showed no signs of being ugly yesterday.

Hollyrood Due This Morning.

Hollyrood, his most formidable rival for the Derby prize, remained in Detroit to engage in his final preparation for the race. Working with the handicap star Whopper over a muddy track there yesterday morning he went a handy mile in 1:43. His stable companion Sparta, the filly which finished second to him in the Detroit Derby last Saturday, went the same route a few minutes later in 1:44.

Hollyrood and Sparta were shipped from Detroit last night and are to be unloaded at Hawthorne at an early hour this morning. Owner Headley will accompany the horses here. He is confident Hollyrood at last has reached his stride. He believes the Chicago Derby will be just another stepping stone along the path which will lead the colt to the 3 year old championship before the fall season ends.

Classic Is Next Objective.

Hollyrood is to remain in Chicago and his next objective will be the $30,000 Arlington Classic to be run next month.

More Derby atmosphere was added to the scene last night when Col. Edward R. Bradley arrived from Idle Hour farm in Kentucky and established his headquarters at the Blackstone. The fact that Bradley journeyed here for the race was taken by many of his friends to mean that his trainer, William Hurley, is confident Bow and Arrow will race to a place among the top ranking 3 year olds in the Derby.

Three Derby candidates worked at Hawthorne yesterday morning and of the three, it was The Hare, listed as a doubtful starter, which impressed most. The little fellow owned by Tony Pelleteri breezed a mile and a furlong in 1:54, going the mile in 1:40 2-5. Tugboat Frank, which is attracting some support, went a mile in 1:43 1-5, and C. V. Whitney's Tatterdemalion galloped the full Derby distance in 2:17 4-5. All works were over a good track.

Weights Are Changed.

Changing the interpretation of the conditions for the Derby, several weights were revised by Racing Secretary Reeder yesterday. Hollyrood will carry 121 pounds, the same as Rushaway. Dnieper and Holl Image will have up 118, as will all the others except the two fillies, Carvola and Sparta, which will carry 113. Rushaway gave Hollyrood four pounds in their most recent meeting.

Understand Is Game Winner at Hawthorne

Seldom has a horse run a more courageous race than Understand, from Billy O'Toole's Blue Ridge Farm stable, did in the six and one-half furlong Union League purse at Hawthorne yesterday.

When the field of ten wheeled into the first turn after the long run down the back stretch Understand was running last. He appeared to be badly beaten by every horse in the race.

Suddenly he got into a running mood. He moved up on the extreme outside and when the finish line was reached his head was showing in front. Capt. Cal was second and Watercure was third.

Understand was a long shot and paid $41.40 for a two dollar ticket. Jocky R. R. Simpson drove him on to his breath taking victory.

Ex-Ald. O'Toole and all his friends still were celebrating long after the gates at Hawthorne were closed last night.

The fact that Jocky L. Balaski has been permitted to travel to Detroit on Saturday to ride one of Mrs. Ethel V. Mars Milky Way farm juveniles in a 2 year old stake was taken to mean that Valiant Fox, a 3 year old sensation in California last winter, will not start in the Chicago Derby. Balaski is under contract to Norman W. Church, owner of Valiant Fox.

The program at Hawthorne today is one of the most attractive offered during the season. The Atlantic purse attracted eight of the best 2 year olds on the grounds, and the Chicago Beach purse attracted eight older handicap performers including the Arlington Futurity winner, Toro Nancy.

PEGGYS PEGGY, never a great distance back, raced to the lead on inside after reaching the final quarter and drew out steadily in the last eighth but had little left. BLUE HOUR forced the early pace under mild restraint, lost much ground when entering stretch and, holding on well, outstayed CANTERON. Latter, well up from the start, also raced wide on stretch turn and weakened right at the end.

HONORARY saved ground where possible, improved her position gradually and, finishing well, wore down PARISIAN WITCH in closing strides. Latter showed the most speed from the start, readily submitting to the winner but held on gamely to the last sixteenth before tiring.

GUS MORELAND LEADS ADVANCE IN AMATEUR GOLF

Beats Welsh, Frisina to Enter Quarter-Finals.

Decatur, Ill., June 18.—[Special.]—Continuing his blast on par, Gus Moreland, Peoria, former western amateur, trans-Mississippi, and Texas champion, led the advance to the quarter-finals in the Illinois state amateur tournament at the country club of Decatur today with two comparatively easy victories.

Moreland has been outstanding since the qualifying round opened yesterday when he won the medal with a subpar 106 over 27 holes. He faces stiff competition, however, in the remaining field of eight amateurs.

Hobart Still in Field.

For company Gus will have Johnny Hobart of Rockford, the defending champion; Jack Cameron of Flossmoor, Chicago, who twice has reached the semi-finals and was once a finalist in the Canadian amateur tournament; Lyle Hoffman, Urbana, the No. 1 golfer on the University of Illinois team in 1933 and 1934; Ray Croslin, Oak Park Country club amateur; Wilbur Kokes, who has consistently defeated Hobart in matches for top position on the Illini team; Johnny Holmstrom, also of Rockford, and Steve Williams Jr., Evanston.

In winning medal honors yesterday, Moreland chopped two strokes off par, which was six strokes better than his nearest competitor. Today he cut two more strokes off regulation figures in defeating Alex Welsh of Rockford, 5 and 4, in a first round match and then swamped Jimmy Frisina, Taylorville, last year's medalist, 4 and 3, in the second round. For his quarter-final match tomorrow, at 108 holes, Moreland faces Hoffman.

Hobart Off His Game.

Hobart eliminated Leonard Rosenburg, Twin Orchards, Chicago, in his morning match by a 2 and 1 score and this afternoon beat Buddy Rust, a 17 year old Bloomington golfer, 2 up. Hobart has been off his game and will have to improve to retain his championship. This morning he putted for birdies and an eagle on 7 of the first nine holes and managed to get only two birdies.

Today's matches saw the elimination of two former champions—Warren Dawson, Glen Oak Country club, title holder in 1931 and 1932, and Larry Moller, who won the championship in 1934 at Springfield. Dawson was sent to the sidelines this morning by Hoffman, 5 and 4, while Moller, who got by the first round with a victory over Elsum Hedges, Decatur, 3 and 2, was eliminated this afternoon by Williams, 5 and 3. Cliff McKelvey, runnerup to Moller, defaulted his first round match to Bob Zitzke of Joliet.

Revolta Starts Western Title Defense Today

BY CHARLES BARTLETT.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Davenport, Ia., June 18.—John Frank Revolta, 25 year old Evanston professional, will start the defense of his Western Open championship over the hill ridden property of the Davenport Country club tomorrow. A second 18 hole round will be played on Saturday, with the final 36 holes on Sunday.

On the scene are more than 160 professionals and amateurs willing to outbid Revolta for the title, which ranks second only to the National Open in importance. Included among them is Ky Laffoon, raised in the same par scorching school as Revolta and a neighbor of Johnny's on Chicago's north side. Laffoon, who was 22 under par for the 108 holes of the 1934 Western Open and still lost by three shots to the 25 minus work of Harry Cooper, appears to be on another of his scoring benders.

Laffoon Shoots a 66.

Yesterday Laffoon came over from the Illinois state tourney, where he tied for second place, and promptly batted himself a 69, two under par. Today he scurried over the course in 66, just two over the course record of 64 with which Gene Sarazen amazed even himself last year. This left him just seven shots below par.

Of course, neither Revolta nor others of the trade present were unduly disturbed by Laffoon's performance, for 66's do not count until sundown tomorrow night.

Heading the bloc of the swingers who will wrangle with Revolta was Walter Hagen, with whose name the Western Open has become synonymous. Hagen has won the championship five times, but more important is the fact that he has established a tradition for late coming rivaled only by Jimmy Walker. There was a scurrilous rumor late today that Hagen had been seen upon the course, but this was soon put down. Nevertheless, the hosts of the party felt no worry about Hagen being on the starting tee tomorrow, with Lawson Little, the reformed amateur, as one of his partners.

Armour Wins Match.

Another guest was Tommy Armour, who is playing some of the best golf of his career. Tommy joined up this afternoon with one of his protégés, Charley Penna, in a match against still another Armour pupil, Tony Penna, and Harry Adams. The struggle ended with a 3 and 1 victory for Armour and Charley Penna, the duo coming home with a best ball of 65.

Another annoying factor for Revolta is young Zell Eaton, the 22 year old Oklahoman who shot 66 on Tuesday to win the Illinois state championship. Even more disturbing was the presence of such able parties as Harry Cooper, Ray Mangrum, Dick Metz, Frank Walsh, Byron Nelson, and old Mac Smith, who breezed through the 1933 tournament with such ease that he was never approached.

Laffoon's card:

Par—Out	454	434	435—36
Par—In	345	543	434—35—71
Laffoon—Out	444	434	434—34
Laffoon—In	334	443	434—32—66

Makes Five Birdies.

Laffoon did not go over par on any hole, and made five birdies, one of which just missed being a 15 foot eagle, on the 463 yard twelfth. In addition, the young Northmoor star missed five putts of from six to ten feet for other birdies.

The country club course here should prove to be difficult enough to keep Armour's all time record of 273, scored at Milwaukee in 1929, reasonably safe.

Jackie Reed Wins from Betts in Marigold Bout

Jackie Reed, Tinley Park middleweight champion, whipped Bill Betts in the five rounds main bout of the amateur show last night at Marigold Gardens. Eddie Helstrom defeated Matty Plovonich in the five round semi-final. Frankie Talaber threw Salvatore Trompatore in 7 minutes and 30 seconds in a wrestling bout. Other results:

Jack Frakovich beat John Mazur [3].

Verne Patterson beat Clifton Foy [3].

Don Richman beat Joe Martini [3].

Ralph Waharado beat Al Baker [3].

John Finn beat James Miller [3].

Drainage Plan of WPA Menaces Wild Life of U. S.

BY BOB BECKER.

After seeing 17,000,000 acres of water areas and marshes in the United States drained with devastating effects upon human and wild life, sportsmen of the country now face another wave of the drainage mania . . . this time disguised by the WPA as "malaria control" projects. These WPA projects, to cost $79,159,468 of the tax payers money, are scheduled for thirty-three states.

One of the surprising things about the allocation of this money to the states is that Maine is to receive $11,339,309 for "malaria control." The statistics on prevalence of malaria in Maine show how badly the state needs such control. Last year there was only a single fatal case of malaria recorded in the whole state of Maine.

More Game Birds foundation has issued a scathing indictment of the WPA's malaria control projects which means the draining of more marshy lowlands in some states that do not suffer from malaria. And while drainage, so-called malaria control, is going on sportsmen are hearing about the United States biological survey, another branch of the government, rapidly buying up drained areas that have proved to be worthless for farming and turning them into rest and feeding grounds for waterfowl.

"No conservationist will object to proper measures to protect public health in sections where malaria is a menace," says More Game Birds foundation in commenting on the way drainage is going ahead under a new guise. "But, an analysis of these WPA projects and disease coincidence reveals but $21,753,596 [out of $79,000,000] is to be spent in ten states where approximately 90 per cent of the annual deaths from malaria occur."

The way money has been allocated to states for drainage of mosquito marshes which are supposed to be a serious menace to health and life is well established by the allotment to Rhode Island. That state is down for $867,730. In 1934 not one case of malaria was recorded in Rhode Island. Utah is another state where the WPA boys are going to rescue the citizens from malaria. Statistics reveal the terrific total of one case of malaria out there in 1934. Crop failures on drained areas, arid lakes, parched wild fowl marshes and desert-like dust storms [some of the results of too much drainage] will be ignored in Idaho if the WPA allotment for malaria control is spent out there. Idaho is another state on the list that is going to have marshes drained—to the tune of $18,000—although there wasn't a case of malaria out there in 1934.

HARVARD, YALE BOAT CREWS IN OLD RACE TODAY

Seventy-fourth Renewal of College Rivalry.

New London, Conn., June 18.—[Special.]—For the seventy-fourth time since 1852 the eight oared crews of Yale and Harvard will face each other in intercollegiate combat here tomorrow.

Tonight the streets of this old whaling port began to take on the color and excitement which have come with this week-end every year since 1876, when the two colleges moved this oldest of American college sporting event over to the four mile course on the Thames.

The first race in the regatta tonight was won by Harvard when its combination crew gained its expected victory by a margin of six seconds. The race was all Harvard's after the first half mile, when the crews flashed through the markers almost even. The race was rowed in a driving rain.

For the first time since 1933 Harvard found itself the favorite tonight. Yale sends to the starting line a crew in which none of the men aboard have ever raced four miles and which was, a week ago, the junior varsity, for the most part. That evening, in a dramatic time trial, they outrowed the varsity and the following morning, with two changes, were named as the varsity.

There still is enough uncertainty to attract what tonight gave every indication of being one of the largest crowds of recent years. Yale supporters refuse to believe that this crew won't maintain the most recent string of victories here, which started in 1934.

Franklin D. Roosevelt Jr. rows at No. 6 in the Harvard junior varsity.

CONVENTION TOLD RADIO DISPLACES PRESS INFLUENCE

Caldwell Addresses 150 Manufacturers.

The next President of the United States will be elected by radio, Orestes H. Caldwell, former federal radio commissioner, now editor of Radio Today, told more than 150 members of the Radio Manufacturers' association at the opening session of the association's annual convention yesterday in the Stevens hotel.

"The press has lost its control of public opinion and radio has taken over largely the molding of national sentiment," Mr. Caldwell asserted. "Today the voter no longer makes up his mind second hand after reading about candidates. He takes a front view seat and gets his picture of the men through their voices, inflections, and microphone personalities."

Public Affairs Stir Interest.

Mr. Caldwell reported that the radio industry is noting a decided current increase in interest in public affairs. This is reflected in the buying of sets in considerable numbers for offices and extra sets for the home this summer.

RMA leaders, unveiling their 1937 models, are looking for their biggest year. They expect to get a good slice of the soldiers' bonus cash. Sales this year are expected to reach 7,000,000 sets, a couple of million more than the best previous year. The new models have eye, ear, and touch appeal, with many new gadgets, most of them facilitating tuning and others adding to the fidelity of tone.

Lights Indicate Tuning.

One receiver has borrowed an idea from trafic lighting. When a station is properly tuned in the dial is flooded with a green light. As the listener moves the dial it turns to red. Other sets feature a tuning control borrowed from the dial telephone.

An innovation this year is the portable receiver. Powered by batteries this miniature receiver can be lugged around easily and used in canoes, on camping trips, and at football games to tune in other contests if the one before the eyes is going badly.

Automobile radios are fast becoming standard equipment, it was reported. About one-third of all cars that come off the assembly lines this season are outfitted.

Approximately 350 persons attended the annual dinner of the association in the Stevens hotel last night. Today the convention will hear addresses by Andrew W. Cruse of the federal bureau of foreign and domestic commerce, who has just returned from a survey of the European radio situation, and John W. Van Allen of Buffalo, general counsel of the association.

The New Deal farmer plows crops under
While tuning in on blood and thunder!

A scout just returned from the farm belt reports that radio equipped tractors have made their appearance and that the farmer is going for them. And why shouldn't the farmer keep up with the business man? He has long suspected his city neighbor of hoisting his feet atop his desk for a couple of hours every afternoon while keeping up with the Cubs. Or for that matter, with his own wife, who tunes in those snappy morning serials that keep the housewife happy.

Picture then the up to the minute farmer cultivating his corn these June days whilst cupping his ears for the words of Senator Twirp from the convention floor. By threshing time he will be pitching bundles to swing music or sacking oats while crooning along with Rudy Vallee.

Dr. Roy Allan Dafoe, physician to the Dionne quintuplets, apparently has been prevailed upon to cash in on his experiences with the world's most famous sisters. Beginning Monday, June 29, he is to be heard regularly on the NBC Contented Program. Anecdotes concerning their training, diet, growth, and personal characteristics will be the subject of Dr. Dafoe's discussions. If you have listened to this program, you already know that the quints are said to owe much to the product of the sponsor.

J. L. Van Volkenburg chief of KMOX, St. Louis, has been named assistant to H. Leslie Atlass, Columbia's local vice president. Von Volkenburg succeeds D. W. Thornburgh who has been elected CBS vice president in charge of Pacific coast activities.

The address of John Hamilton, Republican national committee chairman, to be given at a G. O. P. rally dinner in New York Monday, is to be broadcast over NBC beginning at 8:30 o'clock. Mr. Hamilton's address is expected to be of especial significance since it is to be made on the eve of the Democratic convention in Philadelphia.

Isabelle Manning Hewson, known to her asociates at WQR as "The Petticoat," will join the W-G-N-Mutual lineup of reporters and commentators covering the Democratic convention next week which includes Quin Ryan, Gabriel Heatter, Arthur Sears Henning and Arthur Evans. A preview is scheduled over W-G-N at 8:15 Sunday.

History: Bernie Cummins provides the music these June nights at the beachwalk at the Edgewater Beach hotel. Not so many years ago in Akron Betty Winkler's mother engaged him for his first job. He played for a tea she gave for her club. Bernie found that daughter Betty could sing and so his first job was her first one too. Nowadays her radio reputation rests mainly on her competence as an actress. She's the headliner of NBC's "Girl Alone." Cummins played for 5,710 cstomers last Saturday night, a record for the beachwalk.

Fathers of several of America's notables will put on a special Father's day broadcast over WBBM-CBS at 7:30 Sunday. They are Louis Henry Gehrig, father of Lou Gehrig; Emil Kaspar, father of the Kaspar quadruplets; Michael Latorra of Franklin Park, Chicago suburb, father of twenty living children, and Bing Crosby's father.

RAILWAY ISSUES LEAD STOCKS TO HIGHER LEVELS

Oils Also Prominent on Profit Outlook.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

New York, June 18.—Led by the railroad shares the stock market moved ahead again today. Profit taking reduced early gains, but final prices were mostly fractions to a point higher.

The advance in railroad issues marked the third consecutive rise in the group. Atchison showed the way, finishing with a gain exceeding 2 points. Other favorites were Southern Pacific, Delaware and Hudson, and New York Central. New York, Chicago and St. Louis and various classes of Alleghany and Chesapeake and Ohio advanced fractions to more than a point.

Expect Better Earnings.

As in former sessions, the rise of the railroad stocks was attributed to bullish predictions on the group's earnings and the trafic outlook for the summer and autumn.

Oil shares were taken for a whirl in the afternoon. Standard of Jersey was up more than a point at one time and closed with a large fractional advance. Other Standard issues moved up fractions. Louisiana preferred tacked up a gain of 3 points and Amerada rose more than a point.

In the opinion of analysts, oil companies will show a good margin of profit for the June quarter, and sentiment fo: the petroleum shares is expected to improve. The steady absorption of large blocks of stock is also reported to have strengthened the technical position of the group.

Pivotal Shares Little Changed.

Pivotal shares like United States Steel, General Electric, Bethlehem, and General Motors finished the session only fractionally away from their previous closing levels. The steel shares recovered slightly from their fright over possible wage lifting, with executives of a number of companies declaring no pay increases were being contemplated.

Chrysler, after moving up a point, suddenly shifted into reverse and lost a point. General Railway Signal, Dome Mines, Weston Electrical, Goodyear preferred, and Case lost 1 to 3 points.

Utility shares reached their highest prices for the current movement in early dealings, but backed away in late trades in the face of light profit taking. The group finished fractionally lower.

Phillip Morris, American Can, Homestake, Johns-Manville, U. S. Alcohol, and Ingersoll Rand were in the class of stocks that advanced 1 to 3 points.

The principal sources of revenue were given as follows:

The report showed that in the eleven months the corporation tax amounted to $578,764,640, an increase of $141,160,106 over a year ago. This brought total income tax collections, exclusive of the excess profits taxes, to $1,109,851,324, as compared with $847,341,712 a year ago. Excess profits taxes amounted to $9,599,736, an increase of $4,391,074.

The alcoholic liquor taxes were slightly ahead of those levied on tobacco, $455,325,368 on liquor compared with $452,647,753 on tobacco.

BIG GAIN SHOWN IN ENGINEERING WORK FOR WEEK

New York, June 18.—[Special.]—The volume of engineering construction work rose 61.5 per cent during the last week to $57,621,000, the highest level since the first week of 1936, the Engineering News-Record reported today.

Of the week's total $11,618,000 comprised private awards, while $46,003,000 was for public work. Of the latter, $35,215,000 represented contracts for state and municipal work, and $10,788,000 was for federal projects.

The aggegate for the week compared with $35,626,000 in the preceding week and $32,379,000 in the like period of last year, when $6,186,000 was private work and $26,193,000 public construction awards. Both private and public work almost doubled the volume of the corresponding 1935 week.

Closed Banks Pay $534,743 to Depositors

More than half a million dollars will be paid today to 33,400 individual depositors in seven closed state banks in Cook county, State Auditor Edward J. Barrett announced last night. This distribution comes at a time when the veterans' bonus funds are just beginning to flow freely and is expected to provide additional stimulus to Chicago business. Barrett said checks for a total of $534,743 were placed in the mail last night.

The largest distribution goes to the 11,000 depositors of the Depositors State bank, 47th and Ashland, where a six per cent payment, amounting to $130,582, is being made. Preferred claims of $234,642 and bills payable of $649,203 have been paid. The payment is derived from funds received from the stockholders' liability suit.

Berwyn State Bank Payment.

The 3,900 depositors of the Berwyn State bank will get a 5 per cent dividend, amounting to $27,498, making a total of 15 per cent paid to them since the bank closed. Preferred claims of $12,789 and bills payable of $131,462 have been paid. The payment is from funds acquired in the ordinary course of liquidation.

At the First Italian State bank 7½ per cent, or $64,207, is being paid to 3,900 depositors. This will bring total payments to 32½ per cent. Preferred claims of $12,790 and bills payable of $131,462 have been paid. Funds for the repayment were acquired from liquidation of assets.

The Reliance Bank and Trust company is disbursing 5 per cent, amounting to $116,291, to 8,000 depositors, which will bring the total repaid to 15 per cent. Preferred claims of $278,435 and bills payable of $1,355,505 have been paid. The payment is being paid from funds derived from the stockholders' liability suit.

Bank of Harvey Makes Refund.

Approximately 2,400 depositors of the Bank of Harvey will receive $63,587, representing a refund of 10 per cent, and bringing the toal restitution to 70 per cent. Preferred claims of $45,032 and bills payable of $198,385 have been paid. Funds for the repayment were acquired in the ordinary course of liquidation.

The Morgan Park Trust and Savings bank is paying 20 per cent, amounting to $115,996, to 4,000 depositors, carrying the total restored to 52½ per cent. The funds were acquired through a loan from the Reconstruction Finance corporation. Preferred claims of $7,265 and bills payable of $99,275 have been paid.

A payment of 5 per cent will be disbursed by the Papanek-Kovac State bank. It will amount to $16,581, distributed among 1,000 depositors, and will bring the total restitution to 57 per cent. Funds were acquired in ordinary liquidation. Preferred claims of $3,568 and bills payable of $95,000 have been paid.

WORLD'S SPEEDIEST LONG DISTANCE TRAIN STARTS DENVER RUN

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Clinton, Ia., June 18.—[Aboard the City of Denver.]—Chicago's newest streamliner, the City of Denver, slipped out of the North Western station at Chicago at 7:20 o'clock tonight to inaugurate the North Western-Union Pacific's sixteen hour service to Denver. It is due in the western city, 1,048 miles from Chicago, at 9:20 a. m. mountain time tomorrow morning.

This new train is the fastest long distance passenger train in the world, averaging 65½ miles an hour on the run. Besides being the fastest of the new trains, it is probably the most luxurious train yet built. Already the streamliners of a few months ago seem slightly outdated by this new addition to Chicago's fleet of high speed trains built by the Pullman Standard Car and Manufacturing company.

On board the Denver train are 150 passengers of whom 82 are traveling in Pullmans. However, the coach passengers are riding in a luxury undreamed of for passengers just a year or two ago.

Among the well known persons aboard are Fred W. Sargent, president of the North Western; Charles P. Megan, trustee of the North Western; Thaddius R. Benson, president of the Chicago Stock exchange; Joseph A. Rushton, a partner in Babcock, Rushton & Co., and F. W. Robinson, vice president of the Union Pacific.

TAX PAYMENTS, BONUS BOOST BANK CLEARINGS

New York, June 18.—[Special.]—Bank clearings in twenty-two leading cities increased $788,429,000 in the week ended yesterday. The aggregate was $6,439,731,000, a rise of 9.2 per cent over the $5,899,502,000 reported for the corresponding week a year ago.

The Dun & Bradstreet report indicated that the gain of more than three-quarters of a billion over the preceding week had been due largely to the June 15 income tax payments and to the first turnover of bonus checks.

Clearings in New York City totaled $4,306,720,000, the highest in six weeks, and a gain of 7.3 per cent over clearings in the corresponding week a year ago.

Chicago clearings were $319,330,000, an increase of 21.2 per cent over a year ago.

'Rail Week' Celebration Plans Started

Plans for a big celebration of the second annual "Railroad week," which will be observed in 500 cities of the United States from July 13 to 18, inclusive, were started here yesterday with the appointment of a local committee headed by L. H. McCormick, assistant general passenger agent of the Chicago, Rock Island and Pacific railroad.

L. H. McCORMICK.

Chicago, as the railroad hub of the world, will be the center of a wide variety of activities designed to focus public attention on the achievements of western railroads.

Train Criers Practicing.

Train criers are already practicing for a contest which will be held during the week at State and Madison streets. Red Caps, carrying four grips each, will stage a race on a prominent downtown street.

Picked section crews will stage a hand car race, utilizing loop street car tracks. Booster clubs, composed of several thousand railroad employés, will participate in parades and hold dances throughout the city.

Inauguration of Railroad week will be signalized at 8 a. m. July 13 when a chorus of 18,000 locomotive whistles joins in one mighty serenade throughout the west. Following this, activities, which include participation of chambers of commerce, Rotary, Lions, and Kiwanis clubs, American Legion posts, and other business and social organizations, have been planned for the entire week.

Tells Importance of Roads.

"The importance of the railroads to Chicago is unlimited," McCormick said. "More than 83,000 persons are employed by the carriers in Chicago alone. The annual pay roll exceeds 150 million dollars."

Others named to the Chicago committee were L. W. Wade of the Wabash; C. C. Elrick, Alton; W. E. Fuller, Burlington; J. V. Lanigan, Illinois Central; J. R. Moriarity, Santa Fe; H. R. Simpson, Chicago and Eastern Illinois; B. J. Schilling, Milwaukee; R. Thomson, North Western; F. W. Urbahns, Soo Line; J. K. Tully, Pullman company, and E. S. Buckmaster, Railway Express agency.

TRACTION PLAN FINAL HEARINGS TO START TODAY

Given Right of Way by Wilkerson.

Final hearings on the plan for reorganization and unification of the Chicago street car companies will start this morning before Federal Judge James H. Wilkerson. The hearings are expected to last ten days to two weeks.

Joseph O'Sullivan, clerk of Judge Wilkerson's court, yesterday notified attorneys there would be no further trials or trial calls in the court for the remainder of the month in order that the traction case might have precedence.

Pending before the court is the reorganization plan promulgated by the Abbott committee, which proposes the consolidation into one company of the separate concerns now operating as the Chicago Surface Lines.

Minority Holders Oppose Plan.

The plan is being opposed as inequitable by certain minority security holders, although it has been approved by more than 90 per cent of the holders of senior securities of the four existing street car companies.

Judge Wilkerson is expected to rule on a petition by the Chicago Title and Trust company to reorganize the company under the amended bankruptcy act. If the petition is allowed it would mean the junking of the Abbott plan.

The Chicago Title and Trust company is acting as trustee on behalf of the stockholders of the Chicago Railways company, owner of the north and west side lines. The stockholders are opposing the reorganization on the terms set up by the Abbott committee.

Recent Sale Before Court.

The recent sale of the surface lines properties for $33,100,000 to security holders' representatives, as a legal step in the Abbott program, also will come before the court for confirmation. The bid submitted by the security holders was accepted by the master in chancery and referred to the court for approval.

The first street car company went into equity receivership in 1926. The Abbott committee was appointed by the court in 1934 to draw up a plan of reorganization.

Consummation of the Abbott plan would involve no major change in the present system of operations. The companies are now operated as a single system with universal transfer privileges. The plan would, however, release about 20 million dollars now held by the constituent companies for purchase of new equipment.

BOOTH FISHERIES PROFIT IS $31,007; SALES INCREASE

Booth Fisheries corporation yesterday reported net profit of $31,007 in the year ended April 25, 1936, compared with $11,947 in the preceding year. Including $51,007 extraordinary income the net profit last year was $82,014.

Sales and revenues amounted to $8,690,864 when sales of 59,854,000 pound record in 1932. Robert P. Fletcher Jr., president, attributed gains of 35.5 per cent in poundage since the low point two years earlier to better refrigeration, more rapid transportation, and better packaging. He also called attention to a consistent reduction in operating expenses in these four years.

Working capital at the end of the last fiscal year was $876,194, current assets totaling $1,250,444 and current liabilities $374,250.

Expect Chicago Reserve Bank Directors to Be Named Soon

BY HOWARD WOOD.

Appointment of Owen D. Young, chairman of General Electric company, as a class C director of the Federal Reserve bank of New York, yesterday again focused attention on the Chicago reserve bank, which has been without class C directors for months.

JAMES SIMPSON.
[Blank & Stoller Photo.]

Inquiry in Washington disclosed that reserve officials expect the three Chicago class C directorships to be filled within a week or ten days, but no further information was forthcoming concerning possible candidates to succeed former Chairman Eugene M. Stevens and former Directors James Simpson and F. C. Ball.

Officials of the Chicago bank were still in the dark, although for months they have been assured repeatedly by the reserve board that the vacancies would be filled "shortly."

Board Reverses Policy.

Young's appointment in New York reverses the policy announced in December by the reserve board, which had announced that directors who had served more than six years years would not be eligible for reappointment. Young has served for a longer period. This change of front by the board revived rumors in La Salle street that James Simpson, chairman of Comonwealth Edison, would be named here. Friends of Mr. Simpson, however, expressed the belief that he would not accept reappointment. Still prominently mentioned for two of the three posts are Gen. Robert E. Wood, president of Sears Roebuck & Co., and F. J. Lewis, wealthy philanthropist.

Each federal reserve bank has three classes of directors. Class A and B directors are elected by the member banks. The three class C directors are chosen by the federal reserve board.

COMMODITY ACT PUZZLE

Much uncertainty prevails in commodity markets concerning the possible effects of the commodity exchange act, which was signed by President Roosevelt on Tuesday. Officers of the Chicago Board of Trade, the Chicago Mercantile exchange, and other exchanges have been chary in their comments for two reasons. First, they realize that so many important matters are left up to the discretion of administrators of the act that it is impossible to determine at present just what the consequences will be, and second, with the grip of burocracy thus tightened they are disinclined to express themselves freely for fear of possible reprisals.

Unlike dealers in stocks and bonds, railroad managements and bankers, the dealers in grain, cotton, rice, mill feeds, potatoes, butter, and eggs will not be under the supervision of a separate administrative agency appointed by the President.

Difference in Regulation.

The railroads are regulated by the interstate commerce commission, whose members are chosen from the ranks of the citizenry for stated periods. Banks are supervised by the governors of the federal reserve board, appointed for fourteen year terms and removable only for cause. Stock exchange firms and investment banking houses are governed by the securities and exchange commission, whose members are also named for specific terms. In each of these cases the administrators devote their full time to the boards on which they serve, and they are supposedly dissociated from politics.

To administer the commodity exchange act, on the other hand, congress has selected a three man board consisting of the secretaries of agriculture and commerce, and the attorney general. For that reason dealers in commodities and officials of the commodity exchanges are wondering to what extent politics will creep into the administration of the new regulations.

Until the new restrictions become effective on Sept. 16 the commodity men feel that they will be peering into the dark.

FDIC CHAIRMAN TO GIVE UP POST AFTER ELECTIONS

De Pere, Wis., June 18.—(AP)—Leo T. Crowley will resign his position as chairman of the Federal Deposit Insurance corporation after the November election, to return to private business in Madison, he said in an interview here.

Most of the emergency work of the FDIC is completed, he said, and if the FDIC were to be liquidated today, it could pay a 3 per cent dividend. He said the corporation is self-supporting and is earning from its investments and memberships.

RETURN ON FARM PRODUCTS FAR ABOVE YEAR AGO

Washington, D. C., June 18.—(AP)—An increase of more than $200,000,000 in receipts from the sale of principal farm products during the first four months of this year over the same period of 1935 was reported today by the bureau of agricultural economics.

Receipts for the period totaled $1,899,532,000, compared with $1,668,144,000 a year ago, $1,454,185,000 in 1934, and $1,085,931,000 in 1933.

These totals do not include AAA benefit payments, which totaled $53,751,000 in the first four months of this year, against $220,837,000 for the same period last year.

SEC SEEKS NEW LAW TO CONTROL TRUSTEES' ACTS

Holds Reorganizers Exploit Investors.

Washington, D. C., June 18.—[Special.]—Mapping out a broad new field for financial reform, the Securities and Exchange commission today recommended that congress enact legislation designed to raise standards for corporate trustees and to prevent exploitations of investors.

W. O. DOUGLAS.
[Assoc. Press Photo.]

In a report of 119 pages, the commission proposed that congress set up minimum standards for trust indentures and qualifications of trustees. The proposal prepared under the direction of Commissioner William O. Douglas, is regarded as another step in a series of SEC moves looking to regulation by law in the field of corporate and real estate reorganization.

Douglas Criticizes Bankers.

In a press conference, Douglas struck at "leading bankers of the country," whom he accused of "sitting idly by [as trustees] while investors have been exploited.

A bank acting as sole corporate trustee of bonds may also be extending a line of credit to the company for which it is acting as trustee, the report set forth, and asserted that the two interests should be divorced. The commission urged that corporate trustees should be "active trustees with the obligation to exercise that degree of care and diligence which the law attaches to such high fiduciary position."

Douglas asserted investors' interests have been left unguarded in some instances while the trustees directed all attention to protecting their own interests.

Charges Assets Are "Grabbed."

There have been cases where trustees who also were creditors "grabbed every asset they could get their hands on" after learning in advance of impending defaults, he charged.

After remarking that the trustees now have only mechanical duties and no real risk or responsibility, the report said:

"It is a misrepresentation to investors of the nature of the protection for which they are paying. Investors have been exposed to exploitation and deprivation of protection."

MOVE TO EFFECT FED. ELECTRIC SECURITY SALE

Ruling of Court Permits Transfer of Control.

Pursuant to a court decision in New York, preparations were under way yesterday to carry out the contract under which Commonwealth Subsidiary corporation proposes to sell its entire controling interest in Federal Electric company to Roscoe L. Parkinson, former director of Federal, and to Barney Johnson & Co., investment house.

The contract was entered into Aug. 23, but has been held up by one of a series of battles for control of Federal Electric management which extends back to 1930.

Under the agreement, Parkinson will acquire for $22,000 a Federal Electric 4 per cent note for $59,920, and 28 per cent of voting control in 3,560 shares of 6 per cent preferred, 4,721 shares of 7 per cent preferred, and 12,393 shares of common stock.

Will Acquire $856,000 Note.

The other Commonwealth subsidiary holding in Federal, a note for $856,000, bearing 4 per cent to Jan. 1, 1937, and 7 per cent thereafter to maturity Jan. 1, 1941, will be acquired by Barney Johnson & Co., for $428,000.

The contract immediately was attacked by Charles Borland, president of Federal, and by Claude Neon Lights, Inc., another electrical firm with which Borland had been negotiating to purchase the Commonwealth holdings.

Claude Neon brought suit in New York last December asserting the Parkinson-Johnson contract was in violation of the right of Claude Neon and Federal to buy the Commonwealth securities. Borland was said to have represented that Federal would acquire the securities and permit Claude Neon to purchase them. A cross-complaint was filed last March on behalf of Federal, joining Claude Neon in its attack on the contract.

Complaints Are Dismissed.

Action was sought to compel Commonwealth to sell its holdings to Federal for $450,000—the amount involved in the Parkinson-Johnson contract. The complaints were dismissed and the contract upheld in a memorandum decision of Referee James A. O'Gorman in New York Supreme court.

Final order will be entered next week and hope is held by Parkinson that the annual meeting, postponed from March 21, pending the decision, may be held a week from tomorrow. This is contingent on whether a stay is obtained by the Borland-Claude Neon groups.

The Parkinson forces plan to install William A. Keating, now vice president in charge of operations, as president and director of Federal to succeed Borland. It also proposed to split the $856,000 note into 856 notes of $1,000 each to facilitate their being marketed by the Johnson firm.

FIELD SEEDS

Field seeds prices were higher in the Chicago market yesterday. Timothy, country run, was quoted from $3.90 to $4.00 per 100 pounds; recleaned $4.35 to $4.50; red clover, fair to good quality, $12.00 to $16.00; choice to fancy $17.00 to $19.00; alsike clover, $13.00 to $19.50 according to quality; red top, $10.00 to $12.75; sweet clover, $4.00 to $4.25; alfalfa, Kansas, $14.50; Idaho, $14.75.

WHEAT WEAKER, BUT CORN RISES ON HEAT, DROUTH

Coarse Grain Given Most Speculative Attention.

Erratic price movements dominated activity in wheat futures on the Chicago Board of Trade yesterday. Fluctuations were confined to a 1 cent range and final quotations represented net losses of minor fractions. Volume of trading was moderate.

Corn encountered greater speculative favor than it has had recently and pushed forward ¼ to ¾ cent per bushel. The largest upturn was registered in the December delivery, which for the third successive day displayed independent strength. The future moved to new high ground for the season.

Continued hot, dry weather over the corn belt at a time when supplies are low and commercial demand is increasing provided the stimulus for speculative buying. Sales into consumptive channels yesterday amounted to 153,000 bushels.

Spring Wheat Reports Gloomy.

Reports for the spring wheat belt again were extremely pessimistic over the crop outlook but marketwise this bullish ammunition was tempered by an official weather forecast indicating unsettled and showery conditions over the growing area.

Another factor which has made for caution on the upside has been the proximity of American prices to an import level for Canadian wheat. Canada, with huge surplus supplies and prospects for a good crop this year, is anxious to see American prices reach a level where exports can be made to this country on a profitable basis. Consequently, an artificial ceiling close to current price levels hovers over the market.

Closing prices of principal September futures yesterday follow:

	Yesterday.	Wednesday.	Wk. ago.	Yr. ago.
Wheat	$ .88⅝	$ .89⅛	$ .84⅞	$ .80¾
Corn	.60⅝	.59⅞	.61⅛	.76½
Oats	.27⅜	.27	.25	.33⅛
Rye	.58¼	.58⅛	.55¼	.47⅞

Oats were strong in tone and while price advances were small the December delivery reached a new high for the season on speculative buying and purchases by processors. Rye also gained slightly.

EXPERTS REPORT ON WHEAT

Chicago crop experts, now touring the spring wheat belt, were extremely pessimistic in their reports on the crop yesterday.

R. O. Cromwell of Lamson Bros. & Co. wired that from Minot to Sidney, N. D., a distance of 180 miles, half of the wheat acreage was poorly prepared and probably not more than enough wheat for next year's seed will be harvested. On the balance of the acreage the probable return will be 3 to 4 bushels, he said.

From Sidney to Poplar, Mont., he estimates a yield of 6 to 7 bushels an acre. The crop is standing still in its growth, as recent rains were insufficient, and will not be able to stand any heat. He said the crop is worthless from Glendive to Billings, Mont.

Calls Spring Wheat Failure.

Mrs. E. H. Miller, the James & Bennett & Co. statistician, reported that spring wheat is a total failure from Bismarck to Minot, N. D. From Minot east some improvement is noticeable, but the condition of most acreage is poor to fair, weedy, and poorly rooted on into Devil's Lake, N. D. Less than half a crop will be harvested in this area even under favorable conditions from now on, she said.

H. C. Donovan, of Thomson & McKinnon, reported that wheat in northwestern North Dakota still holds its promise of a week ago and approximately 75 per cent of a normal crop can be realized if conditions are good from now on. This condition, he said, drops somewhat east from Fargo and Devil's Lake, then gains around Grand Forks and south to Hillsboro, from where it is spotted from drouth.

BANK RESERVES REDUCED BY VAST U. S. BOND ISSUES

Absorbs Nearly Billion of Reserve System Funds.

The federal government sponged up nearly a billion dollars of the banking system's reserve funds last week through its offerings of new bonds. The report of the federal reserve bank for the week ended Wednesday, issued last night, showed a drop in reserves of member banks of 939 million dollars. At the same time the volume of money in circulation rose 111 millions, reflecting in part the treasury cash disbursements on bonus funds to veterans.

Other factors in the money market served to reduce bank deposits and reserves, and to swell the volume of money in the hands of the public. The treasury disbursed 233 million dollars in interest payments on the public debt and several large corporations distributed dividend checks to their shareholders.

U. S. Borrowing Sets Record.

The treasury financing was the largest peace time operation of its kind in history. To build up its cash reserves to meet the drain of bonus payments $1,130,000,000 of new securities were sold. In addition the treasury issued another billion of refunding bonds and notes to take up maturing issues.

Absorption of bank funds by the treasury means only a temporary shrinkage in deposits and bank reserves. As rapidly as the money is expended by the treasury it will find its way back into the banks in the form of deposits.

The distribution of the bonus money will contribute to an expansion in both reserves and deposits. The bonds issued to veterans in payment of the bonus may be cashed at any time. Along with the bonds, issued in $50 denominations, the treasury sends checks for payment of odd amounts less than $50.

Gold Stock at New Peak.

The gigantic treasury operation dwarfed the 69 million dollars of gold imports received last week. Such imports expand bank reserves but the effect of last week's receipts was lost in the more important money market developments. The imports sent American gold stocks to another new all-time high figure of 10 billion 543 million dollars.

Member bank statements released yesterday covered only the Chicago and New York banks belonging to the reserve system. The New York banks showed an increase of 141 million in government bond holdings, a drop of 116 millions in demand deposits and a shrinkage of 544 millions in reserve balances.

Chicago banks held 25 millions more of government securities than a week earlier, had 55 millions less in reserve balances, and also 11 millions less in demand deposits.

ARGENTINE TRADE LEADER A GUEST OF HONOR HERE

Señor Alexander Shaw, head of large banking and live stock interests in Buenos Aires, was the guest of honor last night at a dinner given in the Blackstone hotel by Frederick H. Prince, chairman of the board of directors of Armour & Co. Señor Shaw is en route to his home from Europe where he served on a commission which is redrafting a trade treaty between Argentina and Great Britain.

Señor Shaw said yesterday that he did not regard the packing industry in this country as a competitor of Argentina in the London market. He also said that he did not expect an increase in United States meat exports in the near future.

Among the guests at the dinner last night were Walter J. Cummings, Philip D. Armour, A. Watson Armour, Lawrence Armour, Gen. Charles G. Dawes, Weymouth Kirkland, James R. Leavell, G. H. Swift, T. E. Wilson, and Howard F. Gillette.

SUGAR

NEW YORK, June 18.—(AP)—SUGAR—Raw was unchanged today, although late yesterday there was a sale of 10,000 bags of Porto Ricos for June shipment to an outport refiner at 3.78c, a decline of 2 points from the previous sale. More would probably have been obtained at this price but refiners showed no interest. Later positions were held at from 3.85c to 3.90c. After advancing 1 to 2 points early on scattered buying which appeared to be encouraged by reports that the house had passed on the O'Mahoney resolution continuing the sugar quotas until 1937, futures reacted under liquidation and hedge selling. Final prices were at the lowest and unchanged to 3 points net lower. Sales, 4,450 tons.

FRANC DECLINES; BANK DISCOUNTS SET NEW PEAK

French Gold Ratio Falls to Low Mark Since '31.

The French franc declined yesterday as the Bank of France weekly statement disclosed discounts at a new high mark, the reserve ratio at a low level since 1931, and gold reserves close to the fifty billion franc minimum set for the French war chest.

Francs were the only member of the European gold bloc to lose ground against dollars, guilders remaining unchanged and Swiss francs closing 1 point higher.

The franc lost ¼ point, to close at 6.58⅝ cents, the approximate point at which gold shipments to this country from France become profitable. New heavy gold engagements were expected in Wall street. The dollar rose to an equivalent of 100.75 cents against francs from 100.72 cents Wednesday.

Twelfth Week of Loss.

Gold withdrawals from the Bank of France in the week ended June 12, while less than in the preceding week, marked the twelfth consecutive week in which the flow has continued. Loss for the week amounted to 959,000,000 francs [about $63,614,306], compared with 1,500,000,000 francs in the preceding week. Total gold reserves were reduced to 54,562,000,000 francs [about $3,619,316,000].

The growing inclination of the French people to hoard currency, however, compelled the nation's banking institutions to discount commercial bills to the extent of 1,087,000,000 francs [$72,106,000], lifting aggregate discounts to 20,427,000,000 francs $1,355,005,000], a new record.

As a result of these developments the position of the Bank of France was weakest since 1931, the ratio of gold to notes in circulation falling to 64.10 per cent from 65.34 per cent a week earlier and 79.46 per cent on March 20.

More Gold Engaged.

Engagements of $2,660,000 gold in Paris yesterday were reported to the federal reserve bank, bringing to $315,900,000 the total engaged there since April 24. The importation of $1,535,900 gold from Mexico and the immediate earmarking of that amount was also reported by the bank.

The sustained improvement in the condition of the Bank of England was shown in the statement for the last week. Gold reserves increased £3,401,000, while circulation declined £984,000. These changes, together with a decrease of £1,356,000 in discounts and advances, and an increase of £1,761,000 in security holdings, brought about an expansion of the proportion of reserves to liabilities to 28.6 per cent from 26.5 per cent in the preceding week.

COOL WEATHER, LIGHT RECEIPTS LIFT HOG PRICES

Cooler weather, lighter receipts, and recent sharp advances in lard markets stimulated hog buying yesterday at the highest prices in six weeks.

Extremely heavy lard hogs that recently were under pressure were in demand at upturns of 15 to 20 cents, selling fully 25 cents above the low spot earlier in the week. Most other classes of stock advanced 10 cents for the day and 15 to 20 cents in two days. The top was $10.35, highest since May 7 and 10 cents above Wednesday's peak. The average at $9.85 also indicated a rise of 10 cents. Chicago.

A better outlet for beef at slightly stronger rates encouraged packers to pay 10 to 15 cents more for yesterday's meager cattle receipts. There has been a healthier undercurrent to the cattle trade since the severe downturn was halted two days ago, and some classes of stock have recovered as much as 25 to 40 cents of the decline. Good grades of weighty steers that shared in the full loss have shown the sharpest comeback.

Salesmen managed to check the slump in the lamb market yesterday. Most new crop natives sold fully steady, spots indicating strength. Most of the slaughter lambs sold at $11 to $11.50, although one lot sold at $11.75.

Gold Standard is Winning Money Fight, Says Dr. Palyi

DR. MELCHIOR PALYI.

The gold standard is emerging from the world depression as the accepted monetary system and the faith in managed money is going into the discard, Dr. Melchoir Palyi, guest professor at the University of Chicago, told three hundred Chicago bankers last night at the Union League club.

The controversy between gold standard supporters and managed money theorists has been decided in favor of the former, he declared. The United States and Great Britain are essentially gold standard countries and there is a growing disillusionment over the expected benefits from the quantitative management of money, said Palyi.

Real Issue Is Liquidity.

The real issue arising in the American banking field, he said, is that of liquidity; in effect, whether the investment policy of banks shall be dominated by the government or whether it shall remain in the hands of managements.

The trend toward government domination and regulation of banking through various steps taken in the last few years threatens the independence of the American system, he said.

"When banks become mere holding companies for government bonds they eventually lose their freedom of action, Palyi said. Under such conditions there is no longer any need for management as it has been understood. The investment policy of banks can be carried out as well by clerks who follow a set formula in investing the bank's assets. Such a policy requires no particular management ability."

Relation of Banks, Government.

When a large share of the banking system's resources are invested in government bonds, he said, the banks become a partner of the government and the government becomes the partner of the banks.

After three years of budgetary deficits, he said, the inflationary policy of the federal government has failed to achieve its ends. Instead of generating a business rise it has acted as an impediment to recovery by making new investments unattractive.

The inflation steps taken have not been enough, he said, to give capital a genuine scare up to the present. If the present situation continues, he said, it will tend to "stabilize" a condition of economic "disequilibrium." It may also lead eventually to some sort of runaway credit inflation, he said.

"When such a runaway inflation may come cannot be predicted," Palyi said. "It may develop in a moment, or it may be postponed for several years."

Would End Double Liability.

The meeting was attended by members of the Chicago district group of the Illinois Bankers' association.

Frank C. Rathje, president of the association, outlined plans for seeking an amendment to the state constitution eliminating the double liability of stockholders of state banks. Failure to do away with the double liability, the most severe in any state, threatens to destroy the state banking system in Illinois, he asserted.

BONDED LIQUOR STOCK 2 GALLONS FOR EACH PERSON

Nearly two gallons of liquor were held in bonded warehouses of the United States for each person in the country at the close of last year, statistics of the bureau of internal revenue disclosed yesterday. The supply amounted to 215,522,574 gallons, of which less than a million gallons was manufactured prior to the advent of national prohibition.

Stocks of whisky amounted to 207,113,534 gallons, rum 2,502,553, gin 355,674, brandy 5,391,015, and other spirits 159,798.

The records, which go back to 1911, showed only 146 gallons of whisky left which were manufactured in the spring of that year, although there were 2,393 gallons made in the fall of 1911.

The smallest supply for any season is that of 3 gallons of whisky for the spring of 1920. However, nothing is shown for the years dating from the fall of 1922 to the spring of 1929, inclusive.

Heaviest additions to bond were made last year. Supplies on hand Dec. 31 included 66,755,711 gallons of whisky made in the spring of 1935, and 90,042,366 gallons made in the fall.

Remaining were 14,824,280 gallons of 1934 spring whisky and 25,736,768 of fall manufacture and 1,553,864 spring and 4,039,278 fall whisky made in 1933.

FINAL QUOTATIONS OF LARD PRICES OFF 2 TO 5 POINTS

Strength in hogs and speculative buying imparted modest strength to the lard futures market on the Chicago Board of Trade yesterday. Selling by packers proved too heavy a weight later and prices reacted, with final quotations representing net loss of 2 to 5 points, with the exception of the January delivery, which was nominally unchanged. Clear bellies climbed 5 points to 13 cents a pound.

Cash lard was quoted at 10.42 cents a pound, loose at 9.85, leaf at 9.75, and clear bellies at 12.95. Range of futures prices follows:

U. S. BUYS BUTTER TO BOOST PRICE; SAYS AAA HEAD

Tolley Asserts Relief Only Secondary.

The federal government's purchases of butter and eggs, carried on in the Chicago market on an extensive scale over a period of several months, are intended to benefit the farm producers of dairy products by maintaining "parity" prices for these products, Howard R. Tolley, administrator of the Agricultural Adjustment administration, told a group of Chicago brokers yesterday. Tolley explained the government's policy at a luncheon given to him at the Bismarck hotel by the directors of the Chicago Mercantile exchange.

Tolley made clear, it was learned, that the accumulation of supplies of butter and eggs for relief distribution was secondary to the purpose of boosting prices. So far the government has not resold any of the produce accumulated but has disposed of them in relief channels through the Federal Surplus Commodity corporation.

Buying Disturbs Market.

The government operations in butter and eggs have been a disturbing factor in the Chicago market for some time. Brokers who attended the meeting yesterday quizzed Tolley as to the government's future plans for disposing of its holdings. Tolley is understood to have said that he could make no definite statement, but that brokers could judge for themselves on the basis of the government's previous method of disposing of supplies.

The butter market has advanced in recent weeks in part as a result of the government's buying support. Traders and speculators, however, have been apprehensive that the market support would be withdrawn and the supplies accumulated would be dumped on the market. Tolley made clear that such a step is unlikely.

"Parity" Prices Variable.

Tolley said that the parity prices which the government seeks to maintain for butter and eggs are based in part on the 1910-'14 price average and part on the existing level of industrial prices. The government, he said, is seeking to maintain farm purchasing power rather than aiming at an arbitrary price level.

Based on existing conditions, he said, a 30 cent level for butter is in keeping with the government purpose. He did not say what price level is sought for eggs.

TVA PREPARES TO START RIVER CONTROL PLAN

Knoxville, Tenn., June 18.—(AP)—The Tennessee Valley Authority prepared today to inaugurate its Tennessee river control program, coincident with a move to end litigation against its vast operations. Assistant Engineer Carl A. Bock said regulation of the river's flow, to provide a navigable channel, will start tomorrow with release of water stored behind Norris dam.

As the control program neared its start, the TVA filed a motion in federal court at Birmingham, Ala., asking dismissal of the suit of 19 operating utility companies, attacking constitutionality of the authority.

It charged the bill of the power companies "constitutes an endeavor to utilize the functions of the courts for the purpose of trying a broad political controversy, which the Supreme court already has held is not a matter for judicial determination."

The power companies sought an injunction against further operation of the TVA power program.

New York, June 18. — [Special.] — Bond prices worked toward moderately higher levels, with the spirited advance in Italian loans featuring the day's trading. The trading pace was slowed down somewhat, sales amounting to $11,217,000, compared with $12,061,000 on Wednesday.

The upswing in Italian dollar bonds was a direct result of the move by Great Britain to remove all sanctions against that country. Heaviest volume was in Milan 6½s, which rose 2⅞ points. Other gainers were Italian 7s, Rome 6½s, and Italian Public Utility 7s.

Other Foreign Bonds Rise.

A sympathetic movement was apparent in other sections of the foreign list, particularly in the market for French government loans. French 7s gained 2¾ following word the new French government was taking steps to bring about a repatriation of funds. Poland 8s yielded 1¼.

Cuban 5½s met heavy selling and declined 2⅝ and Cuba public works 5½s were down 1⅝ on advices that the Cuban senate had passed a bill which would, it was said, adversely affect service on the public works issue.

Secondary Rails Advance.

Speculative interest in the domestic corporate bonds was again centered on the secondary railroad liens, which gained fractions to 3 points. Gainers included Alleghany 5s of 1949, New York, Susquehanna and Western 5s, Norfolk and Southern first 5s, Lehigh Valley 4½s, Atlantic Coast Line 4½s, Great Northern "D" 4½s, and Southern railway general 4s.

Long term United States government obligations were under pressure. The list closed 6-32ds lower to 2-32ds higher. Losers were the 2¾s of 1945, 3s of 1951, and 2⅞s at 102.

WORK AND WAGES SHOW ABNORMAL RISE IN ILLINOIS

Chicago Firms Contribute Largely to Upturn.

Unusual increases took place in employment and total wage payments among 4,574 business concerns in Illinois during the month ended May 15, the Illinois department of labor announced yesterday. Chicago companies contributed substantially to the upturn, according to the report.

Employment rose 1.1 per cent, as compared with the preceding month and pay rolls gained 1.7 per cent. In the years from 1923 to 1935 the average April to May changes were a decline of 0.2 in employment and an increase of 0.3 per cent in pay rolls. Consequently, the gain in employment last month was against the usual seasonal trend, and the rise in wages was more than seasonal.

Earlier Gains Contra-Seasonal.

"It will be recalled that the March-April changes were contraseasonal," said Peter T. Swanish, chief of the division of statistics and research. "For the second consecutive month, therefore, the changes represent further incremental growth in both employment and total wage payments in Illinois industries."

As compared with a year ago, employment in the state rose 6.1 per cent and pay rolls gained 14.2 per cent.

In the Chicago metropolitan area, including 3,118 reporting enterprises employing 372,092 workers, there was an incrase of 1.2 per cent in employment during the month ended May 15, compared with the preceding month, and total wages were 1.9 per cent higher.

Suburban Firms Report Gains.

Chicago suburban cities, including 300 reporting enterprises, showed increases of 0.3 per cent and 0.2 per cent, respectively, in the number employed and pay rolls.

In 2,818 Chicago manufacturing and nonmanufacturing enterprises employment gained 1.3 per cent, while total wages increased 2.1 per cent.

Weekly earnings for all reporting industries in the state averaged $24.01, or $26.84 for men and $15.59 for women. In the manufacturing industries average weekly earnings were $23.88, or $26.45 for men and $14.91 for women. In the nonmanufacturing industries these earnings averaged $24.26, or $28.10 for male and $16.79 for female workers.

During the month ended May 15 there were 62 reports of wage increases, affecting 5,228 workers, or 1 per cent of all employés, and there were no reports of wage decreases.

HEDGING, PROFIT TAKING LOWER BUTTER AND EGGS

Butter and egg futures reacted yesterday on the Chicago Mercantile exchange from their seasonal highs established Wednesday under the weight of profit taking and hedging pressure. Reports of a heavier storage movement and a decline in demand at the higher quotations were responsible for the setback.

November butter lost ⅜ cent, June dipped ¼ cent and October eggs eased ⅜ cent. Cheese futures held nominally at the seasonal high of 16¾ cents.

Sales of futures amounted to 79 cars of eggs and 78 cars of butter. One car of butter was delivered. Range of prices follows:

SUPREME COURT JUSTICE ASSAILS HOLC PRACTICES

Owners Lose Homes, Then Pay Added Charges.

New York, June 18.—[Special.]—Charging that the Home Owners Loan corporation was nullifying the purpose for which it was created, Supreme Court Justice Charles C. Lockwood today severely criticized the agency's practice of bidding in a foreclosed home at a nominal sum and obtaining a deficiency judgment for the difference between this sum and the face value of the mortgage.

The justice made his criticism in ruling on a foreclosure petition filed by the HOLC in the case of Joseph Moskie, who in June, 1934, obtained an $8,849 mortgage loan on property in Brooklyn. He subsequently defaulted.

Lose Homes, Pay Extra.

"It is the practice of the HOLC," said the justice, "to bid in the property for $500 and enter judgment for the deficiency. In this action the owners will lose their homes and have a judgment against them of $9,912 in costs, disbursements, referee fees, and the additional allowance of $200 to the plaintif.

"This would exceed the original amount of the mortgage and may be collected from other property or by garnisheeing the salary of the home owner."

Vincent Dailey, HOLC state manager, explained the practice of bidding in homes for a nominal $500 had been abandoned ten days ago. In all new foreclosures the HOLC will bid in property at two-thirds its market value, he said.

Mr. Dailey said even in cases where the nominal sum was bid that the deficiency judgment was immediately corrected when the property was sold on the market, the selling price then being deducted from the amount owed by the former owner.

Justice Lockwood pointed out that the HOLC was created expressly to prevent home owners not only from losing their homes, but from facing judgments which it would take them years to pay.

Contrary to Aims of Act.

"It would seem, therefore," he said, "that these results obtained by the HOLC are decidedly contrary to the laudable purposes for which the HOLC act of 1933 was enacted.

The HOLC is recreating the conditions the legislature of this state sought to cure by the so-called deficiency judgment law. If this policy of the HOLC cannot be changed by those in charge, congress should be asked to take appropriate action."

The justice entered the deficiency judgment against Moskie, saying that under the law as it now stands there was nothing else he could do.

How You Can BORROW at HOUSEHOLD
Without Endorsers or a Salary Assignment.

1. Whether or not you have furniture or a car you can borrow here if you can make regular monthly payments.
2. Payments are small. For example the first payment on $100 is $8—the last payment is $5.15 on a twenty month schedule. Other amounts in proportion.
3. You do not need co-makers or endorsers.
4. You can secure the money quickly—the same day if you apply before 9 o'clock.
5. Rate on loans above $100 is less than the lawful maximum.
6. Repay at any time and reduce the cost.
7. Private offices. Your problem will have our sympathetic attention.

BORROW —on your Buick CASH —on your Chrysler DOLLARS —on your Dodge

Yes, you may borrow money at this bank on a recent model of any standard make of car: FORD, PLYMOUTH, CHEVROLET, TERRAPLANE, as well as BUICK, CHRYSLER, DODGE, and ALL OTHER STANDARD MAKES.

Yes, the same low rates and liberal terms apply whether the car is new or used. Fire and Theft is all the insurance we require, although we strongly urge that every car owner insure himself against collision hazards. In all cases we want the insurance placed with the borrower's own broker or agent. Premiums may be added to the loan account, the broker is paid in full, and the borrower settles up with us in monthly installments.
